

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

If you need furniture see the K. & V. B. Hdw. Co. Phone 41. 12*

Mrs. C. W. Wheeler of Seattle is here on a visit to her son, E. G. Wheeler.

Seed Potatoes. Look over our line before you buy. Motteler. 16†*

Prof. H. B. Ellison of the city schools transacted business in Wenatchee yesterday afternoon.

There is rejoicing at the home of Harry Warner over the arrival of a little girl last Monday morning.

Have you seen the new 1916 Eastman Kodaks at Wheeler's Photo & Art Shop? 16*

Mrs. Andy Asten and children, of Blewett, arrived here last week and were over Sunday visitors with relatives.

If you want to be sure it's right get it at Wheeler's drug store. 17*

Mr. and Mrs. Thornhill motored up from Wenatchee last Saturday and spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Adams.

We have a good line of Baby Buggies and Sulkies. K. & V. B. Hdw. Co. Phone 41. 12*

Miss Stoltze, daughter of Herman Stoltze, of Cascade Orchards, returned from Seattle Wednesday after an absence of ten days spent with relatives.

See the window at Wheeler's drug store. Baseball and tennis goods. 17*

Mrs. M. O. Logan returned last Sunday from a six weeks' visit to Mrs. F. W. McCann, at Coulee City, Wash. She also visited friends at Hartline, Ephrata and Soap Lake.

L. P. Durand is here this week visiting the family of his son, Lyman Durand, and incidentally renewing old acquaintances. He says he came over on the east side of the mountains to get warm.

UP TO DATE HATS

For your up to date hat go to the Style Shop, next to postoffice. 18*

Robt. B. Field and Mrs. Field and L. F. Bullis and his sister, Miss Clela made up an auto party that left here last Saturday morning for Spokane. They returned Wednesday and report a fine trip and a good time. The road was in fairly good condition and in places already showed a tendency to get dusty.

The regular meeting of Alimode Art Club was held at the home of Miss Hannah Tvedt. A pleasant afternoon was spent by all present. The members regretted the absence of Mrs. Frank Tombs who is visiting in the East. The club will be entertained next Wednesday by Mrs. Albert Hiedrick.

Mrs. L. R. Raffelson, from Anacortes, where Mr. Raffelson is interested in a shingle mill, was here this week. She came to superintend the shipment of her household goods to Anacortes, where the family will reside in the future. While here she visited with several friends. She says she likes her new home and Mr. R. is encouraged to believe the shingle business will have a prosperous year.

J. B. Schons spent a few days with his family on his Eagle creek ranch the first of this week. Mr. Schons has a big red apple orchard near Wenatchee to which he devotes most of his time, occasionally coming here to see his wife and children, who are taking care of the Eagle creek place. He says pruning, spraying and cultivation in the lower valley is away ahead of the upper valley.

Charles Dufoe, owner of a homestead on Deep creek, some twenty miles north of Leavenworth, near the junction of the Chewawa and Wenatchee rivers, was here for the first time since last fall. He spent the winter on the ranch and says it was a long, tedious one. He says there is still about three feet of snow in the timber up in his region but that the roads are generally free from snow.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Adams and Mr. and Mrs. Deed H. Mayar left here Thursday morning in Mr. Adams' Dodge car intending to make the trip, by way of Quincy and Vantage ferry, to Yakima, where Mr. Adams will attend the republican convention as one of the delegates from this county. Mr. Mayar will attend the meeting of republican editors at the same place on Friday, May 5.

One pound of onion sets free with each dollars worth of garden seeds purchased at Mottelers. 16†*

W. W. Burgess, the pioneer ranch and mill owner in the Beaver creek valley, was in Leavenworth last Tuesday.

Try an "Egg Malted Milk" at Wheeler's drug store—you can't beat it. 17*

An effort will be made, we are told, to open the Blewett pass road between the fifteenth and thirtieth of the present month. Last year the road was open by the first of April.

If you need a new range see our line of Monarchs. Phone 41. 12*

Assistant District Forester T. P. Mackenzie, in charge of the grazing department at the Portland office, was in this section the first of the week and stopped off between trains Tuesday to visit with Supervisor Sylvester.

AT THE STYLE SHOP

you will find the hat and price to suit you. 18*

Rev. W. S. Carne arrived here the first of this week from Spokane, where he is now located. We are told he will make an effort to revive the Congregational church organization which some two months ago resolved to disband. He will occupy the pulpit in the Congregational church next Sunday.

You can have any size picture framed at Wheeler's Photo & Art Shop. *16

J. A. Dorman arrived here Tuesday from Goldendale, Wash., where he has resided for the last few years and where he is developing a farm. He says raising hogs, alfalfa, wheat and stock is the chief industry in Klickitat county, and that the country appears to be enjoying a fair share of prosperity. He spent two years here up to the end of 1914 and became interested in land placed on the market by Messrs. Adams and H. E. Carr, when they platted the Adam Emig place northeast of town. Mr. Dorman still has some interests here.

Shelled Corn $1.75 per cwt. at Motteler's Feed Store. 16†*

F. A. Constable of Seattle, connected with the W. J. Hoy & Co. contracting firm, arrived in town Wednesday and assumed charge of the local office. Mr. Constable informs us that while some delay has been experienced in getting the snowshed work started, about one hundred and fifty men have been employed at the three camps between here and Drury, and the number is being increased daily. By the first of the week another camp will be established at Merritt, and actual construction immediately commence.

Bridge Luncheon

A most enjoyable card party was given Thursday at the home of Mrs. W. W. Wilder, when she and her daughter, Mrs. E. K. Barnum, delightfully entertained twenty-four of their friends. A beautifully appointed luncheon was served at one o'clock and bridge was the diversion of the afternoon.

Eagle Creek

Miss Mabel Reeves of Leavenworth visited Ruth Rees over Sunday.

Mrs. Martin Christenson visited her parents a few days this week.

What became of the little blue bug? Isn't it fierce when a man has to walk to town to meet a seven-o'clock engagement?

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Anderson visited at the Bjork home Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Myers of Wenatchee spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Sharpe.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Norman visited the Johnson family in Leavenworth Sunday afternoon.

Harry Berger and Ray Sharpe are at work on a tract of rented land, preparing it for a crop.

Martin Christenson butchered a beef for Mrs. Bjork one day this week.

Are the wedding bells going to ring in our vicinity?

Watch Child for Worms

Worms sap a child's strength, rob child of food and make child fretful, irritated, nervous. Watch stool and at first sign or suspicion of worms give one-half to one lozenge Kickapoo Worm Killer, a candy worm remover. Gives immediate results, is laxative. Paralyzes and removes the worms, improves digestion and general health of child. Continue giving the Kickapoo Worm Killer until all signs of worms are gone. 25c at your druggist. †

WASHINGTON LETTER

By Special Correspondent J. E. Jones

Handling Mexico

Francisco Villa has proven to be the real human competitor of the cat with nine lives, for his death was reported fully that many times in Washington. Of course, it was not many months ago that Villa was somewhat of a favorite with the administration, but the fates seemed to be against him. And Carranza, the troublesome, became the favorite and was recognized as the head of the Mexican government. The attempts at Washington to deal with the different phases of the Mexican matter during the past few years, have always resulted in the same disappointing conclusion that Mexicans as a rule do not tell the truth, and are therefore very unreliable. There seems to be no restriction in this class between peons, senators, generals or defacto presidents.

Safety at Sea

While there is abundant concern regarding the safety of travel on the railroads, it is significant that the accident insurance companies regard the dangers of travel in this way very lightly, and back up their judgment to promises to pay double indemnity in case of accident or death. Mr. Kinsey estimates that he has traveled 4,000,000 miles, and he claims that he has a world's record for distance over the ocean wave. He sums up the story of a life at sea, declaring that he has never been in serious danger in any of his voyages.

Sugar Refiners Lose Fight

With the adoption by the senate of the Kitchin bill, which provides for the unconditional repeal of the free sugar provision of the Underwood tariff law, the seaboard refiners have suffered a decisive defeat in their long drawn out battle to put sugar on the free list. Defeat came when victory was almost theirs, as on May 1, foreign-grown sugar would have automatically entered the United States duty free. The campaign for free sugar which has been carried on, in and out of congress, for the past six years, was financed thruout by the refiners. Before congress it was perhaps the most bitterly fought measure in the history of tariff legislation, as the domestic sugar producers facing the destruction of their business in the event of free sugar, aggressively opposed the attack being made upon this home industry, but the refiners won and free sugar was incorporated into the Underwood bill, becoming operative May 1 of this year. Free sugar meant two things to the refiners—the destruction of the domestic beet sugar industry, whose increasing competition each season was eating into their markets and profits, and the securing of their raw material at a lower cost from both domestic and foreign sources.

Sugar Revenue Needed

The plans of the refiners to make free sugar an asset to their business were cleverly laid and smoothly carried out, and probably but for one unforeseen and unexpected world event would have come to pass. The European war upset the frying pan in which their fish were frying. The $40,000,000 or more revenue that was coming into the treasury annually from sugar duties could not be spared under the changed conditions that had arisen since the war broke out. The repeal of the free sugar law was brought about as a result of a personal appeal to congress from the administration to retain this needed income. Both the house and senate have heeded the request and the refiners have lost their long-sought prize when it was almost within reach. Of great importance is the fact that in their defeat, a great American industry in which $400,000,000 of American money is invested—the production of sugar from American soil—has been saved.

Nervousness of the Riggs

The Riggs National Bank, of Washington, is seeking to force a settlement of its difficulties with the government thru the courts, and in the proceedings it frankly admits that it has a fear that the controller of the currency will refuse to renew the charter of the bank on July 1st. Some of the officials of the bank are under indictment, charged with perjury. The whole affair reminds one of the antics that frequently take place in small towns and counties wherein a change of officials brings along with it new favorites to whom is assigned the pleasant part of caring for the public funds.

The Riggs National Bank has been regarded as the "back door to Wall street" for a number of years, it had an open alliance with the National City Bank of New York, which in turn connects up with the Standard Oil Company, which in turn, turns, etc., et cetera. In the natural course of human events it necessarily follows that new and more progressive bankers have secured the inside track with Uncle Sam. One morning, about three years ago, the arrogant Riggs people awoke to the fact that they were no longer to be favored with millions of dollars of the government's money, and the realization was an awful shock. Undoubtedly the Riggs National Bank will be given a new charter, but its officers would be happy if there was mostly any kind of an old change in the treasury department.

Mrs. Mary Fels

Joseph Fels was known thruout the world because of his work in the single tax movement. Mr. Fels was a friend of Henry George, and when the latter died his son, Henry George, Jr., who is a member of congress, pledged his life to the responsibility of carrying on the great reform enunciated by his father. Joseph Fels had arranged a great work which he proposed to carry on, but man proposes and God disposes, and he was called to his higher reward, leaving his wife, Mary Fels, who had worked with him for years, to continue the task. Today she is looked upon as one of the most influential women of America. When she came to Washington recently the single tax advocates arranged a reception and banquet, which was a magnificent affair, attended by one hundred and fifty representative men and women, who sought to do honor to Mrs. Fels. The single tax gathering turned out to be a peace meeting, and among the speakers to pay tribute to the guest of honor was Col. William Jennings Bryan. Mrs. Fels went to Europe on the Oscar II and she proclaims the fact proudly. She was elected by the members of the Ford party as one of the delegates to the Neutral Conference for Continuous meditation, which is now in session in Stockholm, Sweden. She expects to return to the commission and to help the organization, which is composed of representatives of Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Holland, Switzerland and the United States, in the work they are doing for constructive peace and international disarmament.

The biography of Joseph Fels about to be published, will necessarily be in part the story of his wife. It will be a wonderful work, since it is to record the useful work done by a man and a woman, pledged in the sacred bonds of love, and inspired by a single purpose to sacrifice personal comforts and pleasures, and to use their great fortune in behalf of the causes of humanity. There are not many such people enlisted in so unselfish a labor, and the world will honor the memory of Joseph Fels while it continues to assist his widow in carrying on the duties and added responsibilities which came to her when her husband was called from life's labors to eternal rest.

Bellingham—The local car company has appealed to the superior court for relief against law breaking and unregulated jitneys. If relief can not be obtained the traction company may abandon operation.

Marblemount—Work is to begin on a graphite deposit near here.

When You Think of new shoes this is a good place to buy them.

Our fitting service and merchandise give satisfaction.

For comfort, style and service be fitted in a "Natural Shape" Florsheim—they're becoming more popular daily with our customers.

At $5 and $6 you'll get what you want at a price you should pay for a good pair of shoes.

We carry a full line of this famous and dependable footwear for men and we want to show it to you.

The Seneca New high arch—small heel.

Leavenworth Mercantile Co.

The Big Store that Always Saves You Money

Cleanliness

Is Next to Godliness

If you don't believe this market is conducted on the high plane indicated in the line come in and we will convince you.

You will find here anything you would expect to find in a first class market. Phone calls received the same careful attention that you would receive in person.

Our fresh and cured meats are all inspected and guaranteed.

Fine Dressed Poultry every Saturday.

SANITARY MARKET
M. O. Nelson, Manager

Capital $25,000

Surplus $5,000

If you have no regular and systematic plan for storing and protecting a part of your income would it not be well worth your while to investigate our Bank Account Plan?

Leavenworth State Bank

L. F. BULLIS, Vice Pres.

ROBT B. FIELD, Cashier

When You Go to Wenatchee take the Elman Hotel
Auto Bus

European plan. First Class Cafe. Recently remodeled. Under new management. Hotel bus meets every train.

W. E. TOMLINSON, Prop.

Baggage Transfer

All kinds hauling promptly and carefully done

CITY DRAY LINE

L. J. Howerton, Prop.
License No. 2