

THIS IS THE CANNING SEASON

Our government advises every housewife to put up canned goods. All the fruit and vegetables you expect to want the coming winter.

The government expects to take for army use the great bulk of the output of the canning factories, which will make all kinds of canned goods scarce and high.

Lay in your stock while the season is on.

Mrs. Esterbrooks tells us that one day recently some boys and a girl ten years old made a raid on her strawberry bed and gathered her berries while she was down town attending to her popcorn trade. Filching an old lady's berries was a Prussian trick. Those children must have been Prussians, and that's the meanest thing we can say of them. No good American boy or girl would be guilty of such a trick.
