INLAND EMPIRE NEWS ITEMS.

September payroll at the Great Northern Railway shop at Hillyard totaled $385,000, the biggest monthly disbursement ever made on this division. The large amount is principally due to advance in wages and not to the employment of more hands as it is impossible to secure more help. The shops give employment now to 1,246 persons, 40 of whom are women.

Another waste product is to be utilized at Yakima where pear butter manufactured by the Libby McNeil & Libby factory has been given an official O. K., at the general headquarters of the company. The pear butter is found most palatable. It is made from cores and parings of the fruit, a material which formerly was discarded.

Forty thousand cases of tomatoes have been processed by E. B. Gay of Oroville, Wash., this year. He has demonstrated that a small cannery is profitable to the owner of a small fruit tract. He intends to enlarge his concern next year.

The first marine turbine has been completed by the Hallidie Machinery company, of Spokane, on a contract for ten of the machines ordered by the emergency fleet corporation. The turbine represents about $80,000. The plant is running three shifts per day. Enlargement of the concern is contemplated.

Compressed fruit and vegetables put up in brick form, with all the food properties and flavor preserved will be marketed by the Shepard Fruit Product company, now building a factory at Wenatchee, Wash. The process was invented by Mrs. Hulda Shepard of Chelan. It has been thoroughly tested in laboratories and in storage to prove its feasibility. It is claimed the fruit bricks, which are wrapped in oiled paper, like butter, can be shipped to any part of the world and will keep for years. Seattle and Wenatchee men are interested in the new company.

Sixty thousand gallons of apple syrup is to be the season's output of the Hecox's Process company at Yakima this year. The company has formerly devoted its attention entirely to cider and vinegar.

The Western Iron Works of Spokane, manufacturers of gasoline mine locomotives, are also turning out a four-wheel-drive motor truck. It has a load capacity of two tons. An order for 60 of these trucks was booked as soon as their demonstration was seen.

An inter-locking cement silo is being manufactured by the Deer Park Artificial stone company at Deer Park in Washington.

A new building material which is expected to supersede calcimine is to be the product of the Asbestos Mine company, organized by Wenatchee and Seattle men, the plant to be built at Wenatchee. The concern will utilize raw asbestos found near Pateros and silica found near Quincy. The combination of these two products form the building material. The Wenatchee Commercial Club secured the industry for that city.

Six months ago the Edwards Manufacturing company, of Clinton, Iowa, moved its factory to Spokane and commenced the manufacture of women's house dresses. So rapid has been the expansion of trade that two additional floors have been taken under lease, a new cutting department is being installed and new employees engaged as fast as they can be secured. The company employs 65 women and ten men.

JOHN F. MAIN, CHIEF JUSTICE.

Chief Justice John F. Main, who is a candidate for reelection to a six-year term on the Supreme court, occupies the most responsible and exacting position on the Supreme bench. By virtue of his position, Chief Justice Main must not only pass upon every case which is decided by the Supreme court, but also act as the executive of the court and direct its work.

During his term on the Supreme bench Judge Main has had a part in the decisions which have declared constitutional the progressive laws enacted by the legislature and by direct vote of the people.

Judge Main was born on a farm in Illinois, fifty-four years ago. He graduated from Princeton university in 1891. He received his legal education at Ann Arbor, Michigan, and came to Washington in 1900, locating at Seattle. After four and one-half years practice of law in Seattle, he was made a member of the law faculty of the university of Washington, serving until 1909, when he was appointed judge of the Superior court of King county.

After three and one-half years service on the Superior bench Judge Main was appointed to the Supreme court by Governor Hay, to succeed the late Chief Justice Dunbar, and thereafter elected to the Supreme court for a full six-year term, which he is now concluding as chief justice.
