CAMPSITE IMPROVEMENT TUESDAY

Whole Town to Be Out with Picks and Shovels Next Tuesday Afternoon to Prepare Tourist Camp.

The Campsite Committee of the Commercial Club has taken up with the business men the matter of closing their stores next Tuesday at noon and the whole town getting out and preparing the Tourist Campsite for use, and everyone has readily consented.

The stores and other business places will endeavor to take care of the needs of their customers during the forenoon and then close at 12 and all will get on the job at 1 o'clock. Readers of the Echo are requested to kindly discuss this with their neighbors, so that everyone may know and not be inconvenienced by the arrangement.

The Campsite committee is laying plans for the improvements. The first requisite is to clear the grounds of rubbish and grub out such bushes and stumps found to hinder the use of the grounds as a campsite. Then toilets will be built and suitable concrete stoves constructed, water pipes placed, electric lights installed, etc.

It is probable that the grounds will be platted and stakes placed, allowing certain defined spaces for parking autos and erecting tents, so that the ground may be utilized to the best advantage in order to accommodate the greatest number.

The plot of ground is fortunately located on a main thoroughfare, and runs back to the river. It may be entered from the road at either front corner and will afford plenty of room for at least fifty autos, it is believed. Water from the city system is available merely by piping it to any part of the grounds desired. It will be supplied with electric lights from a line which passes at the front.

Everyone is asked to bring a lot of tools to the grounds for some may have none. Those who cannot work in the afternoon may come in the morning, for there will be someone there to work with them.

FORSYTH RESIGNS.

According to the World, there was much excitement on the streets of Wenatchee, occasioned by Sheriff Forsyth's accident the night before. The following two items are taken from Friday's World:

Sheriff Forsyth is resigning today. He says:

"I have been on the job now for fifteen months. I have tried to do my duty as a public officer. The accident which occurred last night is the cause of new stories all over the street. A bunch of people of this city are like a band of hungry wolves waiting for something to talk about, waiting to find some reason to find fault with the sheriff. I feel the annoyance is greater than I should be asked to stand and am ready to quit. My resignation will take effect the first of May. This will enable me to clear up the criminal cases now on hand for the coming term of court. I do this in fairness to the county as there is much unfinished business and it is my desire to leave the office in good shape."

Capt. Forsyth expects to leave shortly on a trip to Montana where he has interests that are becoming valuable and will go from there to Ottumwa, Iowa, to visit a brother who has been ill for six years, and suffering from a long siege of sugar diabetes.

Friday's sensation on the streets of Wenatchee was the accident which occurred shortly before midnight on the corner of Wenatchee Avenue and First Street, when Sheriff Forsyth's car lost a rear wheel by colliding with the curb.

"I was proceeding north on Wenatchee avenue," said Sheriff Forsyth Friday, "and started to turn west on First Street. In order to avoid colliding with a closed car that was coming south on Wenatchee Avenue, I speeded up and this caused the wheels to skid on the slippery pavement. The rear wheel crashed into the curb and I was thrown violently against the steering wheel breaking one of my ribs. I had Dr. Gerhardt fix me up so that I am able to be about."

Supt. A. T. Sutton of the Leavenworth schools left Tuesday night for Spokane to attend a three-days' session of the Inland Empire Teachers' Association—Wednesday to Friday.

LETTER FROM MR. BICKEL.

Mr. W. Foster Bickel, former instructor in the Leavenworth schools, writes as follows and the many friends here of Mr. and Mrs. Bickel will read the letter with much pleasure:

Washington, Iowa, Mar. 27, 1922. The Echo, Leavenworth, Wash.

Enclosed find check for $2.50 to cover year's subscription to the Echo.

I have enjoyed the Echo very much this past year and have noticed with pleasure the wonderful strides the people of Leavenworth are making as to the betterment and development of the city, and surroundings, and as I can not be there personally to say, "You're doing fine, keep the good work up," but those are my sentiments whenever I read the Echo on Tuesday noon when it comes.

We have been quite well all winter, outside of slight colds, and until recently, when Verna developed a case of whooping cough.

We are having very wet weather this spring which keeps the roads in very poor condition and does not permit the farmers to do any work on the land.

From all I can learn, we here in the central west were harder hit by the great business depression than you people in the apple district. Of course, many farmers brought on their own hard times by reckless speculation in Iowa farm land so that when the bottom fell out they did not have any produce to turn for a big return and consequently farmers went bankrupt, and many others are on the verge.

With best wishes to all, I am very truly yours,

W. FOSTER BICKEL.

EX-SERVICE PEOPLE.

ATTENTION!

A national census of ex-service men and women is being put on this week by the American Legion. The purpose of the census is to make it easier for the different ex-service organizations to aid those people who are entitled to aid, or in need of it, as a result of their services during the war. Blanks have been sent to a number of the people of this vicinity who are known to have been in the service during the war. If you have not received one, write or see Reynolds L. Rearick, and he will supply you.

SANITARIUM SUBSCRIPTION CAMPAIGN PROGRESSING

The stock subscription campaign of the Cascade Sanitarium was commenced last Tuesday morning by the organizers of the corporation, with Geo. Hauber, O. S. Sampson and Frank Hennessey in active charge of the campaign; and a determined effort will be made by the committee and by the different organizations in the Wenatchee Valley within the next few weeks to raise the full quota necessary to complete the building and equipment at Leavenworth of what is expected to be one of the finest institutions of its kind west of the Mississippi. Every business house, organization and individual will be interviewed and asked to contribute to this worthy cause.

Leavenworth is an ideal place for a sanitarium. Its clear air, pure water, refreshing climate and beautiful scenery have brought hundreds of people to this vicinity in spite of the almost complete lack of accommodations with which it has hitherto been handicapped; and the new institution will undoubtedly bring hundreds of new visitors and new residents, and mean thousands of dollars spent in Leavenworth and this vicinity every year, besides the many advantages to the citizens of the community in the way of hospital and medical services. It is proposed to build what will eventually be the most modern hospital and sanitarium in the west; and with an institution of this kind, situated at the entrance to the most beautiful natural park in the world, in a sportsman's paradise, at the gateway of the Cascade Mountains, it requires no great stretch of imagination to foresee a wonderful future for the sanitarium and for the city in which it is located.

The Cascade Sanitarium is to belong to the citizens of Leavenworth and this community, and its plan of organization has been very carefully worked out with this object in view. It has a capital stock of $100,000, of which $99,000 is preferred stock and $1,000 common stock. The common stock is the voting stock of the corporation, and is divided into 100 shares of the par value of $10.00 per share, and is to be so distributed that no person can own more than five shares of the common stock, the ownership to be limited to persons actually residing in the immediate community. The following is quoted from the by-laws of the corporation:

"Not more than five shares of the common stock of this corporation shall be held by any one person. All common stock shall be endorsed in blank by the owner thereof, and deposited in escrow in such bank as the Board of Trustees may designate; and in case any owner of common stock should die or remove from the County of Chelan or should become incapable of actively participating in the management of the corporation, the corporation shall have the right, through its board of trustees, to purchase said stock at its par value, and may sell the same to such other person as may be designated by the Board of Trustees."

Common stock is not entitled to any interest, dividends or profits.

The preferred stock is entitled to many benefits not given to the holders of the common stock. Holders of the preferred stock are entitled to turn in to the corporation twenty-five per cent of their stock in payment for any hospital services rendered them, and the stock will be accepted at its par value; but the corporation reserves the right to limit the amount of stock to be turned in to the corporation in payment for hospital services during any one year to $2,000.00; this being for the purpose of protecting the corporation. In addition to this, the Board of Trustees has the right to pay interest at a rate not to exceed six per cent on the preferred stock as one of the expenses of operation of the institution, and also has the right to pay off, from the earnings of the institution, the principal of the preferred stock as fast as the corporation is able to do so.

The active management of the corporation is vested in a board of six trustees elected by the holders of the common stock. The organizers of the corporation are the present trustees, but new trustees will be elected on the first day of June this year.

The Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, and the Mayor of the City of Leavenworth are ex-officio trustees of the corporation. The corporation is organized as a charitable institution, and as such is exempt from the payment of taxes and other expenses which would be charged to ordinary corporations; but in order to secure these benefits it was necessary to make those officials members of the board of trustees with the same powers as the other members.

Whenever the corporation wishes to purchase or sell real estate it is necessary to get the consent of a two-thirds vote of all the stock of the corporation represented at a special meeting called for that purpose, including the preferred stock; and the two-thirds vote must comprise at least a majority of all the stock of the corporation.

The Cascade Sanitarium was organized under the auspices of the Commercial Club of the City of Leavenworth, and it has the loyal support of every organization in the community. It will fill a long felt need in Leavenworth; but in order to accomplish its object it must have the financial and moral support of every citizen. Each person should subscribe for as much stock as he can afford to buy, and induce his friends and neighbors to do likewise; investigate, boost and advertise, and if this is done the success of the enterprise is assured. Remember that Leavenworth has yet to fail in anything it has ever undertaken.

It is not necessary that each subscription be paid in cash, and arrangements have been made for deferred payments in case the subscriber desires an arrangement of this kind. As it is intended to build and complete the institution this summer, however, it is necessary that a substantial portion of each subscription be paid when it is made.

Are you doing your bit to make the city beautiful? This is clean-up time.

Paul Hood, Jr., left Sunday morning for Anacortes, accompanied by his uncle, Smith McLain.

FRIDAY'S LUNCHEON.

About forty were present at the luncheon Friday and the interest in matters did not lag. Mesdames Archie Hetherington, C. S. Taylor, R. W. Dolsen, R. J. Smith, F. A. Constable and W. M. Brender served and Mrs. Frank Hennessey collected the cash. The luncheon was splendid and the vote of thanks hearty.

A surprise was sprung by Secretary Constable, who, in reading the financial statement, announced that some sixty odd dollars had been turned into the club treasury from the former Service Club and other sources.

A letter was read from Congressman Webster in which he gave it as his conclusion that the work being done to secure the opening of the Stevens Pass would bear fruit and that the pass would be opened. Other opinions bore out this conclusion.

Mr. McIntosh spoke on the matter of securing the gravel on the road from Peshastin, south of the river, and thought that we should use such influence as we may have to get the work completed early, while the ground is mellow so that it would become smooth and serviceable for this season's use.

The matter of supporting Mrs. Bryan in her work to put on a concert April 19 was broached and a motion passed encouraging the undertaking.

Mr. Little of Wenatchee, former president of the Wenatchee Commercial Club, was present and when called upon spoke on civic matters, encouraging Leavenworth people to work unitedly and great results would be realized.

SPRING.

By Charley L. Gant

The gay and festive bullfrog, he Begins to croak his song.

He doesn't make much harmony, But warbles good and strong;

His voice sounds like a candidate, Not yet a nominee,

Of what he is he does not prate, But what he wants to be.

The meek and lowly candidate For big, fat, office yearns.

He loves his county and his state, His flivver oil he burns.

He thinks it proper now to don His very finest coat.

He is the biggest whistle on The very smallest boat.

The Flapper Girl is coming out, In that sweet rig she loves,

She has no Furbelows to flout, But lots of Furaboves.

The lady politician, she Has joined the big machine,

And so the wily grafter, he Is grazing pastures green.

From all the indications, I Can very plainly see,

The naked spring is coming nigh, The summer soon will be,

And from the candidates and frogs, And flappers on the wing,

We read in Nature's catalogs, About the coming spring.

Can very plainly see,

The naked spring is coming nigh,

SUGGESTS PUBLICITY PROGRAM

Distribute Scenic Photographs Through Railroad Publicity Department and Boost Summer Patronage.

A letter was received last week by the Echo from F. A. Losekamp, too late for publishing, making suggestions which may be of value in drawing attention and summer travel to this section. Mr. Losekamp says:

Get photos of the beautiful scenery and send to railway officials. These will be sent to all stations and large hotels. Also get photos of your best buildings—Masonic hall, Firemen's hall, school buildings, etc., and have people write editorials or articles on different subjects, concerning Leavenworth.

Mr. Losekamp generously offers to give $5.00 every month and suggests that $20.00 per month be raised and kept posted for monthly prizes, and continues:

And you will be surprised what knowledge and what splendid views the public will give you. It will be interesting and at the same time boost the city.

Take for instance, the subject: "Why Leavenworth will develop into a large summer resort."

An article on "Scenic Beauties of Leavenworth" might be written.

Mr. Losekamp also writes at some length of his interest in the Commercial club and never forgets to express his appreciation of this little city which was his home for so many years.
