BASEBALL LEAGUE IS FORMED

Leavenworth, Malaga, Dryden and Peshastin Teams to Play a Series of Twelve Games Each.

Wm. Walton, O. A. Lee and Al Hoffman were down to Malaga last Sunday evening, together with representatives from Dryden, and a baseball league was formed to include four places, Mr. Hoffman representing Peshastin. He was also made president of the league.

Mr. Walton is manager of the Leavenworth team and in forming the league, he tells us, it was stipulated that none but local boys shall be employed on either team, the idea being to form teams to be representative of the communities and furnish the best games possible without going in to great expense.

Each team will play three games with each of the other teams, thus making twelve games in each place. Next Sunday Leavenworth will play at Malaga and Peshastin at Dryden. Admission to the games will be 25¢ throughout the season, it is expected unless on some special occasions a higher admission should be found necessary.

At this writing the names of the different players were not available, the managers having until May 20 to file lists of players with Mr. Hoffman, president.

The schedule will be arranged last week by the secretary at Malaga and will be published in the Echo when received and the standing of the clubs will be published weekly, together with such other information as can be secured as to games, players, attendance, etc.

Leavenworth has considerable material and it is expected that a very good team will be developed. The other towns are said to have equally good material and some interesting games may be looked for.

COSTS LESS THIS YEAR TO RAISE APPLES

Labor, Spray Material, Paper, Nails and Fertilizer are Cheaper—Boxes May be Lower.

The cost of growing a box of apples in the Wenatchee-Okanogan district this season will be less than last season, according to the present outlook. Some of the principal items that go to make up the cost of producing fruit are labor, spray material, paper, boxes, nails and fertilizer. All these items except boxes show a considerable decrease. What the cost of boxes will be is indeterminate, though it looks as if boxes would be the same price or a little cheaper than last season.

Labor Cheaper. Labor this year is and will be 50 cents to $1 a day less than last, according to Roy Dougherty, employment manager of the American Fruit Growers' Inc., of Wenatchee. Last year the going wage was 40 to 50 cents an hour, while this year it will stay close to 35 and 40 cents, he says. Packers will get one cent a box less than last season. The 1921 wage was six to seven cents and this season will be five to six cents. Pickers received five to six cents a box last year and will receive four to five cents a box this year. Truck drivers, Mr. Dougherty thinks, will get about the same wages as last year, that is, 50 cents an hour.

Spray Material. Spray material is 25 per cent cheaper than last year. Arsenate of lead is now 14 to 17 cents a pound as compared with the 1921 price of 19 to 22 cents. Lime-sulphur is the same price, that is, $8.00 a barrel.

Paper One Cent Less. According to W. H. Cassell of Wenatchee, paper salesman, apple wrappers will be one cent a pound less this year than last.

Apple Boxes Same. Spruce boxes are 14 cents apiece, the same as last year. Pine boxes are 15 to 16 cents apiece, the 15 cent boxes having thin ends. Last year pine boxes were 18 cents apiece early in the season and became cheaper later. The price may go up, but there is no certain indication at present that it will.

Nails are Cheaper. Cement coated 5 1/2 apple box nails are 75 cents a keg cheaper. Last year's price was $6 a keg and this year's is $5.25 a keg.

Fertilizer. According to Claude E. Stewart of Wells & Wade Hardware company, fertilizer reached a new low mark last August and is 10 per cent higher now than it was then. However, the fertilizer applied in the fall goes on this year's crop cost.
