

Local Happenings

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Newell were Wenatchee visitors last week.

Mrs. Maze now has her loom in operation for the season.—414 Birch 1st.

Mrs. R. W. Van Tassel went to her home near Wenatchee for the weekend.

Carleton Field, Al Pesch and Clyde Boyce were up from the terminal Tuesday to vote.

Due to frosty rails or faulty breaks or something—the "Dinky" slipped in here on time last Friday.

Inspector Darlington of Peshastin says that Leavenworth will ship over one hundred cars of apples this season.

Dick Simons says that he is looking for a week or more yet of good weather before Blewett Pass is closed.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society will meet Wednesday, Nov. 15, at 2:30 p. m., at the home of J. F. Stafford.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Heldrich moved to town from the ranch last Friday and are occupying the Tom Logan residence for the winter.

Dr. C. A. Laws received a wire Wednesday calling him to Seattle to the bedside of Mrs. Laws, whose condition had evidently turned worse.

The Milwaukee railroad is preparing to provide a great quantity of new equipment—another reason why the Wenatchee-Southern should be built.

Richard Mus says that if the ranchers in this vicinity want to purchase dairy cows he can put them in touch with those who have them for sale. Terms can be arranged.

A boy, passionately languorous in a world of rose-scented love, fired to immortality in the poppy fields of France—"Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" at Gymnasium Nov. 21.

Two men reported to the police in Wenatchee that they had been held up Sunday night, both on 5th Street, but at different times. Watches and small amounts of money were taken.

Mrs. C. S. Taylor returned home last Friday from Seattle, where she had been called to the bedside of her sister, Mrs. Lindsey, who is suffering from a fatal malady. She may pass at any time.

Mrs. W. S. Wheeler writes from Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, renewing her subscription. They like their new home very well but are always glad to hear from Leavenworth. Their address is now 810 6th St.

Jay Lonergan, Frank Swenson and Quartermaster Finegan came down from the mines of the Royal Development Co. last Thursday to see a bit of the outside before winter closes down on them. Mr. Lonergan will stay in at the mines several weeks and the other two all winter.

Corra Levinia Whaley, aged only a few months, died last Thursday at the home of her grandparents, the Carnells, at Peshastin. The funeral was held on Friday from the family home and burial made in the Peshastin cemetery. The little one's mother died shortly after her birth.

The dinner to be given Armistice Day at the K. P. hall is not under the management of the Civic club, but is in the hands of a number of ladies who are working to supply the new hospital with linen and other furnishings. The statement to the contrary in the bills and also in the program published last week, was erroneous.

Dick Mus, who thought he was the "big cheese" around the Purity Creamery, came home from the buttermakers' convention to find that he had been supplanted. While he was away Mrs. Mus, assisted by Mrs. Heatherington, did a charming of 200 pounds, which they put up in the usual first-class condition of this creamery.

As Mrs. Chas. Wallace and son Paul were leaving last Thursday evening to drive to Peshastin and just at the east end of the bridge over the Wenatchee river their car turned over against the bank in making the curve to go up the hill. Both Mrs. Wallace and Paul were considerable hurt. They were attended by Dr. Lessing and we understand are recovering nicely.

Three deputy sheriffs from Wenatchee and Deputy Dude Brown were out last Friday scouting about for the autos stolen from Wenatchee last week and they found the Chevrolet car, stolen from Mr. Moore. It had been run into the brush on the flat this side of Ingalls Creek, near the old ranch buildings, and stripped of everything which could handily be taken off—top, windshield, tires, etc.

A railroad man who owns an orchard just coming into bearing, says that the strike of the shop crafts has cost him $500 in loss on his crop and he says that the road must make a settlement with the men before it can expect to again get back to normal conditions. If the strike has cost him $500 it has undoubtedly cost other orchardists enormous sums. Then, too, it has cost the strikers millions and likewise the roads. Strikes seem to be a losing game all around. Some method other than strikes must be evolved to enforce living wages for the men.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Dalton arrived here last Friday afternoon, returning from a trip to Bellingham, Vancouver, B. C., and Seattle. Mr. Dalton, who for fifteen years has been an engineer running between here and Spokane, is transferring to a branch run from Gueshon, B. C., to Sumas, Wash. They went on to their home at Hillyard Saturday and Mr. Dalton expected to return to Gueshon this week to begin work. They expect to sell their home at Hillyard and reside at Gueshon, but Mrs. Dalton and the children will remain at Hillyard until a suitable residence can be secured at Gueshon. While here they visited their relatives, Dr. and Mrs. G. W. Hoxsey.

Attorneys Lindley and Howe were at Wenatchee Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Maston were on a weekend visit to Bremerton.

The Kumtux club will meet with Mrs. Roy Holmes, Friday, Nov. 17.

Bert Rutherford and "Pick" Taylor went down on a bird hunt Wednesday.

Miss Merle Green was in Wenatchee last Friday to take the teachers' examination.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Davis went to Wenatchee last Friday. Jim is now working in the yards there.

Mrs. George Zachow, while cranking their Ford Tuesday, had her wrist broken by the kick of the engine.

Mrs. B. K. Brouwer writes the Echo requesting a change of their address from Muskegon Heights to 924 Leeland Ave., Chicago.

Art O'Larey was up from Wenatchee Tuesday to exercise his right to vote, not feeling inclined to leave the matter wholly to the women.

Romance that inspires, beauty that enthalls, spectacle that astounds in its magnificence—"Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" at Gymnasium Nov. 21.

Twin babies were born to Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Blankenship on Monday forenoon, but they both died that evening and were buried the following day.

Tom Cannon came home from his run on the W. O. Tuesday to cast his vote for his choice for office holders, and get acquainted with his family again.

The fulfillment of St. John's prophecy; the greed for world dominion calling forth Conquest, War, Famine and Pestilence from the lair of the Beast—"The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" at Gymnasium Nov. 21.

Jake Beattiger is back on his run after being laid up for a long time by an injury when on looking out from the cab window on his engine his head struck a box car. He had a very narrow escape. He is now one one of the helper engines.

Mrs. Mary Posey says that she recently lost a little sack containing every cent she had, that she really needs the money and will be thankful if the person who found it will return it to her. She thinks she lost it between Yama's restaurant and the city hall.

Alvin Miller, who with his mother and brother are employed by Geo. Severly at his ranch above Lake Wenatchee left Tuesday afternoon on No. 1 to go to Yakima where he will be employed until Christmas. He will then return here and go to Pullman to attend the state college.

The shortage of cars and general demoralization of the movement of the fruit crop is responsible for considerable growth in sentiment favorable to the Wenatchee-Southern and it seems probable that when the hearing comes off on the application for a certificate of necessity the Interstate Commerce Commission will find that there is indeed a great demand for the road.

Chas. T. White of Wenatchee visited the Peshastin Fruit Growers warehouse recently and has written a very clear article on its operation and then suggests that a still larger one be built at Wenatchee. He says that all cull apples of those belonging to the Peshastin district are taken to the warehouse and disposed of, that the Peshastin district is the most free from worms of any, and points out that the car shortage does not necessarily worry the Peshastin growers who belong to the association, for they have storage room for 400 cars and can keep their apples until there are cars without depreciation of the fruit.

Saturday evening at seven o'clock, the home of Mrs. Burgess was opened to the "Sunshine Class" of the M. E. Sunday school. Merry laughter was heard all over the house as the girls indulged in games. Several girls were lucky enough to win prizes. A dainty lunch was served and at ten o'clock the girls departed unanimously, declaring their president, Miss Waunita Burgess, an excellent hostess. Those present were Gertrude Geerds, Evelyn Carlquist, Dorothy Inglis, Elta Haskins, Myrtle Burns, Myrtle Williams, Geraldine Faulkner, Frances Hertzog, Anna Hardman, Mesdames Burgess and Drake and the hostess, Waunita Burgess.

Mr. M. A. Bryant, father of Mrs. J. E. Tracy of this city, was taken to Spokane Monday afternoon to the Sacred Heart hospital. He is suffering from general debility, being now 70 years of age, and his recovery is doubtful. He had been operator for the Great Northern Railway Co. for the past twelve years and was stationed at Cascade Tunnel. He was recently taken sick and a week ago Saturday was brought to the Community hospital. His son, W. P. Bryant, of Spokane, and another daughter, Mrs. W. H. Trumbell, of Lothaire, were here and decided that they would move him to Spokane.

Tom Pipkin of the Toggery went out to Lake Wenatchee last Wednesday on a hunting expedition with Geo. Severly and Friday night he returned home with the largest deer killed here so far this season—270 pounds dressed. Tom characterizes himself a "tenderfoot" in the deer hunting game and says that he thinks it's all luck. But he should remember that he had an old hunter with him. On the other hand Tom was mighty fortunate to be able to hit a deer when he found it, for most inexperienced hunters get the "ague" when they sight big game and can not hit one on a bet. The writer knows from experience.

R. B. Field went to Omak Sunday to be gone a few days.

T. E. Paine went over to Seattle last week and drove a new Ford home.

Best play since Shakespeare, "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" at Gymnasium Nov. 21.

Mrs. W. O. Dolsen, of Snohomish, arrived Monday to visit her son, R. W. Dolsen, and family.

The lilt of the Argentine tango drowned in the shrieking music of shell-fire—"Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" at Gymnasium Nov. 21.

Lawrence Young, candy-maker at the Palmetto, Wenatchee, was here to spend Sunday with his family at the Minor McLane home.

Buy hand-made Christmas presents at the Pythian Sisters' bazaar to be held Saturday, Dec. 9. Hundreds of useful and pretty articles will be offered.

"It's too expensive to change from the box hive" said the father. "All right" said the bee club boy. "I'll change mine and we will see." He did and at the end of the season the father changed his.

Frank Piperno and little son went to Spokane Monday to consult an eye specialist. The little boy had been suffering from eye trouble for a long time but is now getting much better and the trip was merely for an examination.

H. McElroy, residing in Pitcher Canyon, was arrested last Saturday and two stills seized at his home. One was in the kitchen in operation and the other was outside in a dismantled condition. The still in operation was said to be an up-to-date affair and liquor was made under very good conditions, the premises being neat and clean. McElroy is married and has two children.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. DeBlois were at Wenatchee Sunday and were very much surprised upon meeting Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Biles, who had been here and were at Wenatchee on their way home, and being informed that Mrs. J. D. Ely, who lives with the DeBlois, was leaving that afternoon for California. After their departure for Wenatchee Mrs. Ely had decided to go on the vacation.

A Mississippi farm woman told at a recent short course at the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Mississippi how she had made $150 this year from a single Easter lily given to her nine years ago. With the help and advice of the county extension agent that lily was planted and grown out of doors until, according to reports received by the United States Department of Agriculture, a regular business has been built up, with a steady demand for the lilies.

Jack Cooke said when in town Tuesday that when he left the camp of the Royal Development Co. that morning there were about six inches of snow and that there was snow on the ground down to Verne Shore's place. Geo. Shugart was in from Plain the same day and said that there was a little snow that morning at his ranch. The fall has been an excellent one to date, but we may expect the "beautiful" at any time now. The high hills west of town are covered with their winter mantle.

F. J. Webb, who is at the head of the fish hatchery here, is over at Tacoma helping out in the big hatchery.

S. P. Beecher says that he has a lot of cull apples anyone calling for them with boxes or sacks may have without charge.

Carl Norine came down from the Royal Development Company's mines last Saturday and went to his home at Wenatchee for a few days, expecting to return to the mines and work during the winter on the buildings. Mr. Norine is a thorough Royalist.

Gene Haskins and John Brender were down at the Thomas place near the Wenatchee river bridge, just east of town, and burned all the cobble-bur they could find with a view to keeping this pest down. Others discovering the weed should do likewise.

Mrs. J. D. Ely, who had been sick for several days, left last Sunday for Los Angeles, Calif., to visit her parents and rest for a few weeks. Mrs. Ely, who was employed at the Leavenworth State Bank, was unable to keep from work if she stayed here, therefore it was thought best for her to go to her home.

In which the youthful libertine, useless as a drone and as dangerous, finds that he owes God a death—"Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" at Gymnasium Nov. 21.

SPOKANE BOXERS HERE FOR ARMISTICE DAY BOUTS

Leo Stokes Earl Miller and Jimmy Cole arrived here yesterday with their manager, Johnnie Gannon. All look ready for the gong that will start them in their bouts at the scenic theatre tomorrow night. Cole, Stokes and Miller will give a public exhibition this afternoon at 3 o'clock at Tholin's hall, which will be the last of their training schedule, having done most of their work before leaving Spokane.

Harry Krollpfeiffer and his old friend, Frank Buckingham, returned Wednesday evening from a few days' hunt out at Lake Wenatchee. They had hard luck. They hunted hard all the time without success, but each evening when they reached camp they found that the deer had been around to investigate them.

Everyday Uses of the "Wear-Ever" Aluminum Roaster

How the "Wear-Ever" ALUMINUM ROASTER helps you save money. Every day in the year you can use the "Wear-Ever" roaster—on top of stove over one burner, or in oven. The "Wear-Ever" Roaster serves many purposes that it saves the cost of other utensils—and it will outlast several ordinary roasters. It saves fuel because it absorbs heat readily and retains it so long. "Wear-Ever" utensils give enormous satisfaction. Cannot chip, warp or rust—are made in one piece, are thick, hard sheet aluminum. Buy these utensils that wear out with utensils that "Wear-Ever"!

1. Steaming fruit in jars.
2. Baking on top of stove.
3. Baking bread, biscuits, apples.
4. Baking or steaming fish.
5. Steaming asparagus or corn.
6. Baking bacon.
7. Frying food.
8. A food warmer.
9. A drip pan.
10. A bread box—or cake box.

These everyday uses of the "WEAR-EVER" Roaster are many, whereas most roasters are used only once or twice a year.
