Ducks and turkeys for sale; phone 505.

Make up that quilt now. We have wool bats in 3 and 5 sizes, at LaPointe's.

Art Brown was out the first of the week trying for a coyote, but they saw him first.

Rev. A. E. Derby is erecting an aerial for a wireless which he will soon have installed.

Mrs. Donald Smythe was at Wenatchee last week visiting Mr. Smythe, returning home Friday.

The first snow of the season fell here last Friday evening, thawing about as fast as it fell.

Conductor J. M. Swain was up from the terminal the first of the week to visit Mrs. Swain and their little son.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hylton have moved to Wenatchee, Mr. Hylton being employed in the boiler shop of the G. N. at the terminal.

Mr. and Mrs. Basil Lang and son returned to Tye Monday. Mrs. Lang and son had been down about ten days visiting Grandma Andresen and Mr. Lang came down Sunday.

Many of your Christmas presents can be purchased at the bazaar given by the Altruistic club of the Pythian Sisters Saturday afternoon and evening, Dec. 9th, in K. P. hall.

Bob Smith went out one morning the first of the week and evidently killed all the ducks there were in this "neck o' woods" for he brought in half a sack full of big fat mallards.

Al Hoffman went over to Big Lake last Saturday night to spend a few days hunting with Day and Wickson, owners of the Brownie ranch, who have a big lumber business at that place.

There was a storm of sleet and four inches of snow in the Big Bend country last Friday. As a result of the storm a car driven by Mrs. Sam B. Hill of Waterville left the road and Mrs. Hill had her arm broken.

A number of the deer hunters of this vicinity finally determined to let their deer grow another year before butchering. Among those who got deer near the close of the season were the Burgess boys of Plain and two men with them, each getting a buck.

Mr. Frank Heath is the fortunate owner of a herd of grade cows, the milk from which tests 4.2% butterfat and this is considered remarkably high. His milk is sold to the Purity Creamery and is put up in sterilized bottles and sold to the public here at home.

L. C. Brender is agitating the improvement of East Front street, from the corner at the Franklin Lumber Company's office westward. This section of street through to the pavement is in need of improvement and it no doubt can be had if those living along it demand that it be.

The residence of John Viebrock, of near Waterville, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Freuchtnicht living north of Leavenworth, burned down recently. The loss is given as $4,500 with $1,300 insurance. Mr. Viebrock will immediately rebuild. They were barely able to escape with their lives and all their household goods and clothing were destroyed.

A couple dozen representatives of the Group Four newspapers and printshops gathered at Wenatchee last Saturday and spent the day in conference, a good part of the time being taken up by discussing state association matters. A splendid dinner was given by the World at the Peter Pan restaurant, and those in attendance at the meeting were well looked after by the Wenatchee people.

Changes have been made at the depot the past week by carpenters, the door to the men's waiting room having been moved farther east, a window changed, the wires brought in from the old yard office and other repairs made. The telegraph office will henceforward be in the depot. The old yard office has been filed on by Special Agent Bentley to be used as a "dog house" by his department, but what disposition will eventually be made of it we do not know.

A very interesting and instructive session of the K. P. lodge was held last Saturday evening when a number of the grand lodge officers were present. Grand Chancellor Thompson of Tacoma was here on his annual visit and delivered an excellent address along patriotic lines. Grand Keeper of Records and Seals Cook of Olympia was another of the visiting officers and Grand Master at Arms Tom Pinkerton of Wenatchee was present. The latter also made good talks. A banquet was served by the Pythian Sisters which was greatly appreciated by all.

Radium silk petticoats just in at LaPointe's.

Mrs. J. M. Swain visited at Spokane a few days, returning home Sunday accompanied by Mr. Swain.

A. H. Morton, Bonners Ferry, Idaho, renews to the Echo, being still interested in the good old home town.

Tom Pipkin, A. W. Heidrich, Hal Starks and Guy Wheeler went up to Omak the first of the week on a duck hunting trip.

Clyde Boyce was up from the terminal Monday to spend a few "shekels" for necessities and meet acquaintances.

Snow fell here almost all Sunday but melted as it fell, though on the hills it remained and appears at a distance to be attaining depth.

Engineer F. W. Clemens, who works on the W. O. from Pateros north, was home the first of the week to visit his family a few days.

Storms are reported to have occurred in Montana and states farther east last week. Saturday all through trains from the east were late.

Chas. Wright requests that his copy of the Echo be sent to 935 Hoffman Ave., Long Beach, Calif., where the family is spending the winter.

Ray Barnes, who came down from the Royal Development Company's mines last Saturday, began firing boilers at the round house Monday afternoon.

Taylor Yocom, who had been doing team work for the Royal Development Co. for several months, is through for the season and returned here Sunday.

Frank Mull arrived home Tuesday morning from California where he had been at the bedside of his daughter, who is still very low but thought to be somewhat better.

Guy Hamilton had a week or ten days vacation following the election, but is again back at the Citizens State Bank and on the job. Guy did not quit to "celebrate," but for a rest and to follow up the news of the "democratic landslide."

John G. Mahoney writes from Lankershim, Calif., to have his paper forwarded to that address. He and Tom Mullen are working for the Southern California Edison Co. on a distribution gang and says that their territory takes in Hollywood, Universal City, San Bernard and Lankershim and other localities.

Carl A. Immisch, employed on the Atkinson ranch at Wagnersburg, was run down by an auto driven by John DeWitt of Chelan, and died of his injuries last week Wednesday. DeWitt is held to answer in court. Immisch was crossing the road from the packing shed on the ranch when hit by the car which was driven at high speed.

Nearly half of the exports of corn from the United States in 1921—58,582,806 bushels—went to Canada, according to the United States Department of Agriculture. Much of this corn, however, was later shipped to Europe, Canadian statistics showing that only 12,000,000 bushels were imported from the United States for consumption.

Richard Mus, proprietor of the Purity Creamery, Leavenworth, has an advertisement in the Echo. Mr. Mus is making a strong bid for the dairy patronage of the people of the community. He recently attended the state meeting of the dairymen and says that he is now better prepared than ever before to serve his patrons.

One secret of the great success of the rodent control work carried on by the Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture in Wyoming and other states, in cooperation with the extension forces of the state agricultural colleges, is the help rendered by individuals who give their time and labor to assist in distributing the poison on Federal State, and county lands. In most cases inadequate funds are available for this work, and wherever this valuable free labor is given the Government is saved large sums of money that would otherwise be needed for rodent control.

COMMERCIAL CLUB LUNCHEON.

The luncheon of the Commercial club yesterday drew about forty and a splendid chicken dinner was served which vied with the recent venison dinner in popularity.

President Hennessy presided and a short business session followed the repast.

The hospital committee made a short report and it was stated that a "gift book" is being kept of all gifts, which will not be regarded as corporation property. The secretary read communications favoring a more elaborate state program in the interest of new settlers and the county division committee reported on matters.

J. A. Warman of Wenatchee was present as a guest and talked on apple storage, pointing out the desirability of the growers owning cold storage plants and getting their apples on the market in perfect condition. Mr. McIntosh called attention to the fact that this district was not selling apples to California although it is a big prospective market.

The usual vote of thanks was given the ladies for the dinner. Those who served were: Mrs. Wm. McIntosh, Mrs. John Brender, Mrs. A. Lessing, Mrs. M. McClain, Mrs. Chas. LaPointe, Mrs. N. A. Nelson and Mrs. Elmer Cashier.

The Columbia Ice & Cold Storage Co. has just floated bonds in the sum of $150,000.

Nice line of pretty colored cotton charming bloomers, all sizes, at LaPointe's.

The shipment of box apples to date is said to be only half of what is was to this date last year.

D. R. McCamley, former employee of the Lamb-Davis Lumber Co., who left here years ago, was in town this week. For thirteen years he has been scaling timber for the state. He saw great changes in the city and community.

Tom Burke heard a disturbance Wednesday night near the viaduct and thinking it was a holdup, got out with his shotgun and held up what he thought was the holdup. To his dismay the fellow said he was just beating his wife, so Tom beat it back to bed. Wise man.

Big Turkey Shoot! At Leavenworth Gun Club grounds. Rifle range, 50 yds. at 2-in. bull's eye—25c a shot, hit the bull's eye and you get a turkey. These are all live birds, the very best. Also trap shooting. Shooting begins at 9 a. m. Sunday, Nov. 26.

Of considerable interest to weather forecasters in this country is the conclusion reached by Norwegian meteorologists, recently announced by a meteorologist of the Weather Bureau, of the Department of Agriculture, viz. that the properties of the air with respect to stability and moisture content are more important factors for the occurrence of summer local showers than the general distribution of pressure.

HIGH LIGHTS ON HIGHWAYS.

The Bureau of Public Roads of the United States Department of Agriculture states that there are enough motor vehicles in the United States to take the entire population for a ride at one time.

How climate affects the highway working season is shown by the fact that grading can be done on 100 days of the year in western Oregon, 110 in Maine, 260 in Maryland, and 300 in several of the southern states.

Federal-aid roads placed under construction in September amounted to 1,189 miles.

At the beginning of 1922 there were 4.2 motor vehicles for each mile of road in the United States.

From 19 to 35 cents per hour is the range of wages for common labor on Federal-aid roads east of the Rocky Mountains, with a few exceptions, where as high as 43 cents is paid.

One hundred and twenty vehicles a minute was the rate at which motor vehicles passed an observing station on a trunk-line highway in Massachusetts, according to the Bureau of Public Roads of the United States Department of Agriculture. This rate was kept up from noon to 10 p. m.

Recently a tourist in passing through four states was required to buy four different sets of lenses in order that his headlights would comply with state laws. More uniformity in highway regulation is needed.
