We have not heard of any of our advertising creating a furore in New York, but we have material assurance that some of it has gotten as far as Pasco. Sheriff W. B. Gray was in the city Friday and told us that he had noticed the Ritzville flouring mills ad in the News and had stopped on his way to Spokane to see about buying flour for his brother, who is in business at Pasco. We introduced Mr. Gray to our popular city bakers who showed him some of the bread made from Ott's celebrated flour. He pronounced it O. K., and there is but little doubt but that Ritzville will furnish Pasco with flour in the future.

Rev. E. J. Singer of Spokane came down last Friday to close up his work as Sunday School missionary for the state of Washington. The first graduating exercises of the Ritzville public school last Friday evening was well attended and everyone seemed to enjoy themselves. The remainder of the program was good, especially the "Old Settlers" song and the instrumental music.
Uncle John Helme returned from Illinois to Adams county on Sunday evening. He says that he did not enjoy his visit back there for the reason that it rained about every other day while he was there, and for the further reason that he had the shakes, a condition of health entirely unknown in this county. A party of five Illinoisans accompanied him back to this county.
The case of S. C. Jackson vs. James Smith was tried before Justice D. J. Zent and a jury of six men last Friday. The contention arose out of a misunderstanding in regard to the price to be paid for a job of painting, Jackson claiming about $24 due, while Smith claimed to have overpaid him about $6.00. The jury gave Jackson $20. Smith has taken an appeal.

While returning from the memorial exercises at Sprague last Monday John Sirginson's team became frightened and ran into the hack of Mr. Womach partially upsetting Sirginson's hack and throwing him out, leaving his wife and two children in the hack. They continued to run and finally threw Mrs. Sirginson against a wire fence badly cutting her leg. The children escaped with slight bruises.
Memorial Exercises.
Decorations day was fittingly observed at this place on Monday last. The court house was tastefully decorated with flowers, flags and bunting. Addresses were made by W. W. Zent and O. R. Holcomb. The devotional part of the program was conducted by Rev. B. L. Hicks. A male quartette, composed of S. G. Scheuerle, F. P. French, Adrian Wilburn and George Spanjer furnished excellent vocal music, Miss Lillian Cunningham presiding at the organ.

Miss Myrtle Graham entertained the audience with a very appropriate reading in a manner highly appreciated by all who heard her.
A few touching remarks were made by Post Commander D. J. Zent in response to A. S. Newland, an ex-Confederate soldier.
The following old soldiers were present at the exercise:

After the exercises and the casting of the floral tributes upon the symbol of a soldier's grave—there being no real grave here—the above-named old soldiers took their wives and repaired to Mrs. Carrier's restaurant, where a sumptuous repast had been prepared.
He Didn't Mean It.
Through the kindness of Elder Cunningham we have perused the copy of papers filed in the superior court of Whitman county in the matter of striking the name of M. O. Reed, an attorney and counsellor at law, from the roll. Lack of time and space forbids the publication of the copy in full, but it is a general denial on the part of Mr. Reed that he ever intentionally or otherwise defamed, vilified, or imputed to the judge dishonorable conduct or unworthy motives, and in his affidavit Mr. Reed says that the same, referring to filing of complaint in the case of McGilvery vs. McGilvery, was not for the purpose and he does not think did tend to impeach the integrity or purity of the judge, nor was the same intended to bring the said judge into contempt or impute to him any corrupt or impure motive.
To The Public.
