WILL MAKE LAWS FOR BETTER ROADS

A Number of Bills to That Effect will Come Before Legislature.

In the interest of the good roads movement of the state a series of bills will be introduced in the next session of the legislature extending the authority of county commissioners and providing for the expenditure of the state road levy.

Under the terms of the McCoy bill, passed at the last session, there is annually levied by the state a one-fourth mill tax for public road building. This fund shall be apportioned as the counties have been taxed.

A wide-tire bill is the first to be asked. There have been repeated attempts to pass a measure of this kind, but it has been beaten largely by the influence of the farmer vote. It is claimed that the narrow wagon tires of most communities cut up the country roads and make them almost impassable at times. By specifying the load that can be carried by wagons freighted with different classes of loads it is hoped by the good roads associations to work a big change in the care of public highways.

It is questioned whether the county commissioners now have the authority to purchase and operate stone quarries. A new bill will specifically extend this authority and give them the privilege of employing either convict or free labor.

There is to be introduced a bill authorizing the commissioners to expend on the main thoroughfares at least one-third of the cost of their permanent improvement. Coupled with municipal appropriations for the work, this will enable many cities to build permanent highways leading into the country.

Another act to be suggested to the legislature will call for a distribution of the state road levy to counties in the proportion that they contribute in the tax levy. A limit will be fixed upon the time they have to claim their proportion. The good roads organizations do not propose to limit the expenditure of this money to the inter-county roads, believing that the permanent building of thoroughfares of any kind will be of general state benefit.

The employment of convict labor on public roads will likely be made easier, and there may be a bill suggested for the employment of county prisoners upon thoroughfares within the jurisdiction of the court.

To Men of Good Clothes Sense

It is well worth while, for you and for us, to set forth a plain statement of facts about ready-made clothes.

This is it. After you read it you can do, and probably will do, just as you please about it. But you'd better have the facts: It's foolish and sometimes dangerous, to do just as you please without having the facts.

You'll find in every large city a few custom tailors who make clothes really worth paying for.

They charge $75 to $100 for a suit. They give you the best of quality, the best of tailoring, fit and style. These are the things you pay the extra money for. If you can afford to spend that much, go to such a tailor and spend it.

Any man who doesn't need to worry about parting with $75 or $100 needn't worry about what he gets for it. But if you're going to spend less than that, spend a good deal less and wear ready-made clothes.

We know what some of you will say:

Copyrighted, 1905—Kincaid & Wool.

"I tried ready-made clothes once. Not for me.

"They may do for some, but I can't be fitted.

"There's no style to 'em."

In other words, you don't know the facts and you're losing money by your ignorance.

The fact is, if you haven't tried one of our suits you don't know of the progress in making men's suits. As for style many custom tailors get their styles from the same style book.

Our lowest priced suits have just as much style as our highest priced garments.

As for fit there is not one man in a hundred that we cannot fit—tall, short, thick, thin, men of all types. That's where we stand now. A chance is all we ask.
