Democracy vs. Republicanism.

(Elma Chronicle.)

Since the days of the Father of Democracy, Thomas Jefferson, the democratic party has ever announced its faith in the ability of the people to govern themselves, and has always advocated the best discussion of the issues before the people—believing that the better understanding of those issues by the masses of people was the bulwark of our government. In strict accordance with this honored doctrine, one of the democratic nominees for representative, John Barney, immediately after his nomination, challenged his opponent on the republican ticket, Geo. H. Wyman, of Aberdeen, to a joint discussion of the press issues throughout the county. As has been seen by the correspondence published below, Mr. Wyman expresses his opinion, but states that he is under the direction of the republican central committee. That body after mature deliberation (from October 8 to October 10) have decided that such a course did not do their party any good. (This is the language of the chairman.)

Will it do the republican party of Chehalis county any good for the bosses to elect their candidates in this manner? Will it do the party any good to refuse to listen to the people, with whose votes they expect to ride into power, as to the merits of their policy? Will it do them any good to flood the county with hired orators to dazzle the people with their glittering generalities? Think not, and we believe the people will administer the proper rebuke at the election on November 4—the only rebuke that can be made to feel. We believe the day is past in Chehalis county when the g. o. p. can whip the people into ranks with the old cry of "the ticket! Don't look at the candidate; never mind the issues, vote the republican ticket and we (the g. o. p.) will take care of the rest."

ELMA, WASH., Oct. 6th, 1890.
Geo. H. Wyman, Aberdeen, Wash.
SIR: I have the honor to be the republican nominee for representative in Chehalis county in the next legislature, and learn that you occupy the same position on the republican ticket. As we both are asking the support of the people of the county as representatives of the two great political parties, and believing, as I do, that the people have a right, when a person or party seeks their support, to demand that they be informed by that person or party of their opinion and position upon all questions of public policy. And as we shall bring the present political canvass in the honor of representing Chehalis county in the state legislature, by reason of our superiority in policy, methods or ability in our respective parties, I beg to propose that we make a joint canvass of the county and together discuss the issues which the people are interested in, in which the political parties were formed to represent are divided. This proposition meet with your approval, you are at liberty to suggest, point out or refer these arrangements to the secretaries of the county committees of our parties, as you may see fit. Hoping to have the honor of your earliest convenience, I am very respectfully yours,
J. J. CARNEY.

ABERDEEN, WASH., Oct. 6th, 1890.
Geo. H. Wyman, Elma, Wash.
DEAR SIR: Your favor of to-day is received. I am decidedly in accord with you in the plan you suggest. But, please, whatever part I take in the campaign will be subject to the direction of the republican central committee. I will send you my letter to our party and ask him to have it acted upon as soon as possible. Hoping to see you soon, I am
Yours truly,
Geo. H. WYMAN.

FROM HERALD'S PRIZE CYCLOPEDIA.

RESTORING OLD CANE CHAIRS.
The cane seat of a chair is broken, and as good as new, or better than it was at home. After removing the old cane, cover the seat with matting formed of canvass belting woven temporarily in place. Then cover this with some coarse muslin, and secure at the corners with the use of the perforated tacks, turn the raw ends of the center and baste it with curled hair and wool or whatever you propose to use for stuffing and keep it in position by basting over it a piece of muslin. Then carefully fit the rep, pin it in different places until you are certain it is in perfect shape, and tack it permanently, following, of course, the tracing made for the cane. Cover the edge with galloon to match the rep, using tiny ornamental tacks and tie with an upholsterer's needle in as many places as is desirable, leaving a button on the upper side. When the back of the chair is to be repaired, a facing must be tacked on the outside.

HOW TO CLEAN WALL PAPER.—Take off the dust with a soft cloth. With a little flour and water make a lump of very stiff dough, and rub the wall gently downward, taking the length of the arm at each stroke, and in this way go around the room. As the dough becomes dirty, cut the soiled part off. In the second round commence the stroke a little above where the last one ended, and be very careful not to cross the paper or go up again. Ordinary papers cleaned in this way will look fresh and bright, and almost as good as new. Some papers, however—and these most expensive ones—will not clean nicely; and in order to ascertain whether a paper can be cleaned it is best to try it in some obscure corner, which will not be noticed if the result is unsatisfactory. If there be any broken places in the wall fill them up with a mixture of equal parts of plaster-of-paris and silver sand, made into a paste, with a little water; then cover the place with a little piece of paper like the rest, if it can be had.

To Destroy Stumps.

1. Bore a hole 1 inch in diameter, 18 inches deep, into the center of the stump, and put in one ounce of salt-peter, filling up with water and plugging up the hole. This should be done in the fall. In the spring the plug is to be taken out, a half a gill of kerosene poured into the hole and set on fire. It will burn out the stump to the farthest root.

2. In the fall bore a hole 1 inch in diameter, 10 inches deep, into the center of the stump, and put in a half pound of vitriol and plug very tight. In the spring the whole stump and roots through all their ramifications will be so rotted as to be easily removed.—Scientific American.

News Gleanings.

Geo. B. Kandle, republican, was elected mayor of Tacoma at the city election Saturday.

An invitation has been tendered Ex-President Grover Cleveland, by the Chicago Press club, to visit Chicago some time during the present month, and make a speech in reply to the McKinley bill. The Auditorium has been engaged for the occasion. It is believed the ex-president will accept the invitation.

The Quebec Telegraph declares that it is deluged with congratulatory letters and telegrams from all parts of the dominion applauding the bold stand it has taken in favor of annexation to the United States.

Hundreds of thousands of emigrants from Russia and from the northernmost section of Germany are making preparations to come to this country and settle on the Pacific slope.

The ladies of the Congregational church have no notion of resting upon their laurels and although the handsome church with its sonorous bell are still unfamiliar in their newness, the ladies are already deep in their plans for the fair which is to defray the expenses of carpeting and fitting up their church comfortably for use. The fair is to be held a short time before Christmas, and those in search of pretty gifts will find here a double opportunity of proving the blessedness of giving.

Preacher G. W. Walker, who lives near the forks of the Humptulps river, and who varies an occasional sermon, so it is said, with locating home hunters on land already located upon, got into a quarrel last week with settler Herbert Wilson over a location he had made for Wilson and shot Wilson in the breast. Wilson had previously made an affidavit against Walker for obtaining money under false pretenses.

The American bark Guy C. Goss, which it will be remembered loaded at the Tacoma mills some five months ago, has arrived safely at her destination, Erie Basin Breakwater, New York harbor, and the Brooklyn Eagle has this to say of both bark and cargo: "The bark Guy C. Goss of Wareham is discharging at the Erie basin's breakwater a cargo of the largest logs that ever entered the harbor of New York. They are the produce of the virgin forests of Washington territory and were shipped at Tacoma, which port the bark left a little over four months ago. There are only 230 of these gigantic sticks in the cargo, supplemented by 47,000 shingles. Some of these sticks measure 112 feet without a knot, and are thirty-six inches in diameter; a number of them are square at thirty inches. A number of them intended for masts are said to be worth $900 each. The entire lot is intended for masts or spars. So heavy and lengthy is the cargo that it was found necessary to get a pile driving machine to keep the enormous sticks raised while a powerful hoisting engine hauled them through the stern ports of the bark."
