

Aberdeen Herald.

Thursday, - February 5, 1909.

ACCOMPLISHED FACTS.

Although the still undeveloped resources of this country are so vast, we are not among those who point only to the future, in spite of the disadvantages of poor communication which have hampered Aberdeen's growth, the location was too fine to be overlooked and pioneer enterprise has established itself here. Five years ago the site on which Aberdeen is built was covered with a virgin forest; to-day it is the only city in southwestern Washington. In the race for supremacy it has so far eclipsed all rivals that it is to-day the manufacturing, marketing and money center of the great Grays Harbor Basin. A resume of what has been done in Aberdeen shows:

Four saw mills running, with a daily capacity of 200,000 feet.

A shingle mill being constructed with an annual capacity of 2,000,000 shingles.

Two sash and door factories at work employing 25 men.

A ship yard, at which a three-masted schooner, with a capacity of 600,000 feet of lumber.

Three salmon canneries whose annual output is 35,000 cases.

The best electrically lighted city in Washington, a system of fire protection and water works. The electric light company have a capital of $25,000, and two dynamos, one for arc and one for incandescent lights.

A pay roll of $25,000 a month.

Two first-class banks.

Aberdeen is the only place on the Harbor where wharves can be built along the shore line.

Aberdeen has five times as much wharfage front built as all other places on the Harbor combined.

THE WAY TO ABERDEEN.
A reference to the map of Western Washington will show where Aberdeen is located. There are four routes to reach Aberdeen from the East; go to Tacoma or Olympia and take the steamer Moltisheim from either place for Kamilchie, where the steamer connects with the Puget Sound & Grays Harbor railroad at Montesano, close connections are here made with the steamer that arrives at Aberdeen at 5 p. m., or take the Astoria steamer at Portland for Astoria, then cross to Ilwaco, take cars to Shoalwater Bay, then steamer to North Cove, then stage along ocean beach to Peterson's Point, where the steamer will then bring you to Aberdeen; or you can take the steamer Alliance at Portland and have an ocean trip around and she will land you at our dock; or you can take a steamer once a month or a sailing vessel almost daily at San Francisco, and be landed at Aberdeen.

Dissolution of Partnership.
Notice is hereby given that the partnership heretofore existing between the Grays Harbor Commercial Company, represented by Geo. W. Stratton, and Capt. Thos. S. Tew, is this day dissolved by mutual consent. The Grays Harbor Commercial Company will not be responsible for any debts contracted by said Capt. Tew, or any steamer controlled by him, after January 1, 1909. GRAYS HARBOR COMMERCIAL CO., GEO. W. STRATTON, superintendent.
