MONTESANO

Frank Olson was brought up from Hoquiam last week to serve twelve days in the county jail for petty larceny.

J. W. Hall, who had a 30-foot fall from a bridge last week, was able to get around town the first of the week, and is slowly recovering.

Treasurer Weatherwax last week received the state check for $10,541.39, this county's proportion of state school money for the quarter.

"Late" Kirkpatrick, the Humptulips sheepman, sold a timber claim in 21-10 this week, for $3,000, and has bought the Clyde ranch near Axford.

Frank Roberts is building a handsome residence on the hill north of town and Elias Bryan is doing the same thing in the east part of town, opposite Mayor Bryan's home.

Following marriage licenses were issued last week: Jas. A. Jennings, Mary H. J. Wauch; Albert Schrader, Grace Gongia; Chas. B. Gilson, Dollie Gage; Ole P. Hansen, Signe Johnson.

The new cage for the county jail has two cells, with room for four prisoners each. The new apartment will be separate from the present jail, so that different classes of prisoners can be kept apart.

The Market Lumber company, capital $40,000, has been incorporated by A. J. Anderson, J. S. Creech, J. L. Phillips, F. E. Creech and J. A. Phillips. The new company will build a mill at Aberdeen.

F. W. Byles is repainting and making other improvements on his large building, corner of First and Pioneer streets. Among other improvements will be a roof garden over the small building west of the main block.

Mrs. J. E. Medcalf, who recently purchased a house in Tacoma, expecting to reside there, has leased the place and will build a residence opposite J. E. Calder's, in the east part of town, where she owns sixteen lots.

Mrs. Anna Schafer and son Peter are back from a visit of two months to their old home in Wisconsin, and like all Washington people who visit the east, are glad to get back here, where the weather is not quite so strenuous.

Wm. Haberlack lost several fingers at Clemons' camp last week. He was endeavoring to straighten out a cable when the engine started and his hand was drawn into a block, crushing his fingers so that amputation was necessary.

The bridge across Schofield's gulch has been completed by Mr. Hall. It is a well built structure that should last twenty-five years. But if two fat people ever meet in the footway, one or the other will have to climb the railing.

ELMA

John Damitio has sold his farm south of town for $4,000.

An unusual amount of hay has been brought to this market this season.

Mrs. C. C. Combs and daughter, Miss Gerie went to Tacoma Monday morning.

Miss Grace Bourquin arrived from Nebraska Saturday night to visit relatives in this city.

Mrs. A. H. Achley went to Aberdeen Thursday, to visit her daughter, Mrs. R. M. Birmingham.

Mr. and Mrs. James Glancey and daughter, Anna, went to the Sound cities Thursday for an outing.

Henry McCleary received a new locomotive last week, making two of these machines now owned by him.

The new pump for the city water works is being run right along now, and will be a great advantage during the dry season.

S. H. Beckwith has sold his farm of 139 1/2 acres to Chas. and Albert Lynn, formerly of Minnesota, for $5,580.

Chris Damitio informed a Chronicle scribe last Saturday, that his eight cows during the year ending Aug. 1, 1903, for butter products brought him $705, or $88.12 1/2 per cow. Who says that this isn't the greatest dairy region on earth?

OAKVILLE.

Hattie Griesie, of Aberdeen, visited his grandmother, Mrs. Pomrenk, last week.

During the fire last week some tramps helped themselves to some of Glover's hotel bedding.

Louise, daughter of Dan Gillis, of Aberdeen, spent a few days in Oakville, the guest of Mrs. O. B. Newton.

G. M. Cochran, of the Snohomish Hardware Co., of Snohomish, a son-in-law of R. v. A. Wilson, visited the latter last week.

John Scott has purchased a twelve acre tract from the Wright Bros., of Olympia, lying east of Dr. Van Winkle's property and west of town.

John Glen and Gas Kendall were in Olympia this week having their hearing in the land office. Each of them are having their homesteads contested.

A. H. Hofer, wife and young son have been spending several days at the Riverside Dairy farm. He is employed in the State bank in Aberdeen and is spending his vacation with Mr. Blechschmidt.

Married, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Geo. L. Wanch, near Cedarville, Wash., James A. Jennings to Mary H. J. Wauch, by Elder A. Wilson on Saturday at 3 o'clock p. m., Aug. 15 1902, in the presence of a few invited guests.

COSMOPOLIS.

Mr. and Mrs. John Keating have moved into the residence on First street, just vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Clare.

H. A. Price, the painter, has decided to go to San Francisco for the present. He may return next spring and make this his home.

Cosmopolis school district gets $435.75 out of the $10,541 just apportioned among the districts of the county by Superintendent Williams.

Frank King drew first blood at Union mill last week. He cut a gash in left thumb with rip saw, which slipped when cutting out small piece.

We are informed that a medal has been awarded to Wm. Johnson of Cosmopolis, for the bravery he displayed last Sunday in rescuing young ladies from a watery grave.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McKinney have received their household goods from Ocoosta, and have moved them into the Helgerson house, Fourth street near F where they will reside.

O. B. Beaver, of Preacher's slough is building some good road near his place, so he can drive to Cosmopolis when this end of the road is completed. Volunteer work of this kind is appreciated.

Mrs. M. H. Williams and son, Arthur; Mrs. F. L. Morgan, wife of Attorney Morgan, and their baby Francis, all of Hoquiam; also Miss Ruby Case, of North Yakima, who is visiting Mrs. Williams, were guests of Mrs. W. F. Pattison of Cosmopolis Friday, of last week.

HOQUIAM.

Tuayser Lamb returned Friday from a visit to his old home in Kansas.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Morgan were in Olympia this week, proving up on timber claims.

Mrs. Adolph Ponischil and family have returned from a two week's trip to Ocoosta by the sea.

Miss Edith Dent and Harry Graham returned from Astoria Saturday after a week spent at the Regatta.

Miss Elwell, one of the new teachers has arrived from Adair, Iowa, and is ready for the beginning of school.

Frank Reil has taken a homestead in the Clearwater country and the family have gone there to make their home.

R. L. Hawkins has bought property at Montesano and will move his family there and make that place their future home.

Mrs. Peterson, a widow 50 years of age and a sister of J. W. Stafford, died Sunday night at the residence of the latter on J street.

S. C. Castile, a well known rancher of the Klalock, is lying very sick at his ranch, and grave fears are entertained for his recovery.

B. R. Blackstone returned Saturday afternoon from a trip to his Queets claim. He reports the surveyors hard at work up there and anxious to get through.

The business of the big Polson Logging Co., is still expanding, so that the large freight rooms recently built on the water front, have already been found too small.

Mr. Joseph Lytle has been appointed school director in place of Mr. Adams, who resigned. Mr. Lytle has leisure time to attend to his duties and should make a good director.

Mrs. Fannie Trumbull, of Adair, Iowa, arrived Monday night to visit her sister, Mrs. Geo. W. France. Mrs. Trumbull is a lady of some means and will probably invest in property here. She will make her home in Seattle.

Two Longshoremen, Thomas and Ludgren, held a lively fight of a few minutes duration in front of the Capital saloon, at an early hour Sunday morning. The trouble arose out of an argument as to the benefits to be derived from the sailor's union.

H. H. Smith, a prominent hardware dealer of Marshfield, Mo., has been in town for a few days, looking up a possible site for a store location. He is very favorably impressed with the outlook of Hoquiam and may possibly embark in business here in a short time.

A reception and affair was held at the residence of Ole Johnson on K street Sunday night, in honor of the marriage of his sister, Miss Signe Johnson to Olaf Hanson, a popular member of the Longshoremen's union. The parties were married in the afternoon at Aberdeen and the many friends assembled on K street to do honor to the occasion, upon their arrival in this city.

EDISON THEATER

Most Successful Opening Ever Witnessed in Aberdeen.

The management of the Edison Family theater is to be congratulated upon its very successful opening this week. At the first night's performance the house was literally filled to overflowing, and the overflow was great enough to crowd the house at the second performance. Manager Hirschman was fully aware that the crowd on the first night was the result of judicious advertising, and knew that to continue to draw big houses his show must be all that was advertised. That it was fully up to expectations is well attested by the immense audiences at every evening and matinee performance since the opening. The entertainment from beginning to end is most interesting and attractive, there not being a dull moment permitted.

The first evening showed the room to be insufficiently ventilated, and before the next afternoon this was remedied by cutting a ventilator in the center of the ceiling. All who have had the pleasure of attending the Edison are loud in praise of the beautiful little Bijou, and of the really fine performances. The moving pictures are alone worth more than the small admission, and it is a treat to see Lightning Artist Grant execute his famous oil paintings, which are distributed free to the audience, in fact the entire show is much better than have been many high-priced traveling companies who have inflicted Aberdeen in the past, and whose sole claim to the artistic laid in their lithographed posters.

The new electricity generator has arrived at the Aberdeen Steam Laundry, which will furnish the Edison with current for its moving pictures at the afternoon performances. This current is now being installed, and the moving pictures will be exhibited every afternoon, as well as evening, beginning with the matinee next Saturday. The new theater has already taken deep hold upon the ladies and children, and affords a pleasant place for innocent amusement that is a credit to the city.

TARIFF REVISION

IOWA IDEA THE OUTGROWTH OF MCKINLEY'S OPINION.

The Late President Was Satisfied That Work of High Tariff Duties Was Completed. The Time Has Arrived to Cease Fostering Giant Monopolies and Expand Foreign Trade.

F. O. Schuster, a governor of the Union Bank of London, is reported to have said in a speech delivered in London, July 29, that he "had a private interview with the late President McKinley two years ago" and that on that occasion Mr. McKinley said: "My tariff bill has done its work. We have been able to build up many great industries in a short time and now gradually, but inevitably, our tariff must be reduced."

Mr. Schuster is a man of good reputation and those who know him do not doubt that, substantially, he quoted the former president correctly. But if one requires corroborative testimony it may be found in the last speech delivered by President McKinley at Buffalo, September 5, 1901. On that occasion Mr. McKinley said:

"We must not repose in fancied security that we can forever sell everything and buy little or nothing. If such a thing were possible it would not be best for us or for those with whom we deal. We should take from our customers such of their products as we can use without harm to our industries and labor. Reciprocity is the natural outgrowth of our wonderful industrial development under the domestic policy now firmly established. What we produce beyond our domestic consumption must have a vent abroad. The excess must be relieved through a foreign outlet and we should sell everywhere we can and buy wherever the buying will enlarge our sales and production and thereby make a greater demand for home labor. The period of exclusiveness is past. The expansion of our trade and commerce is the pressing problem. Commercial wars are unprofitable. A policy of good will and friendly trade relations will prevent reprisals. Reciprocity treaties are in harmony with the spirit of the times; measures of retaliation are not. If, perchance, some of our tariffs are no longer needed for revenue or to encourage and protect our industries at home, why should they not be employed to extend and protect our markets abroad?"

In response to the sentiments expressed by Mr. McKinley at Buffalo, and in line with an intelligent recognition of the necessities of the times, there developed within the republican party a very strong sentiment in favor of tariff revision. In the state of Iowa this sentiment took formidable shape and was represented by the so-called "Iowa idea." The "Iowa idea" was the term by which was designated the plank in the platform adopted by the Iowa republicans for the years 1901 and 1902 as follows: "We favor the modification of any tariff schedules that may be required to prevent their affording shelter to any monopoly."

Although republican leaders profess to be devoted to Mr. McKinley's principles and invoke Mr. McKinley's memory whenever they find it convenient to do so in providing defense for some of their schemes, republican leaders very generally have caused it to be made known that there will be no revision of the tariff. In line with this disposition, there has grown up in the republican party a body known as the "stand patters," and at this writing it seems that on that proposition there is no difference among republican leaders although, to be sure, among the rank and file of the party there are many, and perhaps they are in the majority, who really believe in a revision of the tariff.

But the republican party is not a majority party. While professing to reflect the public sentiment, its policies are adopted by a small coterie of men. While claiming Abraham Lincoln as the party's patron saint, republican leaders repudiate Lincoln's teachings and while insisting that they are but adhering to the teachings of William McKinley, and pointing to him as a model of all that a statesman should be, they have turned their backs upon Mr. McKinley's last speech, have repudiated his counsel and now insist that however unjust the tariff schedules may be, however much shelter those schedules may provide to the trusts, there will be no revision and that the republican party is unalterable in its purpose to protect special interests.

Long ago the republican party ceased to be, on every proposition, the party of Abraham Lincoln; and there are reasons, at this time, for believing that the party leaders are determined to ignore the counsel offered by William McKinley in the last and perhaps the greatest speech ever delivered by that gentleman.
