"THE HOLY CITY."

This Famous Religious Drama at The Grand Theater Next Sunday Night.

"Better than a sermon—" that is a remark which has been made time and again by clergymen who have witnessed a performance of "The Holy City," the most successful and the best of all the religious dramas ever presented upon the English speaking stage. A vital, moving and historically accurate drama, dealing with the scenes and incidents attendant upon the betrayal, death and resurrection of Christ.

The scenic investiture is particularly elaborate. The scene showing the judgment hall of the high priests is a triumph of the scene-painter's art as is also the depiction of the roofs of Jerusalem, as seen from the roof of Herod's garden. There are nearly a dozen scenes in all, each one of them painted after patient research and study. The costumes, too, is rich and varied. The company presenting the play consists of nearly two dozen principal players of talent and artistic worth, and a large number of supernumeraries.

"The Holy City" will be presented at the Grand theater next Sunday night.
