

ROOSEVELT TOUR MOMENTOUS ONE

Receives First Welcome Home From Central, Northern and Rocky Mountain People, Traversing Seventeen States.

Political Utterances of Great Import Expected in View of Rebuffs Handed Him in Native State of New York.

By J. A. EDGERTON. THE American people as a whole have long been waiting their chance to welcome Theodore Roosevelt home...

Colonel Roosevelt, who, though born in the east and educated at Harvard, a scion of one of the oldest families of New York, is still the beau ideal of the transmissouri, the rough rider, the plainsman, the citizen of the world.

To a disinterested onlooker who is at all familiar with the political game and who is in the least informed as to the drift of sentiment throughout the country it would appear that Roosevelt luck was never more in evidence than in these latter days.

Seventeen States Visited.

Starting from New York on Tuesday, Aug. 23, the Roosevelt itinerary covers nearly 5,500 miles. He traverses seventeen states, has twenty scheduled stops and fourteen regular speeches...

Rides Plains Again. While at the Wyoming capital the colonel takes a horseback ride across the plains, and it will not be a mollycoddle ride at that.

On Sunday, Aug. 28, Colonel Roosevelt is the guest of Governor Brooks of Wyoming and early Monday morning starts for Denver. It is safe to say that on this trip a large section of Cheyenne will go with him.

Following a parade the former president will be the guest of the Denver Press club at a cowboy luncheon. At 2:30 o'clock he will address a public meeting under the auspices of the Colorado Live Stock association.

Leaving Denver on the morning of Aug. 30, the Roosevelt party proceeds to Pueblo, where a stop of nearly an hour is made.

Visits John Brown's Battlefield. On the site of the old battlefield, already historic ground and liable to grow more historic with the passage of the years, Roosevelt will dedicate John Brown park.

in detail the itinerary of the trip is as follows: Leaving New York on the morning of Aug. 23, the first stop is at Utica, where the initial speech of the series—an address on the country life movement—is delivered before a grange picnic.

"Frontier Days" Cause of Trip. Cheyenne is not only the feature of the tour, but the reason for its existence. The invitation to its "frontier days" celebration was accepted in Egypt, the first American date made by Colonel Roosevelt after his emergence from the African jungle.

Imagine the appeal that such an event would make to Colonel Roosevelt! Go? Why, of course he would go. He had himself been a cowboy in Montana. Anything that smacked of the old life was as meat and drink.

Real West at Cheyenne. At "frontier days" the most incorrigible of the outlaw horses are roped and ridden, the biggest steers are lassoed and tied in the quickest time, the wildest races are run, the best cowboys and cowgirls of the west compete and take prizes.

On the morning of Sept. 1 that Colonel Roosevelt leaves Cheyenne for Kansas City, arriving at noon. There he is the guest of the Commercial club and speaks at Convention hall.

Sioux Falls Once Famous. In the old days Sioux Falls was famous for those who got unmarried there, even as Reno is now. It is also celebrated as the home of R. F. Pettigrew and as the town in which a Populist national convention was once held in a tent.

No Details Needed. Mrs. Blank—the paper tells of a postmaster who was appointed by John Quincy Adams and has held the position ever since. Was he an unusually good man, do you think?

Covers the Middle West. On the morning of Sept. 7 Colonel Roosevelt journeys to Milwaukee, where he speaks at the silver anniversary of the Milwaukee Press club; on Sept. 8 he goes to Freeport, Ill., to address a picnic of the Railroad Brotherhood and on the same day departs for Chicago to become the guest of the Hamilton club.

in the same state as that in which he spent some of his days on the ranch. It is not until the morning of Sept. 9 that the colonel arrives in St. Paul, where he delivers the long headed address before the conservation congress.

One significant feature of the Roosevelt tour is that Gifford Pinchot or James R. Garfield, or both, speak with him at Denver, Osawatimie and St. Paul. They at least attach significance to this fact.

Argentine Plans Heavy Irrigation. By 1914 Argentina will have 1,235,522 acres of land under irrigation, supporting 50,000 people.

RAVAGES OF THE RAT. Dreadful Record of Disease That Marks His Loathsome Trail. For one of the most terrible of all diseases the rat is now certainly known to be responsible for the bubonic plague.

Effects of Flower Scents. Many strange cases are on record regarding the effects of the smell of flowers. "A foreign officer," said a medical man, "one night went to sleep with a number of bunches of oleander—
