POULTRY NOTES.

Aftermath of Exhibit of the Grays Harbor Poultry Association—Get Together Suggestions.

The show is over and a majority of the exhibitors are happy. All could not win premiums, but the donations by the merchants from both cities were liberal and could have been doubled had there been more time in which to have called on them. Many of the donors expressed themselves well pleased with the show and said that they did not regret what they had done to help make it a success.

There was much valuable information gained from the exhibit and it is to be hoped that next year the show can be held earlier in the season and that the judge can give us more time after the show to answer questions and explain the marking on the score cards. But Judge Dixon was called home on account of sickness of his wife and his brief stay should be overlooked on that account.

Some are sending in friendly criticisms to the secretary and a few "cussins," as it were, it all goes to make the show, hence it will come out in the wash, and after time for due consideration.

Few realize the time and work it takes to arrange for such an exhibit of this kind, but the show has had its effect, it has created a greater interest in fancy poultry and by the way advanced the prices to a certain extent. As an illustration: One lady exhibitor was offering to sell her birds at $2 each, and sold one after the score was made for $5, and the man who purchased it was offered $20 for his bargain and refused it, and another case where a member did not bring his bird on account of room, an enthusiast stepped around and paid him $30 for his pen—so much for the show; and there were many other sales that were the result of the birds being on exhibition.

Now is the time to forget the small differences and jealousies and bickerings and begin to work for the show next year which it is hoped will be held in a room three times the size of the one occupied this year, but it was the best that could be secured by the committee.

ACCUSED OF STEALING

E. E. Chamberlain, of Clinton, Me., boldly accuses Bucklen's Arnica Salve of stealing—the sting from burns or scalds—the pain from sores of all kinds—the distress from boils or piles. "It robs cuts, corns, bruises, sprains and injuries of their terror," he says, "as a healing remedy its equal don't exist." Only 25c at A. W. Shelley's. (1).
