

Housework Drudgery

Housework is drudgery for the weak woman. She brushes, dubs and scrubs, or is on her feet all day attending to the many details of the household, her back aching, her temples throbbing, nerves quivering under the stress of pain, possibly dizzy feelings. Sometimes rest in bed is not refreshing, because the poor tired nerves do not permit of refreshing sleep. The real need of weak, nervous women is satisfied by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

It Makes Weak Women Strong and Sick Women Well.

This "Prescription" removes the cause of women's weaknesses, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures those weaknesses so peculiar to women. It tranquilizes the nerves, encourages the appetite and induces restful sleep.

Dr. Pierce is perfectly willing to let every one know what his "Favorite Prescription" contains, a complete list of ingredients on the bottle-wrapper. Do not let any unscrupulous druggist persuade you that his substitute of unknown composition is "just as good" in order that he may make a bigger profit. Just smile and shake your head! Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cures liver ills.

INSANE MAN TAKES CHARGE OF SCHOOL

Joseph H. Schneider, Fisherman-Correspondent, is Taken from Washington School By Police

HOQUIAM, Nov. 8.—Joseph H. Schneider, a local fisherman, who has been furnishing considerable copy to the press of Chehalis county on various subjects, was taken into custody by the police this morning at the Washington school building, where he was teaching the pupils the "Universal Brotherhood of Man." Schneider entered the building and immediately took charge of Miss Evans' room, and when Miss Fox was called in and Miss Evans told her that an unknown man had taken possession of her room, Schneider reprimanded both teachers for interrupting his lessons. He told the children that he was going to be the president of Hoquiam and Aberdeen. Schneider has had considerable family trouble, his wife securing a divorce from him last Saturday, which has unbalanced his mind.

OYSTER STEW IN NEW ROLE

Famous Dish Used by Chef as Method of Protection Against Waiter Who Would Fight

A boiling oyster stew in the hands of the chef at the Butte cafe, was used as a protective measure yesterday, when he threw the boiling soup over "Slim" Dragolitch, burning him badly about the chest and arms. The men became engaged in a quarrel and "Slim", who is some fighter, proceeded to show his ability. The chef caught the boiling brew from the range and "Slim's" onslaught was stopped. He was taken to the police station, where a physician was called and his injuries dressed. Both men were arrested for fighting.

DREDGE IS REBUILT AND WILL RESUME WORK

Within Two Weeks, New Craft Will Begin Work of Filling in Flats of City

The dredge Tacoma, which sank in the Chehalis river last September, delaying the work of filling the flats in the west part of the city, has been rebuilt and will soon resume work.

The craft has been given a thorough overhauling and has been made stronger in every part. The company plans to launch the dredge this afternoon at high water.

The new dredge has water tight compartments, each fitted with a pump to prevent it sinking in case of a similar accident, while the machinery will be placed to accomplish the best results in pumping the sand.

Oats Are Growing

That the sand being pumped from the bay will not injure the value of lots for gardening purposes, can be gleaned from the fact that oats, sowed several weeks ago on a high spot near Heron and Michigan streets, are sprouting. The blades are several inches above the ground, which demonstrates that the sand garden will be as productive as the swampy land.

LAD HAS NARROW ESCAPE

Ted Wolkowicz had a narrow escape from drowning at Renies' island, Tuesday, and had it not been for timely assistance, would have gone to a watery grave. Ted fell into one of the sloughs on the island and could not swim. His brother and a companion caught hold of the gun he was carrying and hauled him back to the flats.

MANY ALLOTMENTS MADE

Indians Are Given Holdings in Quinault Reservation, Consisting of 80 acres of Land

More than 700 members of the Quinault, Quillute and Queets tribes of Indians, have been given allotments by the government in the Quinault Indian reserve. The work has been under the supervision of F. R. Archer, who has been in the services of the government for several years. The total number of allotments to be made will be in the neighborhood of 2500. The Indians are given 80 acres of land, half of that amount being timber and the other half of agricultural land. The surveying camp is located near the Queets, and this has necessitated the packing of provisions a long distance. The Indians seem satisfied with the allotments.

Milady's Mirror

To Keep Straight Hair in Curl.
On damp days the girl whose hair is curly by reason of the hot iron rather than the permanent hand of obliging nature is in grave danger of losing all the effect of bygone fluffiness. Her friends, accustomed as they are to seeing her face framed in waves, are at a loss to explain the straggly appearance of her crowning glory.

Hot irons sooner or later are fatal to the hair. No matter how careful one may be in applying them, the day will come when the temperature will be forgotten because of haste or forgetfulness, and a dead, lusterless strand of hair will mar the beauty of the entire mass. In the days of cumbersome curl papers there was some excuse for the use of hot irons, but in these times of up to date and convenient devices for curling the hair, curling irons should have no place on the dressing table, being left entirely to the professional hairdressers.

A few harmless preparations for keeping the hair in curl are given:
For dark hair dissolve twelve grains of carbonate of potash in half a pint of rather strong black tea. Moisten the hair with this mixture before putting it up in curls.
For blond hair a mixture of one ounce of borax, one dram of gum arabic and eight ounces of hot water is best. Dissolve the borax and gum arabic in the hot water and bottle for use. Use the same as the preparation for dark hair.

Hints For Insomnia.

First of all it is necessary to lie correctly in bed. Do not curl up, but place the limbs straight, so as to induce the best circulation. Lie on the right side. If you are on your back you invite dreams, if on the left side you cramp the heart and digestive organs. Insomnia often comes from hunger. If you have been long without eating, take a glass of milk and a biscuit or many times a glass of water will be sufficient. A hot drink before retiring is conducive to sleep, and the greatest necessity of all is to have warm feet. As for the mental part of it, the idea is to make the brain run in as monotonous a strain as possible, and that is why the old plan of counting imaginary sheep jumping over a stile is usually successful. As the brain becomes fagged the sheep go more and more languidly, and sleep soon follows. One of the best plans for going to sleep is to make up one's mind to be resolutely staying awake. If you lie quietly and think out some plan for the next day or say to yourself you will just lie quietly till sleep overtakes you you will find yourself "dropping off" almost before you know it. It is all nonsense to say, "Oh, I should go mad if I were to lie awake for a long time." It is merely that we have grown into the habit of thinking that when we go to bed we must sleep, but most of us sleep as well as eat more than we need, and if we regard the fact of being snugly tucked in bed as sufficiently restful the horror of lying awake will pass. If too much notice of insomnia is not taken it will usually cure itself.

A Stretching Exercise.

It imparts elasticity. And it is good for one. It will lift the vital organs. It gives strength and poise to the body. The clothing must be loose and comfortable.

To begin any exercise one must stand erect.

The chest should be high, the head up and the chin in.

The body should rest on the balls of the feet, not on the heels.

At first it may be enough to breathe deeply and slowly (mouth closed) standing thus.

This alone is a fine thing if practiced in the open air or before a window open top and bottom for five or ten minutes twice a day.

Now for the stretching. Sweep the arms slowly outward and upward until they touch above the head, lifting the chest walls and stretching the arms.

Lower the arms with the same sweep, stretching them all the time. Five times will be enough at first, breathing deeply and slowly all the time.

New Powder Puff.

Novelty counters have lately exhibited one charming bit of silverware that while it fascinates the beholder, inspires at the same time the question, "What can it be good for?" This exquisite frivolity is termed "a body puff." In a large silver bowl for powder is an equally large puff, to which is attached a long silver handle, rather like the handle of a carriage parasol. Its length is its strong point, or, one might say, its long suit, since it enables the user to reach shoulder and heel with equal ease, but the appearance of this useful handle as it projects from the side of the silver bowl is somewhat surprising. This novelty is found in the empire pattern, a fine tracery of lines forming a background that suggests brocade, with square decorations superimposed on the lines. At present the prices run up to $50, but there is little doubt that long handled powder puffs will prove so convenient that they will soon be reproduced in less costly style.

IDEALS FOR YOUNG PEOPLE.

Next Sunday night at the Christian church, Third and L, Marion F. Horn, pastor of the church, will begin a series of special sermon-lectures on "Ideals for Young People." The special subject Sunday night is "The Ideal Young Woman," from the standpoint of young men of Aberdeen. Many answers to the following questions will be read:

- 1.—Must the ideal young woman be a christian? Why?
- 2.—Will she use slang or profane speech or lead a poodle? Give reasons.
- 3.—Are dancing, card playing or wine drinking accomplishments which you admire in her? Explain.
- 4.—Does it mar or help her to be able to keep house or make her own clothes?
- 5.—Shall she help to make her own living?
- 6.—Shall we judge her by the same standard of morals by which we judge young men? Why?
- 7.—What quality or qualities do you most admire in young women?
- 8.—What are some common faults of young women?

Come to the Christian church Sunday night and hear these questions answered by Aberdeen young men. Sermon-lecture by the pastor. Young men, bring or send answers to these questions. The second address will be "The Ideal Young Man," from the standpoint of young women of Aberdeen. Hear every one.
