CREDIT ASSOCIATION.
Grays Harbor Credit Association Hold Annual Meeting and Elects Officers Wednesday Night.
The annual meeting of the Grays Harbor Credit Association was held at the Hotel Grayport, Hoquiam, Wednesday night, at which the following trustees were elected: O. I. Tegland, Hoquiam; E. A. Orr, Aberdeen; J. L. Neubert, Cosmopolis. They elected three officers: President, L. B. Hogan, Cosmopolis; vice president, F. A. Cook, Hoquiam; secretary-treasurer, W. M. Brock, Aberdeen.
The weights and measures act discussed and suggestions were offered that commissioners follow more closely the spirit and not the letter of the law. Sentiments were also expressed favorable to endorsement at a future meeting of the proposed law to prevent killing of veal.
The association favored charging interest on all past due accounts, as it was proven merchants must borrow money and pay interest, therefore to meet their bills.
The secretary of the state association is to be invited to attend the next meeting to discuss the feasibility of this organization joining the state association.
L. B. Hogan, the president, gave a very interesting talk on the outcome of last year's business and lessons learned which suggest new methods of doing business.
Thirty members were present and enjoyed a banquet before the business session began.
ODD FELLOWS MAY BUILD FINE NEW HOME
The I. O. O. F. lodge of this city which owns two valuable building sites, one on the corner of Market and K streets and the other on Market and F streets, is contemplating the erection of a fine hall in the very near future. This step would have been taken long ago had it not been for the big drain on the lodge exchequer, amounting to $4100 for street improvements. This, however, is all paid and the order is once more filling its treasury and will, it is announced, build a modern home, but as to which of the two sites will be used has not as yet been agreed upon by the lodge officials, but many are of the opinion that F and Market streets will be the chosen site for the new fireproof structure which is contemplated by the trustees.

MAY IRWIN DEFENDS RAG TIME
Star of "Widow By Proxy" Says Most of its Critics Secretly Admire it.
Persons who turn up their noses at rag time in public and surreptitiously pick it out with one finger in the privacy of their own music rooms are not at all popular with May Irwin, the actress, who is a staunch champion of the syncopated song. Miss Irwin believes that there is too much dodging the question on the part of the American public where rag time is concerned. She thinks the huge demand for rag time proves that the majority of persons like it, and that this fact assures it of a long life to come.
"What I can't understand," says the buxom star of "Widow by Proxy," the sprightly farce which ran the season out at George M. Cohan's theatre, New York, and which comes to the Grand shortly, "is the position so many persons assume with reference to rag time. There are persons I know who profess a love for the highest type of music and who frown in public at the mention of rag time—why, I can't see—but many of these same persons in the privacy of their homes, safe from outside criticism, will listen to the rag time records on their phonographs and really enjoy them. Now, why is that? What is wrong with rag time, anyway?"
"I think there ought to be a more rational view taken of this subject. Ragtime is not a sudden or brief craze on the part of the American public. We've had it for years and years and it hasn't been forced on the public either. The large demand is the cause of the large supply, and the demand is growing constantly. I believe it has become so much a part of the American music that it will thrive for a very long time. I think it should be recognized just as any other form of music is recognized. With all its simple notes, it seems an easy task to sing and play it correctly; but there are few artists who really present it as it should be presented. When I want to hear real rag time played I have to ask one particular man, a former accompanist of mine, to come and play for me. That shows you it is just as much of an art, just as difficult of accomplishment as any other form of music.
"If rag time music is cheap and common, as people say, it ought to be within the power of any one to write good rag time songs. Yet good composers of rag time are very scarce. There are few song writers like Irving Berlin, for example. His kind is always as scarce as the good composers of operas. I wouldn't be surprised to hear some day of a rag time opera written by him. Yet these writers stick to rag time because the demand for it will never die. And because of that demand I can't see why there should be any real prejudice toward it."
May Irwin will appear at the Grand theatre, Tuesday, January 27.

The American Adding Machine
The Latest Adder Costs But $35
See Our Exhibit Ask for 10 Days' Trial
Here is a new price on a competent Adder. On a machine that is rapid, full-size and infallible.
The very latest machine, built by men who know, in one of the largest metal-working shops.
It is an individual Adder, to be placed on one's desk, close to one's books and papers. To take the place of the central machine requiring skilled operators.
It is also intended for offices and stores where costly machines are a luxury.
The price is due to utter simplicity, and to our enormous output. Seven keys do all the work.
Each copied number is shown up for checking before the addition is made.
The machine will add, subtract and multiply. With very slight practice anyone can compute a hundred figures a minute. And the machine never makes mistakes.
Countless offices, large and small, are getting from these machines the highest class of service.
Now we make this offer so that offices everywhere may learn what this machine means to them.
We will gladly place in any office one American Adder for a ten days' test.
There will be no obligation, and charges will be prepaid.
Compare it with any non-lister—even the costliest. Let anyone use it. See if any machine can serve better than this.
Just send us this coupon and we'll send the machine.
Please send us an American Adding Machine for ten days' free trial.
