HOW UNCLE SAM TRAINS HIS ARMY

System of Education Unlike Those of Other Nations.

REASON FOR THE DIFFERENCE

Foreign Theory is That Only Small Part of Officers Need Technical and Scientific Schooling, Whereas American Idea is to Fit an Officer for a Higher Post at a Moment's Notice.

How Uncle Sam keeps the officers and men in his army up to the top notch of efficiency is told in a special report on "Educational Systems in the American Army" in the annual report of the commissioner of education. The statement was prepared by Captain Douglas MacArthur.

"No country in the world has as complete a system of professional scholastic training for its officers as the United States," declares Captain MacArthur. "This is due to the inherent difference between the military establishments of foreign nations and that of our own. Their armies are at all times kept up to a war footing, as a result of which they have ample opportunity for the perfect training of the personnel in the practical duties of the military profession."

"In such an army the main object is to train every man for the efficient performance of his duties in the grade which he holds when war comes. A lieutenant does not dream of becoming a captain merely as the result of war except as a vacancy is made for him in the casualties of battle. Only in the same way does a captain expect to become a colonel; nor would the idea be tolerated that great numbers of trained lieutenants are to be suddenly transferred to various staff positions."

"Take Mystery From War." "Their organizations are founded upon the theory that there is nothing mysterious in the art of war, that technical and scientific training is needed by only a small portion of military officers and that certain things which a Napoleon must know every officer must know and can as readily acquire as he, while those things which differentiate a Napoleon from other generals cannot be acquired in any school, not even in that of war."

"Such a system would be thoroughly unsound if transplanted to the American army, the organization of which is quite different from continental armies. In fact, the most striking feature in our service is the absence of what constitutes the very essence of the foreign establishments—that is, a great standing army serving in corps, divisions and brigades, in which the average officer of any grade learns the details of his profession by practical work and the minimum of theory."

"Our system of military education must therefore differ from that of the other great nations of the world. It must be such as to educate our officers so that they will be able at a moment's notice when the war expansion comes to perform the duties of far advanced grades and to render service in branches of the army, both line and staff, in which they are not commissioned in time of peace. For this reason we have established a progressive system of schools designed to teach officers and men, limited only by their individual capacities for its assimilation, the duty of the man in arms in all grades from lowest to highest."

Schools of the Service. "The military educational system of the United States comprises: The Military academy at West Point for the education of cadets, post schools for the instruction of enlisted men, garrison schools for the instruction of officers in subjects pertaining to the performance of their ordinary duties, the army service schools at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., including the Army School of the Line, the Army Staff college, the Army Signal school, the Army Field Engineer school, the Army Field Medical and Correspondence school for medical officers; the special service schools, consisting of the Engineer school, Washington barracks; the Coast Artillery school, Fort Monroe, Va.; the Mounted Service school, Fort Riley, Kan.; the Army Medical school, Washington; the School of Fire and Field Artillery, Fort Sill, Okla.; the School of Musketry, Fort Sill, Okla.; the Signal Corps Aviation school, San Diego, Cal.; the schools for bakers and cooks, Washington barracks, and Presidio of San Francisco; the Training school for saddlers and for battery mechanics of field artillery, Rock Island (Ill.) arsenal; the School of Instruction for enlisted men of the regular army selected for detail for duty in the organized militia; the general trade schools, the Army War College, Washington; the schools of instruction for college students and the departments of civil institutions, in which officers of the regular army are under the instruction."

DID YOU EVER THINK? Did you ever think as a horse passed by That it would not be long until you or I Would be taking a ride in that black plumed hack? And never remember the coming back?

Did you ever think as you strive for gold That a dead man's hand can't a dollar hold? No matter how much you earn or save You must leave it all when you go to the grave.

Business Men In Philippines Fear Autonomy. By ROBERT LUCE, Former Lieutenant Governor of Massachusetts.

I DID NOT SEE A SINGLE AMERICAN INHABITANT IN THE PHILIPPINES WHO FAVORS AUTONOMY. ALL THE SOUND BUSINESS MEN, NATIVE AND FOREIGN, FEAR IT. I AM TOLD THAT HENDERSON S. MARTIN, THE NEW VICE GOVERNOR AND SECRETARY OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION, IS ALREADY CONVINCED THAT OUR AUTHORITY MUST CONTINUE AND THAT CLINTON RIGGS, ANOTHER MEMBER OF THE PHILIPPINE COMMISSION, IS WAVERING AND READY TO BOLT. GOVERNOR HARRISON WILL FOLLOW.

I have nothing to say against Governor Harrison personally. He is working hard. But it is impossible to sympathize with a policy that means present instability and future disaster.

EVEN AGAINST THE BEST EFFORTS OF THE AMERICAN AUTHORITIES THE PRESENT NATIVE POLITICIANS HAVE CONTRIVED TO MAKE EVERY ELECTION YET HELD IN THE ISLANDS MORE OR LESS CORRUPT.

Horticulture Profession Makes Women Independent. By Mrs. EDITH LORING FULLER, Agricultural Association.

A SPECIAL school of horticulture is needed for the increasing number of women who wish to be able to combine their occupation with their home life and for those who are looking for newer, wider fields of remunerative activity.

THERE IS NO OCCUPATION THAT GIVES A WOMAN MORE HONORABLE INDEPENDENCE THAN THE PROFESSION OF HORTICULTURE. IT AFFORDS OPPORTUNITY FOR FINANCIAL GAIN AND CERTAINLY CONTRIBUTES ABUNDANTLY TO THE HEALTH AND HAPPINESS OF THE INDIVIDUAL. FURTHERMORE, THE EXTENSION OF HORTICULTURAL ACTIVITIES IN AMERICA IS DESIRABLE AND NECESSARY. THE OLD WORLD HAS MANY SCHOOLS OF GARDENING FOR WOMEN—IN ENGLAND, GERMANY, BELGIUM, DENMARK AND RUSSIA—AND THEY HAVE LONG PASSED THE EXPERIMENTAL STAGE.

Obstinacy is a parasite, living either on a strong will or on great stupidity.
