AGED WOMAN IS FOUND DROWNED

Body of Mrs. Ione Sedgwick Hart, Aged 75, Is Found in the Wishkah River

When Walter Young went to his motor boat, moored in the Wishkah river near his North Aberdeen home, Wednesday morning, he was startled to discover the body of a woman under the boat. The body was that of Mrs. Ione Sedgwick Hart, 75 years of age, mother of Nat. Hart, city electrician, who had been missing since early Tuesday afternoon.

Whether the woman accidentally fell into the stream and was drowned or whether she committed suicide is not known for a certainty, although the former is the general assumption. She has been in the habit of taking long walks into the country and being a lover of books, frequently visited the public library. She told friends yesterday afternoon she planned to visit the library after she had finished packing her trunk in readiness to return to Walla Walla. It was not until night that the woman's absence caused alarm. Then a search failed to locate her. The next morning, when Young was about to step into his motor boat, he was horrified to see the woman's body under it. He notified the police and Coroner R. F. Hunter and the body was removed to the Whiteside morgue.

Mrs. Hart was born in Louisville, in 1839 and was a life long member of the Methodist church. She also was a member of the Women's Relief Corps. Since her husband died five years ago she had lived at Walla Walla, except the short time she had resided with her son here. The accepted theory is that the woman stepped into the river in the darkness. Besides the son here, two married daughters survive. The remains will be shipped to Walla Walla for interment beside the husband.

FITZGERALD LANDS MOTORCYCLE THIEVES

Deputy Sheriff Trails Thieves to Toledo and Wires Seattle Police Who Nab Men.

MONTESSANO, July 30.—Sam Ross and Sam Ferry—with several aliases—were arrested in Seattle as a result of some good detective work by Deputy Sheriff Fitzgerald. One of the men had bought a motorcycle making one payment down. The other had stolen one. They had skipped from Seattle, and it was discovered they were headed toward this county and the sheriff's office was notified.

Fitz was assigned to the job. He found the men had been in the county. He traced them to Centralia and then to Toledo. The men kept ahead of him, but he learned they had sold one wheel for $150 and they were going to ship the other to San Francisco and sail for that city themselves. He telephoned Seattle to watch the San Francisco steamers with the result that within 24 hours the men were arrested as they were about to take passage on the steamer President.

CIRCULAR SAWS WILL MARK THE COUNTY ROADS

MONTESSANO, July 29.—The circular saws have been secured and will be used as mile signs on the Olympic highway. The saws will be painted white and the lettering will be in black. Each sign will have, besides the road sign, the name of the next town and the distance to it. For instance, one mile out of Montesano going toward Aberdeen the Montesano side will read, "Aberdeen 11 miles," and the opposite side will read, "Montesano 1 mile."

The saws are secured, having been donated by the mill men, and the painting is contracted for. Engineer H. S. Shorey is now preparing the wording for each saw.

DECLINES TO JOIN

MONTESSANO, July 30.—At a meeting of the Montesano Commercial club held last evening, the matter of joining with the cities of Grays Harbor in securing a permanent water supply, was thoroughly discussed, and it was decided that it would not be to the advantage of this city to join in the undertaking.

CONGRESSMAN JOHNSON FILES

Albert Johnson Filed Declaration for Renomination on Republican Ticket Yesterday.

OLYMPIA, July 30.—Congressman Albert Johnson today filed his declaration of candidacy for re-nomination on the Republican ticket. With his application and fee, Mr. Johnson forwarded from Washington a brief statement, which follows:

"I have today filed a declaration of my candidacy for re-nomination on the Republican ticket as representative in congress from the Third Congressional District. As the Sixty-third congress is still in session, I do not feel that I can come home to conduct a personal primary campaign, but will have to content myself with this direct appeal to the citizens of Southwest Washington for their support—not only in the primaries, but on election day. If re-nominated and re-elected, I shall continue to strive with all of the activity and ability at my command to serve not only all of the citizens of the district, but of the state."

MRS. McMILLAN RETURNS HOME

HOQUIAM, July 30.—After an absence of about 17 months Mrs. S. S. McMillan returned to Hoquiam Monday night, glad, she says, to be home again. During her absence from the Harbor Mrs. McMillan spent several months in Europe, a large portion of her time in Washington, D. C., and Atlantic coast cities, and a few months ago, starting westward, she attended the National Federation of Women's Clubs in Chicago, and has spent the past few weeks in Glacier national park. She tells entertainingly of her extended trip, her impressions of Europe and the many noted and famous personages she met abroad, as well as her sight seeing expeditions both in Europe and upon her return to America.

REDMEN ADJOURN.

HOQUIAM, July 30.—The two-day session of the great councils of the Improved Order of Redmen and the Degree of Peahontas for the Washington reservation came to an end yesterday, both councils concluding their annual business with the afternoon sessions. Many delegates to both councils left for their homes by the late train, but the great majority remained over for the evening, and were guests of the Hoquiam Automobile club and Hoquiam Commercial Club on an auto tour of the city and vicinity.

BOYS ROB SHIP.

HOQUIAM, July 30.—Ransacking the captain's cabin of the four-masted schooner Sophie Christensen, which is in the river, three youths ranging from 15 to 17 years in age, and from respectable families were sought by the police yesterday. Two of the boys were arrested but the third was still at large last night.

Of the loot alleged to have been secured, only a marine glass, a revolver and a razor had been recovered last night.

TWO ARE SENTENCED

MONTESSANO, July 30.—John Mattson, of Elma, who went on a rampage recently, knocked the night watchman down, took his stick away from him and beat him into insensibility, was sentenced to three months in the county jail by Judge Sheeks today. Wm. Sigel, of Aberdeen, who stole a couple of second hand watches, got seven months.

OLEANDERS OF BERMUDA.

In Summer Time They Fairly Run Riot Over the Islands.

Back in the fifties, when Anthony Trollope held a roving commission as postoffice inspector for the British government, he visited Bermuda, then practically unknown to any people save mariners. The distinguished author said some uncomplimentary things about the native Bermudians, much to their amusement, but he could not help praising the scenery of their island home and particularly the oleanders. He voted that Bermuda should be called the "Oleander Isles."

Curiously enough, Bermuda is better known as the home of the onion and the Easter lily, to say nothing of the potato and the rose, although the oleander is the most gorgeous and conspicuous shrub in the islands. Shrub is hardly the word to describe the oleander. It is really a tree, lifting its top twenty feet in the air and growing in thickets that the island planters use as screens or windbreaks.

In summer the hedges are covered with a profusion of pink, white and crimson blossoms that last well into the autumn and make great washes of color on the hills and at the roadside. The oleander has no enemies. Animals refuse to touch it, and the tree runs its riotous way all over the islands. Those who visit Bermuda only in winter miss the glory of the oleander blossoms and also many of the other gorgeous flowers. While there is plenty of bloom in the winter months, the array of flowers is even greater in summer.—New York Post.

MOTHER'S BAKING DAY.

Modern Conditions Make It Practically a Thing of the Past.

We do not propose either to affirm or to deny that the bakers make better bread—than "mother used to make." There used to be as many kinds of mothers as there are now varieties of bakers. And comparisons are odious.

But the baker is to be hailed as one of the chief benefactors of the age, on grounds which take no account of the relative merits of bread. He has emancipated women, at least one day out of the week. He has given a vast army of mothers more time to perform the duties other than those which have to do with the kitchen.

It needs no patriarch to remember what baking day used to be like. In summer's heat the stove had to be fired up to the melting point, and mother had to knead the dough until her back ached, and stick around in the kitchen lest the crust become too hard, and watch against a hundred other chances which are to be expected when the heat releases the chemical action of the ingredients in the bread pan.

Baking day is a thing of the past in thousands of homes—at least, the old fashioned baking day is. The bread may be better or worse, but the baker is to be regarded as a benefactor in that he has practically put an end to that old roasting experience which formerly came to every woman at least one day out of seven.—St. Louis Times.

Why It is the St. Lawrence.

The St. Lawrence river owes its name to the accidental conjunction of the festival of St. Lawrence with the day upon which the first explorer imagined he had discovered the river. Jacques Cartier in 1534 heard from the natives of the Magdalen Islands of a mighty stream threading the continent to an unknown source, and it was while testing this legend that he sailed up the gulf until he could see the land on each side. In the following year he made a bolder expedition with three ships and the blessing of the Bishop of St. Malo. He sailed past Rimouski and on to Quebec, then known by the Indians as Stadacona. Here the fleet anchored. The French, however, failed in their efforts to colonize the country until a century had passed, largely owing to their high handed treatment of the Indians.—London Chronicle.

Tragic Wager.

In 1895 three Irishmen agreed to undertake a journey around the earth on foot for a pool of $150,000. Each one of the party deposited one-third of this sum in the Bank of Dublin, and it was agreed that whoever survived the trip and returned should receive the whole amount. In case all died a Dublin hospital was to become the beneficiary. On Dec. 24, 1895, they started east across Europe and Asia Minor to Egypt, where they took passage for Australia. Their wanderings through the inner wastes of Australia proved the hardest trials of the journey, and the severity of this trip resulted in the death of two of the travelers. The third, Captain Trevelyan, completed the voyage and won the money.
