PYTHIAN FLAG CELEBRATION

Star Spangled Banner Celebration by the Knights of Pythias Big Success

PATRIOTISM IS RAMPANT

Big Parade Is Greeted on Streets by Multitude—Patriotic Speeches

The observance of "Star Spangled Banner" day by the local Knights of Pythias Friday evening was a success on two ways. First it brought the fraternal organizations, having for the most part kindred purposes, and, second, it proved conclusively the sentiment of Aberdeen toward the flag that today stands almost alone in the world for the utmost freedom compatible with liberty of individual action.

The weather was fine, the parade large and impressive, and the exercises at the Pythian Castle Hall on East First street, all that could be desired. Thousands lined the streets on the line of the parade, and gathered in a multitude in front of the Pythian Temple, where a temporary stage had been erected for the exercises.

The parade, which left Pythian Temple shortly after 7:30, and concluded there, was in the following order:

- Platoon of Police.
- Aberdeen City Band.
- Company G, N. G. W.
- Fourth Division Naval Militia.
- Grand Army and Spanish War veterans, Daughters of the Revolution, Woman's Relief Corps and G. A. R. club, all in autos.

Mayor France, Judge Chadwick, City council and city officials and Pythian officers in autos.

Wishkah Lodge, No. 44, Knights of Pythias, headed by the Uniform Rank. Other fraternal orders.

Patriotic citizens in autos decorated with flags.

The program at the Temple upon the return of the parade was as follows:

Music by band.

Address of Welcome—A. E. Graham.

Invocation—Rev. McDermoth.

Singing of "Star Spangled Banner" and raising of flag, followed immediately by a salute of military companies.

Address—Judge S. J. Chadwick.

Band.

Quartette.

Address—H. E. Holmquist.

"America," by assembly.

Benediction—Rev. F. F. W. Greene.

Probably the most beautiful and impressive part of the program was the raising of the great flag and the simultaneous release of the two hundred smaller flags converging to an apex in four lines from the ground to the top of the flag staff. The absence of all decorations other than the flag was also noticeable and impressive feature of the celebration.

At the close of the invocation by Rev. McDermoth, at a signal, the searchlight located on top of the Finch building threw its rays upon the flag staff, and the bugler of Company G sounded the salute to the flag. At the same time the searchlight on top of the Moose building was thrown on the tower of the city hall and a second bugler located there echoed the salute and the city hall flag was run up.

The entire proceedings were such as to produce cheer after cheer.

DRURY WILL MAKE FIGHT

Democratic Nominee for Congress Already Planning a Vigorous Campaign

OPENS HEADQUARTERS

Opens Offices in Tacoma, and Will Make Aggressive Fight for the Election

TACOMA, Sept. 14.—Taking time by the forelock the friends of Charles Drury, the Democratic nominee for congressman in Southwestern Washington, have already selected spacious headquarters on the sixth floor of the big National Realty building and are beginning a vigorous campaign. Mr. Drury and his managers will have their offices in rooms 621 and 622, while alongside in rooms 623 and 624 the Democratic county committee will have its headquarters.

The Pierce County Women's Democratic League will have headquarters during the campaign in room 625 adjoining. One of the prime features of the political activity will be the work of the women's league, which is being splendidly organized and is already a most effective unit of power.

Candidate Drury's friends will in a few days formally inaugurate his campaign with a mass meeting and old-time Democratic love feast at which leading Democratic speakers of the state will be present and take part.

This meeting will sound the keynote of the campaign and define the lines along which the fight will be conducted.

A patriotic support of President Wilson and the constructive policies of the Wilson administration will be the star feature of Candidate Drury's speaking and campaign work.

Mr. Drury profoundly believes that an overwhelming majority of people in the district favor President Wilson and his constructive legislation, and that to consistently represent the district in Washington the congressman elected must also be a conscientious supporter of the president.

Drury clubs are already being talked of and the organization of these will be a feature of the campaign.

E. L. Hiberly, a prominent state Democrat and close friend of Mr. Drury, said Saturday morning:

"We mean to press the congressional fight in Southwestern Washington a little harder and make it a little warmer this fall than in any previous campaign since this district was organized."

"We very sensibly feel that President Wilson and his progressive legislation should be supported by the Southwest of this state. At present the district, through its representative at Washington, stands in violent antagonism to the administration. This is widely at variance with the true sentiment of the people of Southwestern Washington who very positively and almost to a person admire the president and loyally support his measures."

"The great question at Washington, therefore, is why should this district, believing in and standing for the administration, have a congressman there fighting the administration?"

"The people of the Southwest now stand ready, we believe, to repudiate this situation, and with a standard-bearer like Mr. Drury, who is and has been passionately supporting the president and his policies, all the admirers of the Wilson administration have the opportunity to place their sanction and approval on the deeds of the president by casting their vote for the man who will go down to Washington and loyally support him."

PRESENT LOVING CUP TO W. J. PATTERSON

An interesting feature of the opening of the Grays Harbor Golf and Country club Saturday evening was the presentation to W. J. Patterson, founder of the club, of a handsome silver loving cup, the gift of the women members. The presentation was made on behalf of the ladies by George B. Maxwell.

A. L. Davenport and Mrs. L. G. Humbarger, winners of the day's handicap tournament, were each presented with a golf club.

WATER MEETING TODAY

Representatives of the cities interested in the Wynoochee water project is being held at the city hall as the Herald goes to press. The meeting will take cognizance of the petitions signed so far, and, it is expected, will decide whether or not to submit the question to a vote at the November elections.

OAKVILLE FAIR OPENS THURSDAY

Display of Chehalis County Grown Products Will be Bigger than Ever

OAKVILLE, Sept. 12.—Thursday, September 17, will be opening day for Oakville's fourth annual fair, which will last during the 18th, 19th and 20th. The buildings and grounds are now in readiness and all who have promised bring in exhibits, all available space will be taken. The recent rains have been just what was needed to lay the dust and put the track in good shape for the races. The best of weather is now expected for the four days of the fair. Oakville has always had a good fair, but this year it expects to outclass all former efforts. The fair association has erected a new poultry building and also additional stock sheds. The farmers are arranging to make the livestock feature of the fair more attractive than ever. The fine horses, cattle, sheep, hogs and poultry you will see at the Oakville fair will be brought in by the progressive farmers of this vicinity. Stock will not be shipped here from the state agricultural schools and from stock farms in other portions of the state, but it will be the same grade of stock found at the farms in this community.

The produce and fruit grown in the vicinity of Oakville is what usually makes the Chehalis county fair really worth seeing. The Oakville fair will have splendid displays of Chehalis county-grown products. Plenty of amusement features have been provided. Some 20 or more concessions have been sold, which include the usual attractions found at a county fair. The Oakville band will furnish music. The Chehalis Indians will be a special feature of the fair, as they will give that ancient and interesting game, the bone gamble, and also a blood-curdling war dance. Friday will be Gate, Rochester and Grand Mound day. Saturday will be Elma and East End day, and Sunday will be Grays Harbor day.

DEATH TOLLS IN LOGGING CAMP

Grim Reaper Overtakes Two Workmen in Logging Camps Within Two Days

Ora C. Beatty, aged 30 years, met his death Saturday while working in the Coats-Fordney logging camp. Beatty's work was to follow the logs on the skid road, what is termed in the woods, a "chaser", and was struck by a flying cable after the donkey engine had freed the line from a brush wedge. He was immediately brought to St. Joseph's hospital, where he died in a few hours without having regained consciousness.

Beatty was quite well known on Grays Harbor, where he followed the occupation of woodsman for several years. His father is now living in Arizona, and the body is at the White-side undertaking parlors, awaiting instructions as to the burial. Later: A cousin, C. H. Beatty, of Centralia, arrived in the city last night, when informed of the death of his relative, and has taken charge of the remains.

HARRY SMITH KILLED

The hazardous work of the woods claimed another victim yesterday morning, at the Wilson Bros. & Co. camp east of Oakville, when Harry Smith, an employe of the camp was instantly killed in a most peculiar manner. While a timber faller was driving a wedge into a cut, a sharp slice broke from the steel wedge, and flew with the velocity of a bullet, striking Smith in the throat, severing the jugular vein. Death was instantaneous. Dan McGillicuddy, manager of the camp was in Aberdeen, and was notified of the unfortunate accident, and that the coroner of Lewis county had been notified and the body taken to Centralia.

ELMA SETS A PACE

Thriving Little City Sets a Mark That Larger Ones Might Copy With Good Profit.

ELMA, Sept. 14.—According to the estimate of expenses just compiled by the Elma town council, the tax levy for the town this year will be only nine mills. It is not believed that there is another town in Southwest Washington the size of Elma that will have as low an estimate. By an economic policy the levy has been reduced from 20 mills during the past few years, and at the same time needed improvements were made and the town went ahead. The estimate for 1915 includes $3,000 for reducing the municipal debt to $5,000. Improvements made during the past year included water main extensions to the amount of $2,500. The levy for the Elma school district will be about 14 mills.

GERMANS ARE FORCED FROM FRENCH TERRITORY

ENGLISH AND FRENCH ALLIES PUSH KAISER'S ARMY INTO GERMANY — RETREAT IS THE WORD ALONG THE LINE

NEXT BATTLE WILL BE ON GERMAN SOIL

FRENCH PREDICT GERMAN RETREAT WILL PROVE VERITABLE ROUT — GERMAN ARMY RETREATING BUT FIGHTING HARD

PARIS, Tuesday, Sept. 15.—It is generally believed the next phase of the war will take place in German territory. The allies, according to experts, will endeavor to prevent the German armies, should they succeed in eluding capture, from taking strong defensive positions near the frontier.

Larger bodies of fresh troops are understood to have been sent forward to assist the pursuit and many more are ready to share in the chase.

It is the opinion of the best military observers here the German army under command of Crown Prince Frederick William is in a critical position. The French have driven the Germans from a position north of Rheims and threaten the retreat to the west of the Argonne region.

It is felt the crown prince is liable to be surrounded and forced to capitulate. This would result in breaking the German host in two. The alternative before the prince will be to try to force his way through south of Verdun. It is a dangerous expedient in view of the array of forts at this point.

LONDON, Sept. 14.—Except the army which has been attacking Verdun, the German forces in France have fallen back all along the line. From Nancy to Vosges they have withdrawn from French territory, while on the extreme right, Gen. von Kluck and Gen. von Buelow continue to retreat northeast before the French and British, even giving up their defensive position on the River Aisne between Compeigne and Soissons.

Further west the Germans who held Amiens have moved north-eastward to try to rejoin the German army on the right of St. Quentin. It is possible all Germans in the northwest have done likewise, otherwise they would be in danger of being cut off in the center. Another defensive position behind Rheims has been given up in the Argonne region, a general retreat taking place toward the forest of Belnouse and Triancourt.

The allies are pushing their advantage and doing their utmost to turn the retreat into a disaster.

While the allies' left is composed largely of fresh troops, with a heavy force of cavalry under him Gen. Pau is wheeling around so as to drive Gens. von Kluck and von Buelow toward Ardennes and Luxembourg. Gen. Pau's army, by a few more marches by La Fere and Laon, might cut the communication between the retreating Germans and Belgium. The British, who took nearly all the crossings on the Aisne, now are north of the river, and are pushing an attack that would assist in forcing the Germans to evacuate Rheims.

The center, somewhere between Chalons and Rheims, is making efforts to recapture Rheims. The Belgians, who have received new big guns and reinforcements from somewhere, by sorties from Antwerp have prevented the Germans from sending more of their troops out of Belgium to the south.

All news today seems to confirm Russian reports that a crushing defeat has been inflicted on the Austrians. The Germans who reinforced the Austrians shared the defeat. They are endeavoring to reach the fortress at Przemsyl and in the rear endeavoring to keep off the pursuing Russian cavalry.

PETROGRAD, Sept. 14.—(Official.)—"On the Austrian front the Russians are crossing the San river. In taking a position near Aaava the Russians captured 30 cannon, 800 prisoners and enormous stores of war material and provisions. The results of the pursuit of the enemy in that territory are unknown. In the marshes of Belgoraion the Russians found Austrian batteries sunk in the mud and abandoned. On the right bank of the Dneister the Austrians have been thrown back on Dorogobuzh, 55 miles east of Smolensk. Czzenowirthe, chief town of the crownland of Bukovina, and all neighboring regions have been occupied by the Russians without resistance."

ROME, Sept. 14.—Published reports say Austria has removed her first line of troops from the Italian frontier, especially riflemen. The Alpine sharpshooters are needed against the Russians, but the Austrians have prepared a defense of the frontier with gendarmes and reservists. Besides they have cut entrenchments eight feet wide and ten feet deep.

It is possible the landing of Italians at Trieste, which is unfortified, has been provided against by entrenchments on Campo Marsio hill, which overlooks the town, and blockhouses along the Gulf of Trieste. The remainder of the coast of Istria and Dalmatia has been mined.

ELMA, Sept. 14.—According to the estimate of expenses just compiled by the Elma town council, the tax levy for the town this year will be only nine mills. It is not believed that there is another town in Southwest Washington the size of Elma that will have as low an estimate.
