NIGHT RIDERS INDICTED BY GRAND JURY

case, which occupied about 10 days, and a really good start has been made, thirteen having been indicted and more to follow. There is much, we are informed, that has not reached the public eye and ear; for instance, a gentleman by the name of W. H. Abel, of Montesano, a reputed lawyer, who is mixed up with a jurymen from Cosmopolis, named Distler, according to press reports and other things are talked of.

The case that the federal officials are now at work on is known as "conspiring to intimidate settlers on public lands," and although the officials of Pacific county thought this such a huge joke, the U. S. does not look on it that way—hence it looks like the "Pen" for a lot of them.

The indicted men are members of the school board, contractors for road work, etc.; they certainly have been having "one lovely, sweet time" of it. Some people of South Bend, Raymond and Hoquiam are subscribing money to defend the indicted law breakers, which leads one to say that "birds of a feather flock together," and perhaps they think that this may stay off further indictments, but the Federal Court has a remarkable record for thoroughness and will undoubtedly make Pacific county a safe and respectable place to live in before it quits.

It is even said by witnesses against the "night riders" that when in Tacoma they were approached in the hotel by a sleek young man, who suggested that he could procure a partner of "easy virtue" for them; also all the booze they wanted, but they were not that kind of people, and were not green enough to "fall" for that kind of raw work, concocted by the opposition. This only shows to what desperate ends they are now driven.

As the case advances we will give the news right from the seat of war.

A very intelligent, thoughtful, and level-headed gentleman who was in the very thick of the affair, says, "the Grand Jury was called by Mr. Clay Allen, United States attorney, assisted by Mr. Louis Sharp, chief of the field division of Portland, and Mr. Walter S. Boyer, special agent of the Portland office. The investigation was thorough, and made in a clean, straight forward manner, and not an abortion of justice, as in the former trials in Pacific county."

This sounds good. More particulars later.—(Ed.)

FROM THE COUNTY

COSMOPOLIS—Many improvements for the coming year are planned for Cosmopolis, among them construction of eight blocks of gravel roadway, repairing the city dock and building a four-room schoolhouse.

HOQUIAM—John Geagan of North Hoquiam, still is in a controversy with the city authorities over his three pet bears. The city says he must get rid of them. Geagan says if they must go he will move from the city with them. He expects to take the bears into vaudeville this summer.

MONTESANO—County Agriculturist C. F. Munroe will speak May 26 at the evening session of the logged-off land conference at the state university. His subject will be "Dairying on Logged-off Lands."

HOQUIAM—The steam schooner Daisy Matthews was launched last evening in the Mathews yards, and is one of the finest craft ever turned out here.

PACIFIC BEACH—The Northern Pacific in the past few days has cleared up its depot grounds, greatly to the benefit of the new park, "The Idlewild." Women of the local improvement club are grateful to Supt. W. S. Albee and E. A. McKenna and A. S. Galbraith of the railway company.

HOQUIAM—Active management of the various Lytle companies, following the decease of the late head, has been placed in the hands of Henry W. Bale, who is a big stockholder in the companies.

COSMOPOLIS—The state is the lowest bidder for the school bond issue of $10,500, recently voted here. The bonds sold at 4 1/2 per cent interest.

HOQUIAM—The school board of Hoquiam likely will be sued soon on account of injuries suffered by a little girl named Kleek while using play apparatus on the McKinley school grounds.

OAKVILLE—A straw vote taken here the other day on presidential preference showed, of 53 polled, 25 for Wilson, 11 for Hughes, 9 for Roosevelt, 2 for Henry Ford and 6 scattered.

TRAVEL SHOWS BETTER TIMES ARE HERE NOW

Sumptuous Appointments of "Shasta Limited" Are Revived Because Demand Returns for Them

Pleasant evidence of returning prosperity, as well as the growing favor of the Northwest, is the increasing demand for strictly high class service on de luxe trains which the railroads are now having to deal with wherever the West is considered, and the item of extra fare does not seem to have much weight.

Proof of this lies in the "Shasta Limited," which for several years has run between Seattle and San Francisco over the O.W. R. R. & N. and Southern Pacific lines. When this train was inaugurated its proud boast was that it carried its passengers the entire length of the "Road of a Thousand Wonders," and those responsible for it felt amply justified in its superb equipment and extra fare. Times were good then and its fine facilities were in great demand.

Then followed business depression, and a marked decrease in the demand for de luxe privileges. The management sought to stimulate local travel by adding coach accommodations to that portion of the run between Portland and Seattle.

Times are now improving, likewise the demand for the favors of "Shasta Limited." It is found necessary to reserve all space for that class of travel entirely. It has therefore been decided to do away with coach accommodations after June 1, and confine the service exclusively to through sleeping, parlor and observation cars.

This may be some disappointment to local travel, but the fact that it means such a healthy increase in through travel, and that so large a portion of it is seeking the Northwest, will be compensation enough and gratifying proof of the better times so long hoped for.

Feaks of Stammering.

Stammering, like other ailments, has its freakish ways. A correspondent recalls the worst stammerer in his school, who was also—now what do you think?—the best soloist in the choir. His malady allowed him to sing what he could only speak with difficulty. And a harassed master, aware of the fact, would take advantage of it as a last resource, so that a delighted class had its Latin grammar in B sharp when it came to the stammerer's turn to be questioned.—London Chronicle.

Standardized.

"Do you like Welsh rabbits?" "I prefer real rabbits." "Why so?" "Then you know what you're eating. Nature makes all her rabbits alike."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

The Herald is the most widely read paper in Grays Harbor county. Wise advertisers know it.

SOLVES MYSTERY?

J. D. Fleury, South Aberdeen saw filer, has achieved notoriety in the past few days by asserting that he knows where Mrs. Eloise Nels Dennis and her sister, Miss Beatrice Nels, for the murder of whom Victor E. Innes and his wife were tried in Texas, now are. Fleury says he traveled with the two women for an hour on a train, since their reported murder. His statements seem not to be taken seriously by the authorities.

HONEST WEIGHT AND MEASURES WEEK IS COMING

June 18 to 24 Merchants of County Will Show Advantages of Correct Scales

The week of June 18 to 24 is to be National Honest Weights and Measures week, and County Weight Inspector George Sells is seeking the cooperation of merchants' associations, women's clubs and other organizations to make the occasion of some value to the whole county.

These are some of the slogans suggested for stores during the week: "This store stands for honest weights and measures."

"It is the duty you owe to yourselves, as well as the honest merchant, to check the weight of all commodities purchased by you."

"Be careful when buying bargains. Watch the weight."

AN UNUSUALLY FINE EDITION

In getting out Hoquiam's Quarter Century Anniversary edition of the Hoquiam Record, Editor O. M. Moore has proved conclusively that he has not forgotten how to get out a mighty fine paper.

Twelve pages, well written, plentifully and well illustrated is considerable of an achievement. We are glad to notice that the advertisers of Hoquiam responded to his efforts in a very satisfactory manner. The Record is worthy of continuous good support.

ANOTHER INDUSTRY TO START

A member of the firm of G. R. Boller and Company of San Francisco, is here to establish a plant for the making of ship spars, etc.

It is their intention to install quite a large plant, but they have already received so many pressing orders for immediate delivery, that they will most probably join for the present with the local firm of Endresen Brothers.

The usual mode here of making spars is by hand work, but this firm have a patented lathe which will turn out spars of any size up to 4 feet in diameter and 127 feet long. This new firm is certain to build up a great business here and came just at the opportune moment.

The KITCHEN GUPBOARD

FOR WINTER DINNERS.

POT ROAST AND SPAGHETTI.—To four pounds or a little less of pot roast (beef) add one can tomatos or two pounds fresh ones, one small can red peppers, three medium sized onions, two level tablespoonfuls sugar, one tablespoonful pepper, two tablespoonfuls salt and a stick of celery, or a little celery salt, omitting some of the common salt. Bake in oven about three hours; when done add two well cooked cupfuls of spaghetti, measured before cooking.

Veal and Asparagus.—Pour a cream sauce made of a cupful of cream or milk thickened with a tablespoonful of butter and flour, around a roast of veal and edge with asparagus tips, canned Oysters and Bacon.—For this dish choose very small oysters and allow eight to a person. Make strips of toast and keep hot in the oven; cook quickly in a very hot frying pan some strips of delicate thin bacon without rind, and when brown lay one on each strip of toast; put the oysters in the frying pan with the bacon fat which remains in it and cook until plump; lay on the strips of toast; garnish with slices of lemon and parsley.

Spareribs Stuffed With Apples.—Get two strips of spareribs the same size. Salt and pepper to taste. Cut enough sour apples in quarters (wash, but do not peel) to fill spareribs. Sew up both sides so apples can't fall out. Put in roasting pan and add two sliced onions, two bay leaves and eight whole allspice. Add water same as for other roasts and bake until done. Thicken gravy with a little flour. Gravy and meat are fine, the apples favoring both.

Rump Steak, Stuffed.—Two pounds rump steak, two ounces of suet, three ounces of breadcrumbs, six olives, one dessertspoonful of chopped parsley, pepper and salt, two eggs. Peel and chop the olives small; chop the suet; put into a basin with the crumbs, parsley, olives, suet, pepper and salt; mix well with the eggs; spread the mixture on the steak, roll and the securely; place in a greased paper and roast about three-quarters of an hour.

He Was Cautious.

Frederick the Great was always fond of disputations, but as he generally terminated the discussion by collaring his antagonist and kicking his shins few of his guests were disposed for an argument. He asked one of his suit why he did not venture to give his opinion on some particular question. "It is impossible, your majesty," was the reply, "to express an opinion before a sovereign who has such convictions and wears such remarkably thick boots!"
