MAY MAKE SHOE LEATHER FROM HIDES OF SHARKS

Secretary Redfield Hopes to Reduce Price of Footwear in This Manner.

The department of commerce has contributed a good deal already to the government's war conservation program, according to a statement by Secretary Redfield. One of the most important problems before the department, the secretary of commerce said, is that of developing leather substitutes.

"The department is conducting experiments through the specialists of the bureaus of standards and fisheries," he stated, "for the tanning of shark hides, porpoise, grayfish and grouper, with a view to making them commercially available. Some very fine leather is made from some of these fish hides, and if we are successful in this it will mean much to the people, who must be shod, and will tend to bring the prices of footwear downward."

"A crisis has been averted in connection with the supply of tin cans through the development of fiber containers as substitutes, a matter of importance to the conserving of summer fruits and vegetables. The bureau of foreign and domestic commerce has approved various fiber containers, which will relieve the drain upon the tin supply, and the department is urging the use of the fiber containers for products not necessarily requiring the tin cans. This releases for use millions of cans to store food."

"The bureau of standards has discovered the process by which the Germans have been making chemical porcelain, without which the laboratories and chemists would be seriously handicapped. That porcelain is now being produced commercially in the United States, rendering us independent of foreign markets."

"Much assistance has been rendered by this department to the placing of the synthetic dye industry on its feet. Our experts have been of great help, and the United States is now making dyes successfully and in increasing volume each month."

AVOID WASTE.

Little Economies in Kitchen Pointed Out in Brief Warnings.

The housewife must remember that when trying to save the little things one usually discards there must be system. Have a definite place for bits and look them over constantly.

Beware also these little wastes, as they mount up into many dollars:

Dried fruits left unprotected to grow wormy.

Good sheets used for the ironing table.

Flatirons wiped on the ironing sheet instead of cloth or paper.

Napkins used for dish towels and dish towels for holders.

Soup left to waste in dishwasher.

Soup set away covered while hot to sour.

Mops and brooms not hung up and carpet brooms used to scrub with.

Tin dishes or wash boilers get away wet to rust.

Wooden pails and washtubs left dry to fall apart.

Real kitchen preparedness means looking after every little leak.

KNIT YOUR BIT.

How to Make Three Useful Articles For Sailors.

The word has gone forth that a warm sailor is better than a cold one. This is no sentimental catch phrase; it is a literal physiological fact. A warm sailor can work and fight with a steady nerve, with an increased physical efficiency, with a higher courage, for the effect of warmth is to stimulate.

Now, then, what can you, as a woman, do about it? You, as a woman with a pair of knitting needles, can keep at least one sailor warm. And remember, the sailor that you keep warm is going to be a better defender of your flag.

The government supplies many of his wants, but there are three articles not supplied, and these are the sleeveless knitted jacket, the muffler and the wristlets. He will use them when he is doing exposed work—this may be laying a mine or serving on picket duty or in submarine and patrol boat service. The comforts committee of the Navy League of the United States, with headquarters in Washington and at 509 Fifth avenue, New York, will help you to form an organization for knitting or to purchase wool or will receive your finished articles that you've made alone in odd times when Susie was quiet in the bathtub or Johnny busy feeding the rabbits. But if you are going to knit do it according to directions. Here they are:

The Muffler.—Cast on 50 stitches Plain knitting for fifty-eight inches No. 5 celluloid needle. One-half pound dark blue knitting yarn.

The Wristlets.—Cast on 52 stitches Knit 2, puri 2 for 12 inches. Sew up leaving 2 inch space for thumb 3 inches from top. No. 3 bone needles. One-half yard gray knitting yarn.

The Sleeveless Jacket.—Cast on 80 stitches. Knit 2, puri 2 stitches for four inches. Knit plain until sweater measures 23 inches. Knit 28 stitches, bind off 24 stitches for neck. Knit 28 stitches. Knit 10 rows on each shoulder, cast on 24 stitches. Knit plain for 10 inches. Puri 2, knit 2 stitches for 4 inches. Sew up sides, leaving 9 inches for armholes. No. 5 celluloid needle. Three-fourths a pound gray knitting yarn.—By Sarah Comstock of the Vigilantes.

Things You Can Do For the Country.

The fighting man can die for it. The saving man can buy for it. The aviator can fly for it. The thrifty cook can fry for it. The thirsty man can go dry for it. The darlin' man can spy for it. The egotist can "I" for it. The diplomat can lie for it. The farmer can grow rye for it. The workman can ply for it. The very babies cry for it. And all of us can try for it.—New York Sun.

OF COURSE IT DEPENDS ON YOUR VIEW POINT--- BUT---

Don't you think that it would be a mistake for the Shingle Weavers to demand "An Eight Hour Day With a Ten Hour Pay" in this community when every other shingle manufacturing district works on a ten hour schedule at a lower wage scale, all selling their product in common market?

Such a demand would mean a shut-down of all the shingle mills on Grays Harbor, with an economic loss of thousands of dollars to this community.

And all this when the wages paid are in excess of the scale made by the unions themselves.
