Entered at the postoffice at Aberdeen, Washington, as second class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

One Year $2.00
Six Months 1.00
One Year, in advance 1.50

Subscribers failing to receive paper regularly please notify Herald Office. Phone 568, 309 East Wishkah Street.

The Herald is the oldest newspaper on Grays Harbor and it has wider circulation than has any other newspaper in Grays Harbor County.

The Herald Consolidates With The Post.

This will be the last issue of the Aberdeen Herald as such, this paper having consolidated with the Grays Harbor Post, a merger that insures an unusually strong weekly paper in Aberdeen, and will result beneficially to the patrons of both papers, subscribers and advertisers alike.

Subscribers to the Herald will be supplied with the Post for the period paid for, and those who are already subscribers to both papers and are paid ahead for the Herald, will be credited upon the books of the Post for the time the Herald is due them.

All subscription accounts due the Herald are now payable to the Post. The job printing department of the Herald, known as the Aberdeen Printing Co., has been sold to Mr. H. M. Blodgett, the well known printer of this city, who will continue the business at the old stand, 309 E. Wishkah street.

It is with great reluctance that the writer retires from the newspaper game, from which in the course of the past 25 years he had derived much pleasure as well as some profit, but he finds advancing years and the demands of his official position require this step.

In the language of K. C. B. I THANK YOU.

JNO. J. CARNEY.

The Red Cross Society.

In an age charged with being selfish, sordid, and commercial there has grown up and developed the greatest organization for unselfish service the world has ever seen—the American Red Cross. The growth of the Red Cross Society is evidence not to be controverted that the spirit of service is strong in the hearts of the people of today.

The activities of the Red Cross always has been generously supported by the American public, but only since "our own" soldiers began to take a place in the trenches alongside our allies has this support become bountiful. It is the suffering and comfort of the men from "our own neighborhoods" as well as the physical needs of our allies for which the Red Cross must now mobilize.

No appeal to the generosity of the American people has ever been unanswered. Let one part of the world be visited by some calamity like the Mount Pelee and Italian earthquake, the China floods, the Johnstown flood, the San Francisco earthquake or any greater or lesser calamity, and the response from the nation is immediate and generous to a degree.

To meet this new and greatly enlarged demand—this demand that has the added force of patriotism and a duty we owe our own soldiers—there has been a campaign to raise $100,000,000 for the Red Cross work. The campaign has been conducted with a vigor and earnestness that insured success.

"Red Cross week" will not be the only time in which one can assist the work of the society. Every week should be a Red Cross week with those who are able to contribute to the work of this greatest agency of mercy. Its work is pressing and will continue a long time. It needs continued support and will not appeal in vain to a people as generous as the American nation.

German-American Chance.

We cannot altogether agree with Herman Metz that "the plight of the German-American is altogether pitiful" as a consequence of the war. The plight of men who are privileged to be citizens of a country that is battling for liberty and justice, without thought of material gain, can never be pitiful.

To many Americans of German descent the war now takes on the aspect of a civil conflict, but all the political rights and liberties that we held today were won in civil conflict. The American revolution was a war of Englishmen against Englishmen.

It is not without reason that the President and congress have so clearly discriminated between the imperial German government and the German people. Mr. Metz's own father was one of that gallant band of Germans who came to the United States to seek freedom after the revolution of 1848 had failed.

Let There Be Light.

The new state vehicle law is not a piece of freakery. Ten years ago an act demanding lights on all horse-drawn vehicles might have been considered rightly a joke, but not so today. It is now a sane measure for the benefit of the man in the wagon.

Berlin's Ghastly Success.

The latest airplane raid on London was a triumph. Not since the sinking of the Lusitania has frightfulness so dramatically scored.

In the matter of wantonness the incursion leaves little to be sought. Bombs hit an elementary school this time. Twenty-six children were killed and 16 women. That was a real achievement.

That military or naval consequences of the raid were nil avails not. That airmen flying two miles high cannot aim their explosives but must strike at random counts for nothing.

That military or naval consequences of the raid were nil avails not. That airmen flying two miles high cannot aim their explosives but must strike at random counts for nothing. Berlin proved its power to maim and to kill. That sufficed. But what of the psychology of such a blind procedure? Are the Prussian autocrats mad enough still to believe that by murdering babies they can wrest tangible success from destiny?

It Is Up To Us.

President Wilson in his message to Russia blasts the way through. "And unless we pour out blood and treasure now and succeed, we may never be able to unite or show conquering force again in the great cause of human liberty. The day has come to conquer or submit." There is the whole issue.

Home Cookery

Whole Wheat Bread.

One and one-half pints whole wheat flour, one teaspoonful of soda, two teaspoonfuls cream of tartar, one teaspoonful of salt, three-fourths pint of cold water. Sift the dry ingredients together, the teaspoonful of soda rounding, the salt and cream of tartar level; then add the water and stir thoroughly.

Examine what is said, not him who speaks.—Arabian Proverb.

THE EVILS OF CONSTIPATION

Constipation is one of the main reasons why the average human life is below 40 years. Leaving waste material in the body, poisons the system and blood and makes us liable to sick headaches, biliousness, nervousness and muddy skin. When you note these symptoms, try Dr. King's New Life Pills. They give prompt relief, are mild, non-gripping in action, add tone to your system and clear the complexion. At your druggist, 25c. (1)
