At the mere sight of a squad of American soldiers the remnants of Aguinaldo's army seem to be seized with a panic and fly to cover.

Now that the conceit has been taken out of them, the insurgents would be likely to sink back to their accustomed vocations if they could be assured that they would not meet with the severe punishment which their experience with the Spanish authorities would naturally lead them to expect.

About the only result which the Milwaukee citizen who has brought an action for damages against twelve jurymen for having convicted him of the charge of conspiracy may expect, will be the suggestion of an entirely new procedure in the manner of seeking redress in the courts.

It is doubtful if the Milwaukee citizen who has brought an action for damages against twelve jurymen for having convicted him of the charge of conspiracy may expect, will be the suggestion of an entirely new procedure in the manner of seeking redress in the courts.

With hundreds of new buildings going up in Seattle, and the architects rushing with plans for many more, it hardly seems that the term "quiet" can be applied to local conditions.

It is reported that a new ore sampling works is to be erected at Nelson, B. C., by the Slocan Ore Purchasing company.

The total output of the Ymir, B. C., mines for the three months, ending March 31 of the present year, was 2465 tons.

It is reported that the large mines around Randan and Three Forks will shut down unless a settlement is made between the union and the mine owners.

Work on the Idaho mine in the Boardway check country, B. C., will shortly be resumed. It is expected that this property, when developed, will prove very rich.

An army nurse but lately returned from Cuba to Washington declares that never again will she go to a country whose language she does not understand.

men butchered and nurses gut to ribbons. The nurse was frantic. She must know the worst. In the hospital was an officer very ill with typhoid fever. She knew he understood Spanish. Only in a matter of life or death would she disturb him, but this was obviously a matter of life or death. She led the Cuban woman to the bedside and there the story was repeated. The officer listened intently. The nurse held her breath. The Cuban weened. The sick man turned his head on the pillows.

"She says," he whispered feebly, "she says the stripes in your pink shirt waist have run and she doesn't know what to do with it."

"Kitty, kitty, kitty!" I said. The cat "pussy, pussy," I said. The cat took no notice. The cat—those very cat spoke Spanish. It was more than I could bear. I couldn't even call a cat.—Washington Star.

A piece of stone was taken from the right leg of Charles Haulenbeck of Newark yesterday by Dr. Joseph Sutphen, of that city, says an exchange. It was a fragment of blue stone flaking driven into the flesh nearly eight years ago by the explosion of a copper mortar used by a group of Italians in celebrating the feast of St. Rocco in Boyden street. Eleven persons were killed and many wounded. Haulenbeck was one of the latter.

"Everybody's been taking a fall out of my chickens," he said, "and I want an injunction." "You do?" asked the lawyer, looking thoughtful.

"I been troubling you for some time," asked the lawyer. "Pretty regular for nigh onto a year," was the reply; "an' everyone seems to be able to stop everything with injunctions, so I thought I'd have to git one."

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 7.—Secretary Horace Wilson, of the Kentucky Trotting Breeders' association announced today that the total number of nominations for the Kentucky Futurity of 1902, which closed March 15, is 1083.

Of the 1083 mares named 44, or more than 4 per cent, either have standard records or have produced from one to six performers. Two hundred and forty-one mares in the list have records from 2:30 to 2:35. Fifty-five of them have better than 2:15.

There are 293 producing mares in the list, eleven are dams of four or more. Twenty-one are dams of three. Two hundred and fifty-one stations were used on the nominated mares. One hundred and sixty-three have standard records, twenty-five from one to six performers.

A stranger dropped into one of the Woodward avenue groceries the other day and inquired of the clerk if he had any nuts. The clerk answered in the affirmative.

"What kind do you want?" he inquired. "I don't know. Just name them over to me."

"Well, we have hickory nuts, pecans, walnuts, almonds, peanuts, and we rattle off a number of other varieties, but the stranger shook his head.

STERLING HAIR DRESSINGS And Prophecies at Hawaii.

WHICH FRIGHTEN THE NATIVES Volcanic Eruption the Most Magnificent and Disastrous Ever Known Predicted

HONOLULU, March 21.—(Via San Francisco, April 5).—There are portentous signs and wonders on the island of Hawaii. In the district of Puna a native woman, who is believed to be over 100 years old, and has a reputation of being a Kahuna, a seeress and a prophetic of great occult powers, has been predicting an eruption of the volcano of Kilauea, which shall be the most magnificent and disastrous ever known in modern times.

Added to this is the fact that there are some slight physical signs of volcanic activity. For several weeks the rays radiating from the crater have been increasing in heat. The amount of steam and smoke escaping has slightly increased, and there are other similar indications that are taken by those who are not superstitious as indicating the possibility of an eruption.

These last signs are mysterious noises issuing from the mountains and heard particularly at the base of the leeward side of the island. They are described by a resident of some scientific attainments and who has no superstitious fears regarding the noises, as being pretty well represented by the notes of a raven, and the musical system. Some times they are heard in the ascending scale and sometimes in the descending scale and sometimes in other combinations.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—While guessing at the figures the next census will contain may not be as interesting or as profitable an occupation as will be a careful study of those figures when they are gathered, yet there can be no doubt that the census totals will not only astonish the country, but the world.

Superintendent Little informed a Star reporter this morning that the work of leveling streets was progressing rapidly. He stated that outside of the regular street crew they had extra workmen employed in leveling streets from Broadway down Denny way to Howell street.

There is another boom in the diamond market, and it is caused by the great demand for those gem stones in this country. In other words the new rich must have diamonds by the pint, and all the talk about artificial stones doing just as well as the real is hush.

The pressure is now high over the Rocky mountain and plateau region, and the spring north wind, can afford to have them replaced by false diamonds. When people are hard up they sell a diamond or two and nobody unless an expert in precious stones knows any difference.

IT CHANGES THE MEANING An Innocent Comma Causes Some Confusion.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Wrongfully use the usually unobtrusive little comma develops into a serious mischief maker. This was illustrated in what was known as the "diamond case," where one too many commas changed the original intent of the tariff law by imposing the same duty on diamonds as on cut stones.

THE DREAM OF LOVE VANISHED When His Hoped-for Father-In-Law Spanked Him.

A heartrending case of youthful affection brutally nipped in the bud has just been related to me by the mother of one of my boy friends. The boy friend, poor fellow, is the hero. He is in the eighth grade of one of the city schools, and he adores as only a boy of that age, more the pily, can adore a girl in the same school, a pert little snip of a thing, who draws in her belt a hole or two on the sly and is just beginning to use a hand glass in making her toilet.

WILLIE FAILED HIS MAMMA How a Plan to Fool the Conductor Was Frustrated.

When Willie's mother and aunt decided to take him South with them, of course it was only after great forethought on their part. "I don't believe we'll have to pay," said Aunt Sarah. "Willie looks to be 5 or under, at least not a day older, and I am sure we could squeeze him through."

J. F. ADAMS Wholesale and Retail Cash Grocer 512 Second Ave., bet. Vesler & James A Mean Way to Get a Scoop Says the New Orleans Times-Democrat: A group of newspaper men foregathered round the fire the coldest night this week, and as usual fell to talking shop. "They used to have some queer ideas of enterprise up in the Middle North," said an old-timer. "I'll give you an illustration on a big daily in— (never mind where), was detailed to interview the Governor of another state who had slipped into the city on a secret political mission. When he got to his hotel he learned to his disgust that Jackson, the star reporter of a rival sheet, was onto the news and proposed to call in an hour. Acting on inspiration, he sent up a card bearing Jackson's name, and was promptly admitted. When he had learned all he wanted he asked with gross and intentional impudence whether the information was really true. The governor was noted for his intransigence. He turned purple. 'I've question my word' he said. 'O, don't get gay,' replied Jones, airily. 'Common governors cut no ice with my office.' The old man foamed at the mouth. 'You insolent scoundrel!' he roared, 'get out of my rooms!' That was exactly what Jones wanted, and he went down stairs chuckling. Presently Jackson showed up. 'Here, boy,' he said, pompously, 'take my card to the governor.' When the old man looked at the pastebord he nearly expired. 'The blankety blanked information never heard of such blankety blanked offerrery in my life!' Tell that miscreant if he or anybody else from his infernal paper comes here I'll kill 'em!' The word was carried to Jackson, who went away raving. Next day his paper called the governor all the bad names in the dictionary, and intimated he was in town on a bender. Jones' paper had a capital interview, and a big scoop. Those were frisky times, boys."
