News from Samoa today is of a most alarming nature, and presages probably international complications of the gravest sort.

The developments at Apia serve to accentuate the feeling that has developed in connection with the Samoan controversy, that Emperor William stands in an unfriendly attitude towards this country and Great Britain.

The Troy (N. Y.) Times tells of a visitor at a public school who, being requested to address the pupils, spoke of the necessity of obeying their teacher and growing up to be useful, loyal and patriotic citizens.

Fire brigades "manned" by women are not uncommon in England. There is one at Girton college, where the students have their own brigade and appliances.

About ninety days is the time within which, according to the plan of the promoters, we shall see horseless vehicles in abundance on the streets. The time appears to be coming when people in cities will have to gaze at the horse show if they want to gaze at real live trotters.

We are at peace with Spain, thanks to Weyler and the gallant fight which he put up with his typewriter. Now if somebody would send Aguinaldo a typewriter and get him engaged in the occupation of hurrying daily proclamations at the Yankee pigs, in place of Mauser bullets, the trouble in the Philippines could be easily and quickly adjusted.

Census Director Merriam says that the 42,000 jobs at his disposal will be given out with no regard to party lines. Personal fitness will be the sole qualification.

A Boston woman, a member of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, was recently traveling to the Pacific coast over the Northern Pacific railroad.

Some of the strides of Aguinaldo's retiring soldiers measured nearly seven feet.

"ALL SORTS." MARTINSVILLE, Ind., April 12.—George Allen, an employee of the local gas plant, was a victim of a peculiar accident yesterday.

They say in Pembroke, England, when it snows while the sun is shining, that "the devil is beating his wife."

The French Automobile club has printed a map on which are noted all electric stations in France at which the accumulators can be loaded.

Golf has gained such a foothold among lovers of outdoor sports in New York, that the park board has placed professional instructors on the public links.

Of the 1,000,000 gallons of brandy produced in the United States last year, California alone contributed 2,387,886. Virginia yielded 105,115; Kentucky, 66,174.

Last year's output of coal was the greatest in the history of the United States, amounting to 42,900,000 tons of soft coal and 45,900,000 tons of anthracite.

TO BOUNCE THE PARSON

Russell Sage Made an Effort.

THERE WAS PLENTY OF TROUBLE

Exciting Scenes in West Presbyterian Church, of the City of New York.

NEW YORK, April 12.—It was not a good night for millionaires in holy places last night.

Efforts of Russell Sage and his fellow millionaires deacons and trustees of West Presbyterian church to oust Rev. A. H. Evans from the pastorate resulted disastrously for the millionaires.

The congregation, after the most exciting meeting in the history of the church, refused to endorse the action of the trustees and upheld the pastor.

That was not all, after sitting on the trustees good and hard, plans were laid to displace the rector of the trustees if they did not resign immediately.

It is told of Philip D. Armour, of Chicago, that he was not christened Philip at all. He was named after his father, Danforth Armour.

TO ASSIST THE PLANTERS Appeals Received Daily for Assistance.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—As soon as the necessary authority is obtained the department of agriculture will be able to materially assist the planters of Puerto Rico, Cuba, and the Philippines in increasing, not only the quality, but the quantity, of their crops.

Some say that the solution of the mystery is the apparition. One of the watchers sprang up and ran toward the object, when a deep, muffled voice came from the pit saying: "Don't come any nearer or I'll shoot."

EXCITING TIMES AT STOCKTON

An Apparition That Has the People of This Locality Quite Badly Rattled.

STOCKTON, Cal., April 12.—Fair Oaks, a populous addition to Stockton, has a real haunted house story, which has not only caused excitement in that district, but has created a good deal of interest in this city.

There are two excavations in the rear of the house, which is on Myrtle avenue, and it is from these that the shadowy forms arise.

In a short time the spirit made its appearance. It arose from one of the cess-pools as a white, swelling object, grew to about eight feet in height and appeared to be clear of the ground.

About 9 o'clock the mysterious visitor appeared again in the same form, but from another excavation. One of the watchers sprang up and ran toward the object, when a deep, muffled voice came from the pit saying: "Don't come any nearer or I'll shoot."

The adventurous ghost-hunter retreated in terror. An hour later the white object appeared again. The watchers left the place at midnight more mystified than ever.

Some say that the solution of the mystery is the apparition. One of the watchers sprang up and ran toward the object, when a deep, muffled voice came from the pit saying: "Don't come any nearer or I'll shoot."
