

THE REPUBLICANS WILL ORGANIZE THE SENATE

Larger Committees Will Have Eight G. O. P. Men to Five Democrats.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 22.—The reorganization of the United States senate in harmony with the Republican control of that body is the first feature for consideration at the senate end of the capitol when congress meets one week from next Monday, and Republican senators entrusted with that work are going over the committee lists to work out the changes. The Republicans will be in control of both branches, with a majority of 16 in the senate and 13 in the house.

As the list stands today there are 51 Republicans to 25 Democrats, Populists and silver Republicans, or a majority of 16. There are four vacancies, two Democrats and two Republicans. Since the adjournment of the last congress, Teller of Colorado has had himself classified as a silver Republican, instead of a silverite. Stewart has given himself no designation. On party divisions, excepting silver, therefore, Teller and Stewart may be counted with the Republicans. This gives the Republicans 53 votes ordinarily.

It is expected that Teller will be permitted to remain as chairman of the committee on claims and Stewart as chairman of mines and mining. Teller in all probability will also remain on the appropriations committee, a position of importance, which he has carried by long service. In the proportions of political divisions the last senate had, on committees of 17 members, seven Democrats and six Republicans. On committees of 11 members the Democrats had six and the Republicans five.

This year the Republicans will appoint eight on the larger committees to five Democrats, and on the committees of 11 members seven Republicans to four Democrats. The most important assignments will be on the committees of finance. The death of Senator Morrill made Allison of Iowa the ranking member, but he being chairman of the committee on appropriations, Aldrich of Rhode Island will be the chairman of the finance committee. It is important for the Republicans that Aldrich shall have a solid majority to report the gold bills which it is his intention to press to a passage.

Wolcott of Colorado is not a supporter of the gold standard, nor is Jones of Nevada. Consequently the Republicans must strengthen their majority by reliable Senators, who will follow Aldrich's lead on the gold question. In a division of eight to five on the committee of finance, should Wolcott and Jones side with the Democrats, the Republicans will have a majority of one. According to the existing list, the finance committee is composed of Aldrich, Allison, Wolcott, Jones, and Jones of Nevada. The two additional Republicans have not been decided upon, as there has been no meeting of the committee which makes the senate appointments. The senate appointments are decided by the leaders of the party in control.

CORCORAN WILL ELOPE TO THE BE MANAGER FAR NORTH

Important Move of the Seattle Mining Exchange. Mrs. Harding Runs Away With a Wealthy Klondiker.

The Seattle Stock exchange, which has had no call for several weeks, is likely to begin business again next week. If the plans are successfully carried through, the exchange will come under the sole management of Mr. Corcoran, who is now president. The lull in business is claimed not to have been due to inactivity in mining circles, so much as to bickering among members of the exchange.

Several of the principal brokers of the city and Mr. Corcoran have been at odds for several months. These brokers say they will transfer their business on the exchange in case Mr. Corcoran takes charge. This cannot hurt the present status of the institution, however, as business is about as dead as it can be. Mr. Corcoran has some warm partisans in mining circles, and he claims to claim that by having an individual management, and in that way avoiding the present misunderstandings, there is sufficient mining business among those friendly to the proposed manager to make the exchange a success.

Mr. Corcoran has little to say as to his plans, but it is understood the deal will be consummated this afternoon. In the meantime some of his antagonists are exerting every effort to prevent the deal from going through. The better class of brokers, however, think it best for the mining interest in Western Washington to have an exchange run by Corcoran than to have none at all.

MONEY IN THE ALASKA WHALES

The inland passage to Alaska and the seas and inland waters of the north are swarming with humpback, finback and sperm whales. These species of cetaceans carry with them little blubber and no bone or commercial value, the blubber being too short or "stumpy" for shredding into corset stays, etc. Nevertheless, the whales are so numerous that it is like going pothunting for ducks to start out to kill them.

In Sumdum bay, for instance, on the main land of Alaska removed but about 50 miles from Juneau city, as many as 50 whales are seen and calves have been counted playing and feeding in the waters which the station of the Northwest Trading company overlooked.

People with capital have taken the great numbers of these whales and are sending them into consideration and now a stock company has been formed at Vancouver, B. C., for the killing of these whales on a large scale. It is the intention to fit out a fleet of tugs, barges, and launches equipped with the latest of modern bomb and harpoon guns, and to enter the sea mammals in a systematic fashion. The tugs will tow the barges about; the latter being fitted with very kettles and hydraulic presses for the rendering and securing of the oil, while the launches will take the pieces of the old-time whale boats propelled by oars.

It is generally conceded by men who have witnessed the surprising number of whales to be met with in the inland passage, that there is money to be made in this project.

A Mississippi Contest.

JACKSON DEPOT, Miss., Nov. 22.—Dr. Prewitt, late populist candidate for governor, has issued an open letter to the executive committee of the party counseling a contest of Judge Longino's election on the ground that his nomination by the Democratic party was illegal. Prewitt says that section 3259 of the code requires the holding of mass meetings in all counties on the same day, and that the Democrats held them on different days. Governor McLaurin maintains, however, that Prewitt's claim is ill-founded.

NOT ABLE TO FIND CAIN

The police and friends of Larris Cain, the insurance agent who was arrested last week on a charge of forgery, are searching the city in hopes of learning of his whereabouts. He was released on a $5,000 bond on Saturday. Cain was last seen at noon yesterday. His wife fears that he has committed suicide, but the police are inclined to believe he has jumped the town.

Cut Off Cannibals' Heads

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 22.—The British steamer Volta, from the German Cameroons, West Africa, which arrived here today, reports that a German punitive expedition in the Cameroons recently chastised the natives who had besieged several trading stations at and near Kribi. The Germans chased the natives into the bush, killing 200. It was reported, according to the captain of the Volta, that the natives were decapitated, their heads being stuck on poles in the interior towns to strike terror to the inhabitants.

HE CALLS THEM RANK COWARDS

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—The Examiner publishes the answer of Gen. Funston to the charges being made against Col. Metcalf and himself. He indignantly repudiates the assertion of cowardice or wanton cruelty on the part of Col. Metcalf, characterizing these allegations as "contemptible and underhanded attacks," and asserts that the five officers who are behind the charges are "some of the rankest cowards in the army."

AMUSEMENTS.

"Mile Fif," at the Seattle. "Mile Fif" will come to the Seattle theater for three nights, commencing tomorrow evening. This play is a run of 200 nights in New York, and has met with success wherever it has been presented. The play is on the farce comedy order, and is an adaptation from the French.

The story is cleverly told, and is highly interesting. A great deal of the frisky French of the play has been retained.

The company presenting the play is unusually capable. Mamie Gilroy will be seen in the title role. Maude Granger is also in the cast.

"Coon Hollow"

At the Third Avenue theater the beautiful romance of "Coon Hollow" will be seen for the last time tonight. This play would have drawn full houses for a week, as it has more intrinsic merit than any other play of the season, but it must give way after tonight to "Foggy Ferry." Those that have not seen "Coon Hollow" should do so tonight.

A Real Theatrical Novelty.

Manager Russell of the Third Avenue theater received a letter yesterday morning from the manager of The Philippine Vaudeville Company, consisting of 35 native Filipinos, who will be seen at the Third Avenue theater next week in a novel entertainment of the vaudeville character. The company has been engaged by telegraph from the Philippine Islands, and it will leave San Francisco today. The attraction will be a novelty and shows managerial enterprise.

K. O. T. M. Ball.

The K. O. T. M. Seattle tent No. 8 will give a grand masquerade ball at the Armory Friday night. 1500 will be distributed in prizes. Wagner's band will furnish music for the occasion. The Grand March will begin at 9 o'clock.

WILL BUILD A NEW COAL ROAD

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 22.—Definite plans are now under consideration for the sale of the city's holdings in the Western Maryland Railroad company to a syndicate of New York capitalists. Details of the sale and of the city's transfer of its holdings of about 4,000 shares of the railroad company's stock are being arranged.

The decision to sell the city's stock in the railroad, about $4,500,000, was reached by the city finance committee at a meeting last week, but was not made public until today.

FOUGHT A DUEL WITH KNIVES

WEST PLAINS, Mo., Nov. 22.—At Bakersfield, 25 miles south of this place, Luke Seels mortally wounded Postmaster W. H. Sharp in a duel with a knife yesterday. The men were met over Seels' alleged attention to the postmaster's wife. A challenge to fight with knives as a weapon was accepted, and the principals went to the cellar of Sharp's home, where a duel was fought, resulting in the fatal wounding of Sharp and slight injuries to Seels. It is said that Mrs. Sharp witnessed the fight from the cellar staircase. Seels was arrested and gave bonds.

Pugilist and Professors

Very few college professors receive more than $5,000 a year, and in order to fit themselves for their positions they must work hard. After studying these figures and then studying the figures of the recent Jeffries-Sharkey fight one will be no longer surprised to note that more boys take an interest in boxing lessons than they do in lessons pertaining to mathematics, grammar and philosophy.

Jeffries and Sharkey each spent about sixty days in active preparation for the fight. Then they fought two hours, receiving $33,423 for his efforts and Sharkey $11,141 for his efforts.

THE POLITICAL POTIS BOILING

And the Keystone State Politicians Are Active.

HARRISBURG, Nov. 22.—Quay men on Capital Hill cannot hide the fact that they are anxious as to the outcome of the movements of prominent anti-machine leaders who have been conferring in Philadelphia. They expect a vigorous fight next year, but claim they are in better shape for a fight now than they have been for several years.

In spite of this hopeful feeling on the surface, there is much of worry as to the probable extent of the movement to defeat ex-Senator Quay. It is the opinion of some of the regulars at the capital that even if the worst should happen and the insurgents should obtain control of the next legislature, it would be possible for the Quay men to reverse the positions in the last legislature, when 5 anti-Quay men prevented his election.

This is the last resort, and they think one faction has as much right to prevent an election in this way as another. The regulars also say that a stand a fusion with the Democrats that may result in the election of a Democrat to the United States senate as the insurgents.

They know the Quay men are counting on winning with the use of McKinley's name, but they declare there will be no fooling of the people by characterizing these allegations as "contemptible and underhanded attacks," and asserts that the five officers who are behind the charges are "some of the rankest cowards in the army."

A PIANO RECITAL.

The pupils of Prof. Sol Asher gave a very enjoyable piano recital last Saturday evening at Elks hall. The young folks, without exception, showed careful training and marked proficiency. The program was as follows: Irene Howe, Rosey Colby, Robin French, Isabella Price, Yale Ballou, Theora Beggs, Florence Wagner, Sara Colsky, Wynard Baylis, and H. C. Ekstrand.

RIVER BOATS ARE IN PERIL

Steamer Rosalie Brings Latest News From the North.

The Rosalie, Capt. O'Brien, arrived from the north last night. She had rough weather all the way from Wrangell Narrows. Crossing to Comox the seas rolled over her stern, dashed into her kitchen and drove out the coals.

Two men were drowned in White Horse rapids Sunday, November 12. They were J. Smith and Mr. Beatrice. Robert McIntosh, their companion, narrowly escaped a similar fate. Nothing is known of the identity of the dead, excepting that Smith once lived at Telegraph on the Yukon.

A fleet, composed of the Anglian, Goddard and 10 scows, is frozen in at the head of Lake Lebarge. On the Anglian there are several hundred pounds of Klondike mail. O. F. Barnes, one of the latest arrivals at Skagway, says all the vessels are in a dangerous position. He states that most of them are likely to be crushed by the ice. Nearly all are owned by the Victoria-Yukon Transportation company.

Just before the Rosalie sailed from Juneau, F. A. Temple, of Washington, D. C., received a 6-year sentence for stabbing C. H. Crutchfield, of San Francisco, at Port Clarence.

A Pennsylvania Gold Mine

YORK, Pa., Nov. 22.—The lower end of York county is excited over the discovery of deposits of gold, silver and lead within a mile of Delta borough. W. G. McLaughlin, of Delta, has secured options on two hundred acres of land, and sunk a shaft on the farm of James Pope. Samples of ore taken from this shaft have been sent to Philadelphia for assay, and reports on the samples say the gold assays $1.00 to the ton and the lead $50 per ton.

ALONG THE WHARVES

The steamer Dirigo is loading lumber at Stetson & Post dock, to be shipped to ports on Lynn canal. She will sail north tonight about 8 o'clock.

No plans have yet been made for the steamer Wolcott during the winter, and it is now thought the vessel will be laid up until spring, unless chartered for some special purpose.

The steamer Jeanie, which has been chartered by the Pacific Coast Steamship company to carry excess freight which has accumulated for San Francisco, is due.

The ship Waterloo is loading wheat at the West Seattle grain elevators.

The new steamer Oregon, owned by the Seattle Steamship company, is to be brought over from Quartermaster harbor in a few days.

The work of tearing up the long arrow wharf between Yeeler and Central docks is almost completed. The pulling of the piles began about two weeks ago. Only 20 feet now remain to be finished. The bottom will be carefully gone over to insure deep water harborage on the south side of Yeeler dock. This will provide accommodations for two more vessels of the size of the average Sound steamer.

ROBBERS BLOW UP A MISSOURI BANK

JOPLIN, Mo., Nov. 22.—Carl Johnson, a little town of 2,000 inhabitants in this city, was the scene of a most daring bank robbery between the hours of 3 and 4 o'clock this morning, in which the bank of Carl Johnson was looted of $4,000 and many valuable papers. The safe was completely vault and a large safe was completely wrecked. The robbers, doing their work without molestation, required four charges of dynamite to complete the job, four distinct explosions being heard. There were four men in the gang.

FARMERS ARE COMING

H. B. Lanny, a representative wheat grower of Jackson Co., Mo., has written to the secretary of the Seattle chamber of commerce, asking for detailed information regarding the wheat industry of this state. A number of farmers from his section of the country are, he says, contemplating settling in Washington.

Fifth Avenue Automobiles

HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 22.—The Columbia and Electric Vehicle Company, of this city, has been awarded the contract for equipment of vehicles for the stage line on Fifth avenue, New York, which has been sold to the New York Electric Vehicle transportation company. Each vehicle will seat 24 persons.

MARKET QUOTATIONS

Wednesday Morning.—Business was brisk in all lines today on West coast. The dairy market still continues firm. All fish are scarce. A shipment of 15,000 lbs. of halibut arrived on the Rosalie last evening.

The poultry market is still overstocked, although shipments are decreasing. The outlook is for still lower prices by Thanksgiving.

The following prices are being offered to the producer by the local dealers for delivery in round lots on the dock or in the car at Seattle:
