

DEAD SAFE CRACKER IDENTIFIED

Police Discover the Lodgings of Rush and Find a Complete Set of Burglar's Tools—He Is Believed to Have Had a Partner

The identity of T. D. Rush, the safe cracker killed at the depot yesterday morning has been established. He has been identified by Police Officer McClurg as the highwayman with whom he had a duel in August, 1918.

Hunt Shot Him It has been given out as a fact by authorities that Private Detective J. C. Hunt, of the Northern Pacific, fired the shot that killed Rush.

Where He Lived The lodgings of the dead robber were located by Detectives Hubbard and Byrnes last night in the lowest hotel at Sixth avenue and Olive street.

No Inquest to Be Held It is probable that no inquest will be held over the murder of the burglar Thomas Dixon Rush. Late

W. C. T. U.'S

PLA FOR FORT WORTH, TEXAS, NOV. 20—The W. C. T. U. convention has adopted resolutions as follows: 1. Advocating total abstinence as the only safeguard for each man and woman's habit of life.

2. Upholding the great principle of prohibition as the only righteous protection against the most unscrupulous and demoralizing traffic on earth.

3. Exploring the danger of the statement that "The American army is far better off without intoxicants of any kind" and endorsing the anti-canteen law.

4. Reviving of Christian citizenship founded on divine ideals of righteousness.

5. Exploring the danger of the late President McKinley at the hands of a cruel assassin and especially that he should have fallen a victim to that insensate hatred of law and government.

6. Favoring the peaceful solution of labor troubles by arbitration and calling upon workmen to join in the battle against the scab.

7. Calling for perfect equality of men and women before the law.

8. Standing unqualifiedly for a white life, for pure manhood and protected womanhood, demanding an amendment to the constitution defining marriage as monogamous and punishing plural marriages by disqualification to vote or hold office in addition to severe penalties.

Humane Society Listens to an Attack on Custom of Some Women

Rev. W. D. Simonds addressed a large meeting last night in the First M. E. church, under the auspices of the Seattle Humane Society.

Dr. Simonds dwelt with some severity upon what he called "the kid-glove savagery of women," and condemned the same as one of the hardest problems left to fight.

Referring to this "savagery," he said: "Docked horses have drawn hand-some equipages with insubstantial overcoats. Now has it stopped there; woman has used the chariots of the forest to bedeck her hat.

The humane movement has been laughed at, and a Chicago manufacturer of women's bonnets made the following reply to an address against the practice: 'If a few ladies of Paris would wear live birds on their hats, it would create a market in Chicago next season, despite all efforts of your humane society.'

"God grant," continued the speaker, "that an American woman may be evolved who is sensible enough to find ample decoration for the head dress, without wearing the skins of dead songsters."

The next lecture of the series will be delivered by William H. Thompson, on December 3. Subject, "Humane Education."
