FINDINGS OF FACT IN DOUGLASS DIVORCE CASE FILED

Findings of fact and conclusions of law in the sensational Douglas divorce suit were filed in the superior court this morning, having been drawn up by Judge Morris himself, the attorneys having been unable to agree on the subject.

Harry Douglas brought suit against his wife, Marie Douglas, several months ago, on ground of adultery. Mrs. Douglas succeeded in proving that her husband's allegations of infidelity were not true, and that the divorce he had brought on her and upon his children by bringing the suit on sensational grounds was uncalled for.

Douglas was granted the divorce, but only on grounds of incompatibility of temperament, and Mrs. Douglas was at the time of the granting of the divorce in the permanent custody of her little girl and the custody of her boy until he should be 15 years of age. Douglas, however, was allowed to be the legal guardian of his son.

In spite of the fact that the charges against Mrs. Douglas were disproven, Douglas insisted on embroiling the record with a statement of facts which set forth the fact that Mrs. Douglas had received letters from a man not her husband, and in spite of the advice of his attorneys wished to refer to his wife's indiscretion in a way that would reflect on her character.

Mrs. Douglas' attorneys contended that nothing but the bare facts of the case should be mentioned in the findings.

Considerable interest has been felt by the friends of both parties as to how Judge Morris would have the papers drawn up. The objectionable parts, instigated by Douglas, have been nearly all cut out, the only change in his favor being that he will be permitted to assume complete control of his son when he is 12 instead of 15 years of age, as at first decreed by the court.

Italians Fought When Pay Was Refused

COOPERTOWN, N. Y., Sept. 22.—All is quiet today at the scene of yesterday's riot. The Italians are not yet satisfied that they have not been beat out of their wages, but the killing of one of their number yesterday tended to put a damper on rioting.

One Italian was killed and General Manager Tilton of the Cooperstown & Richfield Springs trolley road, and a deputy were seriously injured in yesterday's fight.

The trouble grew out of the failure to pay the Italian workmen, two of whom had been on strike since the time that the road went into the hands of a receiver. The Italians could not understand the legal technicalities of the case and attempted to force payment by obstructing traffic of the road.

When General Manager Tilton and a score of deputy sheriffs attempted to remove the obstructions the Italians showed fight and the riot ensued. The Italians were put to flight.

PROFESSOR G. W. SCOTT

Who recently arrived in Seattle from Indianapolis, Ind., to assist in the shorthand and English departments of Wilson's Modern Business College. Professor Scott comes to his work in the W. M. B. C. direct from the well known York University College of Indianapolis, leaving behind him a most enviable record as a teacher, not only in that institution, but for five years as principal of one of Indiana's excellent High Schools as well. He has made a special study of Gregg shorthand, as well as of English, and in securing him as assistant in these courses in the W. M. B. C. President Wilson has again emphasized the fact that in Wilson's Modern Business College none but bona fide teachers, men who make teaching their business, and who have served their apprenticeship in other schools, are employed.

No inexperienced, unsophisticated young persons are ever employed under any circumstances to assist in the work at Wilson's Modern Business College. The rigid policy of some school managers in the manner of hiring incompetent, irresponsible teachers because they are cheap has never prevailed in the selection of the teaching force of this big school. Student teachers are not a part of the make-up of the W. M. B. C. Its list of teachers is not padded by the addition of the names of business men who are supposed to be "lecturers" on special typewriter operator as well as stenographer. Thirty-six absolutely new typewriters alone are used in the main typing room of the W. M. B. C. ever made set before him an old style, worn out, rickety old machine, such as is found in the typewriting room of the average business college. Instead, he will find set apart for his use a modern machine, absolutely new, perfectly adjusted, and almost alive to the touch of the operator. He will find standard machines, and not a motley collection of various "bargain" purchases and rentals, another fact worth noting.

Already rated as one of the twenty largest schools in America, Wilson's Modern Business College is fast forging ahead and already enjoys a national reputation. The public are cordially invited to pay a visit to this Seattle institution, and become acquainted with the features that have won such wide and well deserved commendation for the school from the leading educators and business men of this country. Collins Building, James and Second.
