NEW YORK, N. Y.—Making watch guards from shoe laces is the way New York's school children are occupying a good deal of their idle time these days.

The craze, for so it must be termed, extends from one end of the city to the other. Everywhere on the streets, when coming and going to school, children of all ages may be seen making mysterious twists with the laces. The result of the peculiar style of braiding used is a handsome watch guard, both useful and adorning. Many a proud father gladly shows the handiwork of his child by wearing the guard attached to his timepiece. It is a good substitute for the ribbon for metal guard so generally worn.

Where the children learned the trick of weaving the guard is not definitely known. It is believed it originated in the Ghetto. But the idea caught on amazingly and soon the trick went all over the various youngsters have the knack of making the guards quickly and cunningly.

One can imagine what the children did to the braiding crop. It was quickly gobbled up and for a few days there was a famine. Then some enterprising lace manufacturers fell to the secret and delighted the children by producing great quantities of red, yellow, green and white laces to take the place of the black and brown ones. The children had first used. Peddlers stand near schools and on street corners now with bales of laces and they find a ready and profitable market for their wares.

It is difficult to give a clear idea of the secret of making the watch guards, but it is something like this: Take two laces. Make a loop in the center of one and a slit through both sides about an inch from the top. Draw the other lace through the slit and let the four ends hang down. Holding the laces at the loop, turn your fingers upward and, with the other hand, draw two laces of one color over one from each side. Draw over the other two laces, but only half way, then putting the lace under the one previously laid. This system of braiding is carried out until only about an inch of each lace is left. Then the ferrule or steel tip is removed and the ends unravelled, giving a tasseled effect.

The fad is bound to spread to other cities and to the country in the near future.

Yards of Veiling

The automobile veil is most artistic, the fluttering ends, blown out by the wind produce a charming effect. Woman is quick to recognize the dainty pretensions of the new veil and veiling promptly rises in price to meet the demands. The veils are attractive and cost from $2 to $7 each.

One veil is double width, three yards long, and is shirred for a space upon a circular wire, about two inches in diameter. The veil is placed over the hat and falling to the shoulders it is caught up about the throat with the long ends, which have been crossed at the back and are brought round and tied under the chin.

Another veil is not so wide and is crossed in the back and brought up to the front and top of the hat and knotted in a neat bow in rosette effect.

The automobile veil is ambitious and is seen upon the streets. The style will, of course, be for a time modified, the street veil is not much wider than the regular veiling and the ends are crossed at the back of the hat and are simply looped under the chin.

Brown veils are particularly popular and can be worn with any hat. A close veil is worn with these large veils. The close veil is as thin as possible and is drawn tightly about the head before the hat is placed upon the head.

Menu for Luncheon.
Fried Scallops. Cheese Wafers.
Rye Muffins and Butter.
Celery Salad.
Gingerbread and Cocoa.

The scallop is now in season, although perhaps not quite so good as it will be in January and February. It is rapidly coming to be a rival of the oyster and the clam and is cooked in much the same way.

In buying scallops avoid those of a whitish appearance, since they have become blanché for artistic effect. This process of bleaching takes out the flavor. Choose those of a pinkish or yellowish tinge.

Like the oyster, scallops grow tough by long cooking. Fry them, which is probably the favorite method of cooking, parboil them first since this removes the extra moisture and makes them less likely to sputter in the fat.

Fried Scallops. Wash and parboil. Drain and dry thoroughly. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, roll in fine bread crumbs, beaten egg, then crumb again, and fry in smoking hot fat. Cook only a few at a time since they cool the fat quickly. Serve with sauce made by adding one-quarter cup capers, onions parsley, pickles and olives, chopped very fine to one-half cup mayonnaise dressing.

A Royal Wedding Cake.
The wedding cake prepared for the marriage of Princess Alice, of Hattenberg, and Prince Andrew, of Greece, was most fearfully and wonderfully made. There were three tiers in the steeple-like creation. Each tier was covered with a sugar ivy leaf wreath about the base of each.

full of fun and music and well worth seeing for any one who has the blues. It will run during the remainder of the week and at the regular Saturday matinee. There are several clever vaudeville acts in the piece.

"A Minister's Son"
"A Minister's Son," at the Third Avenue theater, is a play which both old and young enjoy. It will run for four nights and at the Saturday matinee.

BERTHA IN PORT

BRINGS NO NEWS OF MISSING NOME STEAMER DISCOVERY

No news of the missing steamer Discovery or of her ill-fated passengers was received on the steamer Bertha, which arrived in port last night from Valdez and Cooks Inlet. At Yakutat the Bertha spoke the United States revenue cutter Rush, which reported nothing heard of the Discovery. The Rush had not as yet completed her search, but until December 1, at which time she spoke the Bertha in Yakutat harbor, she had seen nothing of the lost steamer.

The Bertha brought 51 passengers, among whom were Captain S. B. Shaw of the Cooks Inlet Transportation Company; A. G. Madders, who has been studying that section of the country for the department of agriculture; J. R. Bosel, oil expert of the Kayak district, was also a passenger down on the Bertha.

TOLD THE TRUTH AND GOES TO JAIL
German Army Officer Writes a Book About His Comrades and Suffers for It.

BERLIN.—Lieut. Hilsa, hitherto an insignificant junior in a remote German town in the Franco-German frontier, has become the most prominent personage in the German empire. Lieut. Hilsa was a keen observer, and he embodied his impressions of life in a small garrison in a novel entitled, "In a Garrison Town."

In this book he drew lurid pictures of the corruption of the army, portrayed the officers as cowards, swindlers, cheaters at cards, and coarse bullies. Their wives conducted saloons indiscriminately with their husbands' comrades, and the whole atmosphere of the garrison town is unclean.

DR. SHOOP'S RHEUMATIC CURE
Costs Nothing if It Fails
Any honest person who suffers from Rheumatism is welcome to this offer. For years I searched everywhere to find a specific for Rheumatism. For nearly 20 years I worked to this end. At last, in Germany my search was rewarded. I found a costly chemical that did not disappoint me as other Rheumatic prescriptions had disappointed physicians everywhere.

I do not mean that Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure can turn bony joints into flesh again. That is impossible. But it will drive from the blood the poison that causes pain and swelling, and then, that is the end of Rheumatism. I know this so well that I will furnish for a full month my Rheumatic Cure on trial. I cannot cure all cases within a month. It would be unreasonable to expect that. But most cases will yield within 28 days. This trial treatment will convince you that Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure is a powerful agent against disease that is irresistible.

My offer is made to convince you of my faith. My faith is but the outcome of experience—of actual knowledge. I know what it can do. And I know this so well that I will furnish my remedy on trial. Simply write a postal for my book on Rheumatism. I will then arrange with a druggist in your vicinity so that you can secure six bottles of Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure to make the test. You may take it a full month on trial. If it succeeds, the cost to you is $5.50. If it fails, the loss is mine and mine alone. It will be left entirely to you. I mean that exactly. If you say the trial is not satisfactory, I don't expect a penny from you.

I have no samples. Any mere sample that can affect chronic Rheumatism must be dragged to the verge of danger. I use no such drugs, for it is dangerous to take them. You must get the disease out of the blood. My remedy does that even in the most difficult, obstinate cases. It has cured the oldest cases that I ever met, and in all my experience, in all of my 2000 tests, I never found another remedy that would cure chronic case in ten.

Write me and I will send you the book. Try my remedy for a month, for it can't harm you, anyway. If it fails, the loss is mine. Address Dr. Shoop, Box 536, Racine, Wis.
Mild cases not chronic are often cured by one or two bottles. At all druggists.

SHOCKED HIM

Thomas Mason filed suit in the superior court yesterday afternoon against the Seattle General hospital to recover $25,000 damages for injuries caused by an electric shock, which he says he sustained while a patient in the hospital. He claims that a nurse wrapped him in an electric blanket and then went away and left him. Some one turned on an extra voltage, he alleges, and he was permanently crippled.

BROWN MUST EXPLAIN
James Brown and another man were seen shortly before 12 o'clock last night carrying a trunk from some place on the south side to the waterfront. Patrolmen Landwehr and Rossier saw them. Upon the approach of the officers Brown's partner dropped the trunk and ran. Brown was caught before he could get away and was taken to jail.

A REED SHAKEN WITH THE WIND

Without Will Power, Courage, Ambition, Energy or Hope, the Dyspeptic Is Willing to Give Up the Struggle

The confirmed dyspeptic has a little interest in life as any human being. He is unfitted for his duties and is indifferent to its charms. He is unable to enjoy the business and social relations that constitute the life of the average man. All his hopes are absorbed by the one hope to get well and again be able to enjoy the good things of life. Until this is realized, he is sick at heart and feels himself to be of little use.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the sufferers' tree of life. They will cure him and bring him health and happiness just as sure and certain as he takes them. They are sure because they are natural and no other cure but a natural one is sure. They act on the food and digest it just as well as a stomach would. They contain exactly the same chemical properties as the digestive fluids of the stomach. By putting Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in a bottle or jar with any kind of food, meat, eggs or vegetables, with sufficient amount of water, the process of digestion is carried out just as it is in a healthy human stomach and in the same time. There is consequently no unnatural disturbance of the digestive organs resulting from the use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. They relieve the weak and worn-out stomach of its work and permit it to rest up and recuperate and regain its normal health and strength. A well-known Buffalo physician says: "I prescribe Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets on all occasions as a relief for weakened and run-down stomachs. I find they contain all the ingredients necessary for the proper digestion of the food and will do more to give the stomach the needed rest than any medicine I could prescribe. They have never failed to give immediate relief in all my cases and I do not hesitate to recommend them to all sufferers from dyspepsia."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for sale by all druggists at 25 cents a box.

The Stage

"Ben Hur"
"Ben Hur," the great spectacular drama is playing to the largest houses in the history of the Grand opera house this week. The piece is one of the most magnificent ever staged, and the mechanical effects are wonderful. The acting is not especially good, but then in a play like "Ben Hur" that is a minor consideration. The chariot scene is as effectively put on here as it was in the east, and people are coming from all the surrounding towns to see the play about which they have been reading in the magazines since it was first put on in New York three years ago.

"Looking for a Wife"
"Looking for a Wife," at the Seattle theater, is not exactly the sort of farce comedy that one reads about in press agent notices, but then it is
