Big Vessel Founders on Lake With 19 Men Aboard—Storm Causes Many Marine Disasters

CHICAGO, Dec. 2.—The steel steamer Ira H. Owen, carrying a crew of 19, is believed to have gone down with all hands during the recent storm on Lake Superior. The Owen was last sighted last Tuesday by the steamer H. B. Nye while off Portage group. The Owen was showing distress signals and seemed to be in a bad way. The Nye was almost helpless in the storm and could do nothing to assist the Owen, which was soon lost to sight in the blinding snowstorm. When the storm cleared two hours later the Owen had disappeared.

Yesterday Captain M. K. Chamberlain, of the steamer Sir William Siemens, reported at Ashland, Wis., that while 12 miles east of Michigan island he ran into a mass of wreckage, consisting of chains, stanchions, the top of a cabin and other debris. Floating in the midst of the wreckage were a number of life-preservers marked "S. S. Ira H. Owen."

The owners of the vessel have given up hope.

The Owen had a cargo of 16,000 bushels of barley. She was built in Cleveland in 1887 and was insured for $100,000. Her cargo of barley was also insured.

Steel Barge Founders.
BOSTON, Dec. 2.—The foundering of the new steel barge Delawanna and the loss of four persons on board, including Captain John H. Munsey and his wife, was reported here yesterday by the tug Scranton, which had been towing the Delawanna from New York. The barge went down in a heavy sea at 8:30 o'clock Thursday night, about eight miles east by south from Minot's light.

The lost were: Captain John H. Munsey, Mrs. Munsey, his wife; the engineer and cook of the barge.

10 Vessels Blown to Sea.
S. JOHN'S, N. F., Dec. 2.—Ten vessels with crews aggregating 100 men, bound from St. John's to various ports on the coast, were driven seaward in a fierce gale. Much apprehension is felt for their safety.

Food Sent to Crew.
ASHLAND, Wis., Dec. 2.—The big steamer Corey is on Gull Island reef northeast of Michigan island, out 15 feet and eight feet forward. The crew is still on the vessel. Provisions were sent from Ashland yesterday afternoon.

Suffered Terribly.
MILWAUKEE, Wis., Dec. 2.—The steamer Harlem, of the Western Transit lines, arrived yesterday with 17 men of the crew of the steamer Charles Parnell, which was burned opposite Squaw island, Lake Michigan, Thanksgiving day. The men suffered frightfully from the cold during the hours they spent in small boats, waiting for a rescuing vessel to sight them.

Total Loss.
NORTHPORT, Mich., Dec. 2.—The steel steamer Vega, ore-laden, is a total wreck on Fox island, at the foot of Lake Michigan. The crew of 19 men was taken off by Indian fishermen and was brought here Thursday night.

Canadian Steamer Wrecked.
DULUTH, Minn., Dec. 2.—A message received here from Port Arthur, Ontario, says the Canadian steamer Monkshaven is ashore at Pis Island near Port Arthur. The crew is safe, but the vessel is a total loss.

The case has no parallel in criminal jurisprudence. Four thousand, one hundred and twenty-five veniremen were summoned, and 1,329 examined. # THIS CITY WILL LEAD

CODFISH TRADE CENTERING IN SEATTLE—BOATS OUTFIT HERE IN PREFERENCE TO OTHER PORTS

That Seattle will eventually lead all other Pacific coast ports in the codfish trade and may equal, if not excel, those on the Atlantic coast within the next few years, is the firm belief of fishermen conversant with the codfish industry of the Pacific today.

The past two years have shown that Seattle is gradually developing into a home port for vessels engaged in that trade. Companies which have operated in San Francisco for years are now planning to equip and operate vessels from this port, besides building packing houses on the sound.

Fit Out Here.
With the opening of the season next March vessels will "fit out" in this city. This means that $180,000 will be spent here next spring. The revenue to the business men of the city greatly exceeds this amount, as that figure only includes the sum required for placing the vessels in readiness to depart for the fishing grounds.

On the return of the vessels from the fishing grounds they have to be hauled out and repaired, which will easily add another $30,000 to the former sum, making a total of about $210,000 circulated in the city during a codfishing year.

Among the vessels which will fit out in Seattle next spring are the Duck, Carrier Dove, Nellie Colman, Harold Bleekum, Ida May, Mary Ann, Joseph Rusa, Alice, Fanny Dillard and Lizzie Colby. A number of these vessels are owned in Anacortes.

P. F. Norby, who has fitted out more fishing vessels than any other concern on the sound, stated this morning that the prospects for an increase in the industry never looked better. In discussing the question Saturday morning he said:

"The feet this year will be increased by two vessels that I know of. One will be the schooner Fortuna, Captain Purgeson, which leaves for the north Tuesday. She is establishing fishing stations for the Blume Codfish company.

"Needs New Location.
"It is the intention of that company to fish during the entire year, and with that end in view it is seeking to locate in the north. The Fortuna will return to Seattle and outfit in the spring. In addition to that vessel the company intends to operate a barkentine.

"There are also the Alaska Codfishing company, of West Seattle, and the King & Wing company, the packing house of which is located at Alki Point. Both of these companies employ from 20 to 30 men all the year round.

"We will have about 12 vessels out of this port for the codfishing banks next spring. At a conservative estimate these vessels spend between $5,000 and $6,000 in outfitting. They also employ about an average of 30 men apiece, who receive an average wage of $300 for the season's work. This would mean that something like $108,000 would be expended in salaries. The majority of these men make their homes in Seattle. It can readily be seen that the codfish industry is not one to be sneezed at."

GETTING READY FOR CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 2.—Senators and representatives are arriving here in large numbers and everything is getting ready for the opening of congress. Many of the members are loaded down with bills, which they intend to introduce at the earliest opportunity. The democratic members of the house held a caucus this afternoon and nominated John Sharp Williams for speaker of the house. The republican caucus will be held in the evening.

BURGLARS BREAK INTO HARDWARE STORE UNDER GLARE OF ELECTRIC ARC LIGHT

In spite of police protection and underneath the glare of several arc lights, the Rainier Hardware company's store at 219 E. Second, was entered by burglars last night and hundreds of dollars worth of knives, razors and revolvers carried off.

An entrance was effected at an alley window, which was broken by the thieves. That they worked hurriedly is determined by several marks of blood along the edges of the broken glass.

Although several patrolmen pass the hardware store nearly every hour, the break was not discovered until the proprietor unlocked the place this morning.

Cash drawers were jimmied and $4 taken.

Poiled With Safe.
A safe in the company's office bearing the printed advice: "This safe is open," was tampered with, but although the proprietor explained to the sleuths that he had left it unlocked last night, the burglars monkeyed with the combination until the safe refused to respond to the manipulations of the hardware man this morning.

The thieves secured 200 pocket knives, four safety razors, a number of other razors and six revolvers, besides the money from the cash boxes.

Police Arresting Confidence Men

CHICAGO, Dec. 2.—The offices of the Pacific Underwriters' Trust company, claiming to have headquarters in San Francisco, were raided by the police this morning. E. C. Talmadge was arrested and charged with working a confidence game. Miss Frances Mason, sister of ex-Senator Mason, and several others are the complaining witnesses. They allege that Talmadge offered to finance companies needing money for development and got preliminary fees. The police declare that the operations of the company extend all over the country. They claim that the offices of twelve like concerns will be raided.

DISCUSSED MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP

That municipal ownership should be an issue in the spring election was the burden of the address of Judge John E. Humphries at the meeting of the West Woodland improvement club Friday night. Mr. Humphries argued that there was no reason why the city would not be amply able to finance such an undertaking.
