

THEY WAIT ANXIOUSLY

LOCAL BOWLERS WILL ASK REPRESENTATIVES AT SALT LAKE WHY THEY FELL DOWN SO—OTHER SPORT DOPE.

Well, if the quiet of Seattle tennis topplers were unable to land first place at the successful Salt Lake tourney of the Western Bowling congress, they can certainly travel a torrid pace in special matches.

In a match game for a $100 side bet, the local crew showed teams representing Denver, Salt Lake and Portland the way to win by piling the wood for the sizzling team score of 2,394. Denver went some, soaking the sticks for a count of 2,879.

The total score by the Seattle stick-stingers is 223 pins better than that of the Denver Brunsvicks, who won first place in the regular tournament games.

Seattle bowling fans are anxiously awaiting the arrival of the local lads who fell down so badly at the Salt Lake tourney. Just what struck the locals during the meet is not known, but it is due to doughnuts that a bunch of good excuses will be forthcoming.

Cold weather did not deter the enthusiastic members of the Seattle Gun club yesterday at their shoot from the Salina bay traps.

Eighteen members were out and some good bird-smashing resulted. The first event, 15 birds, was a sort of warming up affair. The other four trials, 25 birds, were hugely enjoyed and constituted the first half of the shoot. The finish will take place next Sunday.

The Champion Intermediates, of local basket ball fame, went up against the real thing last night in the Y. M. C. A. gym, and met defeat at the hands of the Seattle Reds to the tune of 54 to 40.

This gives the Seattle Reds undisputed title to the championship of the city. The victory of the Reds is all the more remarkable as the boys have not been in harness more than a week. The team is composed of Mattson and Meagher, high school athletes; Atwood, Hemis, Professor Lee, assistant physical instructor at the Y. M. C. A.

There will be no British Columbia baseball teams in the Northwestern league this season.

Only one city in the province has a chance to compete with the other teams, and that is Vancouver. The Vancouver bunch had enough of baseball last season and are glad that a Grays Harbor team is to enter the league. A shortage of players and last year's heavy expenses were the main factors that persuaded the Vancouver people to withdraw.

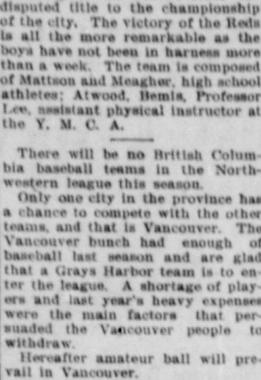

Hereafter amateur ball will prevail in Vancouver.

Skagway is looming up on the bowling horizon. A tournament is now on for the championship and many creditable scores are being tabulated.

A rattling banquet is scheduled for tomorrow night between Joe Gans and Mike (Twin) Sullivan at Chutes park, Los Angeles. The go is to be held in the residence district of the southern city and much opposition has been displayed by opponents of pugilism. It is certain, however, that the go will be pulled off as per schedule.

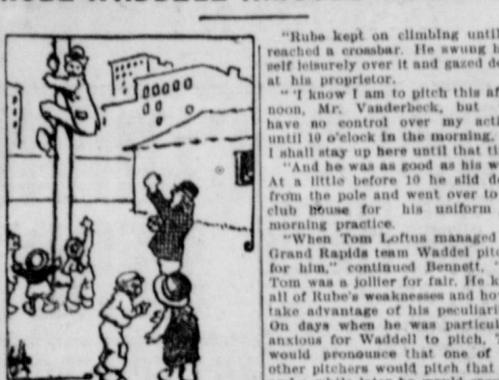

Dick Padden is getting together a fine array of players at St. Paul, and the fans are already talking of a one-two-three team, which should be good enough for any team.

RUBE WADDELL AMUSED THE KIDS

Rube Waddell, about whom a great many stories have been written, some of them true and others pleasant fiction, played with the Detroit team at the time Vanderbeck was the guiding spirit of that organization. "One morning Van went out to the park," says Charlie Bennett, "to see about some work he was having done there, and was thunderstruck to see Waddell shining his way up a telegraph pole to the intense amusement of a crowd of very small boys, who stood at the foot of the pole and cheered him on. Waddell likes boys and he plays with them whenever the chance occurs. Van ran over to the foot of the pole and yelled to Rube: 'What the merry blue blazes are you doing up there? Don't you know you are to pitch this afternoon? Come on down at once.'

EXERCISE FOR THE ASPIRING ATHLETE

"How can I increase my athletic powers?" is a question often put to me by some bright and aspiring young athlete. Perhaps he is a sprinter who wants to cut down the 100-yard record. Perhaps he wants long distance honors, and knows that for success he must have endurance and wind. Perhaps he is a tennis player and wants to increase his quickness and muscular control. He may be a boxer, a wrestler, a "gym" man.

To all of these my answer is the same. I advise, quite outside the special training on the track, the court or the mat, the daily practice of such exercises as will help to general bodily development—such as will increase the chest capacity, stimulate the vital organs and limber up the muscles.

The following are specimens of the kind of exercise which in the best sense of that much abused word are, I believe, "natural."

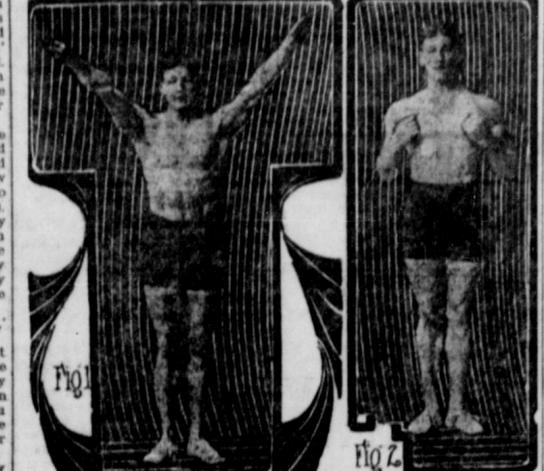

Exercise No. 1, for carriage and development—Heels together, arms hanging. Take breath raising arms (see figure 1). Holding breath, clasp the hands over the head and stretch firmly upward.

Exercise No. 2, for chest power and "wind"—Heels together, lightly closed fists resting over the nipples (see figure 2). Now inhale full breath, and while holding the same expand and contract the chest so as to bring the clenched hands first nearer together and then farther apart.

REX SMITH IS SHINING STAR

TAKEN AS A WHOLE, HOWEVER, BASEBALL OUTLOOK AT "U" IS NOT VERY ENCOURAGING.

The athletic situation at the university is not very bright at the present time. In baseball the known quantities are few, as the old stars have in few cases failed to turn out. Coach Cutter, however, is doing his best to round some of the raw material into shape.

Among those showing up well are Teats, O'Brien and Carey.

It is hoped that the game with the high school in the near future will show up some good ones.

The shining star in track work is Captain Rex Smith, who promises to make up for any deficiency. He is running faster and jumping farther than ever this year. He is easily jumping over 22 feet in the broad, a distance several inches over the university record.

Coach Cutter says he will run 100 yards in 16 seconds or under this year. He will get a line on the freshmen in their meet with the high school two weeks from Saturday.

There is rejoicing on both sides of the Atlantic as the result of the match made between Bowker, the English fighter, and Abe Attell, the premier American 120-pound boy. An international battle is always of great importance to the pugilistic fans because of the national feeling always stirred up. Attell will be a big favorite on this side because of his recent performances. Bowker is a fast youngster who has a style of fighting similar to Britt and possesses a better punch for his inches and ounces than the coast boy. I look to see Attell win, but I believe that the battle will go very near the limit if both round into shape.

CITY BRIEFS

The corporations committee of the city council yesterday voted to extend the time for the completion of the extension of the Ravenna park car line to the Cavalry cemetery. The franchise called for the completion of the extension by March 31.

Assistant City Engineer H. W. Scott, in a communication to the fire and water committee of the city council, has recommended the erection of a special wharf for the handling of explosives. The estimated cost of such a wharf is $2,000.

The Alaska-Yukon fair will be launched April 4 when the 50 trustees of the proposed exposition will meet and formally organize. At a meeting held late yesterday afternoon, called by Mayor Hallinger and attended by President J. E. Chubb and members of the executive board, Secretary Sheffield of the Alaska club and Godfrey Chelander, the original promoter of the fair, were instructed to arrange the banquet for April 4.

A book social will be given in the parlors of the Christian Home for Young Women, 907 8th av. next Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The ladies of the board of directors will serve a luncheon, and a musical programme has been arranged. Every one availing themselves of the invitation to be present are requested to bring a book, to be added to the library for the girls.

A 14-story steel hotel building will be erected on the northeast corner of 6th av. and Jackson st. by Morris Thomsen, of the Centennial Mill Co., and A. M. Springer, a well known city property holder. The property was recently purchased for $50,000 and is within two blocks of the union depot.

DO YOU PLAY BASEBALL?

AMERICAN ATHLETES WHO WILL ENTER OLYMPIAN GAMES

Four well known American athletes are shown in the accompanying picture. They will compete in the Olympian games at Athens April 22 to May 2 as members of the American team. W. A. Schick is a Harvard athlete and will compete in the 400-meter run. Richard Sheldon, who will compete in the shot-putting event, is a member of the New York A. C. His best performance is 46 feet 2 1/2 inches. Myer Prinstein, of the Irish-American A. C., will take part in the running broad jump. William G. Frank, another member of the Irish-American A. C., is entered in the Marathon race of 42 kilometers.

NEW Y. M. C. A. BUILDING

The new Y. M. C. A. building will be built at Fourth av. and Madison st., by Contractor Alex Pearson, as soon as the necessary papers are drawn up and signed.

The building committee met yesterday and decided to push the construction of the new home. Several changes will be incorporated in the plans, which will considerably reduce the originally estimated cost.

The committee will spend $150,000 on the new building.

SPORTING BREVITIES

Charlie Farrell, after 18 years' service on the diamond, has decided to quit the game and will engage in the hotel business near New York. He was one of the greatest catchers ever identified with the National league.

Kazzi, the Turk, made such a poor showing in his wrestling match with George Bothner, the American

Where Baking Begins Right

The baking of the NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY begins with right material, and every step thereafter through the whole process of baking is right. There is not one point of quality that care, skill and modern bakeries could make better. It is perfection itself—through and through.

It ends Right when it reaches your table untouched by strange hands, untainted by odors. The quality, oven-flavor and freshness are preserved in a dust and moisture proof package, distinguished by the trade mark here shown. It always appears in red and white on each end of the package and warrants the perfect condition of the contents. For example try packages of GRAHAM CRACKERS—possessing the rich, nutty flavor of graham flour—unlike any graham crackers you ever tasted. FROSTANA—a temptingly delicious union of biscuit and fruit—the newest delicacy of the National Biscuit Company.

ability—Take weight on left foot. Swing the right freely back and forth (see figure 3). Swing left in the same manner, taking weight on right. Use least possible effort. In the same way swing the arms both singly and together.

If Rube Waddell ever jumps to the outlaws again he will have to play with the Harriburg team, as that club has his name on its reserve list, and the outlaws are as close sticklers for their own rights as the members of organized baseball.
