

UNKNOWN DEAD NUMBER 22

(By United Press.)
 CLYDELAND, O., March 7.—In the presence of a row of 16 coffins, awaiting that many victims of the earthquake disaster at Collingwood, Ohio, was said this morning in St. Paul's church. Several funerals will be held tomorrow and Monday. The officials report of the coroner shows that 167 were killed. Of that 22 bodies still await identification. No trace of the remainder of five pupils can be found. Their bodies were entirely consumed by the fire.

The body identified as that of Katherine Miller, a teacher, whose home was in Pittsburg, has been discovered to be that of a man, presumably John Krajnyak, who disappeared at the time of the fire. It is thought he lost his life in trying to rescue some of the children.

Miss Weller has not been found, however, and it is believed that she perished also.

SEE SIMPLE SIMON IN THE MIDDLE? WHY, THAT'S KING ALFONSO TAKING AN UNGUARDED CAB RIDE IN SEVILLE.

MADRID, March 7.—King Alfonso is to visit Barcelona March 12, to greet a German squadron, which is expected to arrive there. The queen is to go with him. Both King Edward and King William have protested, but Alfonso is evidently not afraid. Barcelona is the bomb center of Europe, and great precautions will be taken to protect the king. On an average two or three bombs go off at Barcelona every week, sometimes with damage to persons and property and sometimes harmless. The police have been, practically powerless to find out who makes the bombs, or whether they are let off by way of practice, or because of a general desire on the part of the anarchists to terrorize the city.

Recently, when Alfonso visited Seville, he rode about in a common cab with a couple of companions and no guard, and otherwise behaved as if there were no anarchists in the kingdom. Lisbon assassinations, however, alarmed the Spanish authorities, and cab rides in Barcelona will be tabooed.

Orthopedic Hospital Board Meeting.

The board of trustees of the Orthopedic hospital met yesterday in the Chamber of Commerce, Lowman building. Most encouraging reports of the progress of the hospital were read. The treasurer reported the receipts for the month of February $1,611, and the disbursements only $483. A cash balance now remains in the bank equal to $1,128. The construction of the convalescent children's "Fresh Air home," corner Crockett and Warren sts., is progressing rapidly, and when finished will be a sanitary, comfortable and attractive as the heart of the most loving parent could wish for her sick child while being nursed back into the happiness of good health.

The ladies of the orthopedic board have proven most successful and enthusiastic workers, and have created a lasting charity organization that will long be the pride of Seattle. One of the many evidences of the good they have accomplished was illustrated by a very affecting letter which was read from a poor widowed mother whose 6-year-old child has been cured and restored to a life of independence and usefulness.

Rev. Edward Lincoln Smith, John Davis and Samuel Crawford were re-elected on the advisory board. Mrs. Willis B. Herr was elected to fill a vacancy on the board of trustees.

The board moved to accept the kind offer of the Young Ladies' guild to pay the expenses of one of the sick cases received this month and help to provide for the child until its ultimate recovery at the Orthopedic Hospital home.

CAPT. AMUNDSEN OUTLINES TRIP

(By United Press.)
 OAKLAND, Cal., March 7.—Captain Roald Amundsen, who is in Oakland, says he expects to lead his third expedition to the Arctic in July, 1910. "My course will be through the Bering sea and then straight into the ice of the unknown region," he said. "It will take four or five years perhaps to drift across the ice into the Arctic sea, but I will take enough provisions for a five-year cruise."

Captain Amundsen will sail in his small vessel, the Gjøa, which already has a reputation as an Arctic traveler. His expedition will be purely scientific. He will study the currents of the sea and the climate and magnetic phenomena. He will not hunt for the north pole, because, he says, this pole is merely a geographical point and is of no importance to human knowledge.

On March 14 Capt. Amundsen will leave for Seattle.

ACTIVITY IN REAL ESTATE

Since placing Navy Yard City on the market two weeks ago, the Bremerton Development company has sold 192 lots, which is the record for sales in any addition opened up since the great real estate activity in Seattle over a year ago.

Navy Yard City lies just west of the navy yard, adjoining Charleston on the west, and consists of 945 lots. The company is now laying sidewalks, grading streets and laying water mains. A large public dock is also being constructed and will be completed within 30 days.

Bremerton, Charleston and all districts in the vicinity of the navy yard are now experiencing the greatest real estate boom in their history. So great has been the demand for lots and business locations that travel to and from these points by prospective purchasers and real estate agents has completely outstripped the Bremerton company, operating the Bremerton boat line, to increase the number of its boats from three to ten daily.

Citizens of Bremerton and real estate dealers expect even greater activity during the summer.

CRUELTY OF AN ARMY CAPTAIN

(By United Press.)
 BOISE, Idaho, March 7.—The taking of testimony in the court martial of Captain Clarke D. Dudley, of the 14th United States cavalry, was concluded late yesterday. The decision will be submitted to the war department for approval before being made public. The prosecution established the fact that Dudley, while commanding officer at the Boise barracks, caused the imprisonment of a private in a mark closet, two by five feet, for four days, allowing him bread and water once a day, and that another private was forced to wear a placard on his back with an inscription "bad, bad boy." The accused admitted that these punishments were administered, but claimed that extreme measures were necessary on account of the incorrigibility of the men.
