

LOVE WORKS WONDERS FOR POOR WOMAN

People in Green Lake District Show That Their Hearts Are Right—Build Home for Mrs. Hubbard.

"Surely my cup of joy is filled to the brim and running over."

This is the way Mrs. Ellen Hubbard, the woman who was penniless and homeless, expressed her gratitude when told of the many good things in store for her and her babies.

There are eight children ranging in age from golden haired Carrie, aged 14 years, to a little tot of 2 months.

This is the woman who was left absolutely without a cent in her possession in a cold, dark basement on Yesler way, just as the stork visited her the last time, a little over two months ago.

At that time, through the goodness of the county commissioners and a few friends, she was provided with a small cottage and a few provisions at the north end of Green Lake.

She is to have a home.

But now even better things are in store for her.

She is to have a home all of her own. And if the neighbors are able, she is to move in free from all obligations.

Mrs. Charles A. Russell is the woman who is responsible for this sudden turn of her fortune. Reading an account of Mrs. Hubbard's destitution in The Star last July, Mrs. Russell immediately called upon the half crazed woman and watched over her tenderly until she was provided with a better home. Since then she has busied herself with providing a permanent home for Mrs. Hubbard.

And she has succeeded admirably. A lot will be purchased from the Jones & Thomas Co. for $325. Of this amount Mr. Thomas will donate $25, O. N. Marshall, the manager of the concern, will give another $25, and Merryfield & Nargson, the agents for the property, will throw off their commission, which is another $25. The rest will be paid in $5 installments.

The Blossam-Provine Lumber Co. will provide sufficient lumber to construct a three-room bungalow for $75, half of what the lumber is worth.

Several of the neighbors, including Mr. Russell, will furnish the house free of all charge, and Joseph Jefferson and Will and Jack Kelley will plaster and lath the house gratuitously, besides furnishing their own material.

The brick for the chimney will all be furnished free of charge, as will be the material for laying the floor by C. H. Maust and another coal and brick dealer. And to start her right in her new home, Thompson & Son, grocers, will furnish her with $2 worth of provisions.

Expressman Also Helps.

Because she is paying a rental of $10 per month on the little cottage she now lives in, Charles Dale, an expressman, has promised to move the family into a little cottage near the site of the proposed home, where she can live without paying rent, and thus save a few dollars in rent until the home is finished.

The only incomplete feature of the scheme is the $75 to pay for the lumber. The price is way below what the lumber is worth, and is said by the lumber people to be below the cost of manufacture.

It is this $75 that will have to be paid before the work can be started on the cottage. And because of the great sacrifice which is being made by the neighborhood, it is thought that this money could be secured from other sources in the city.

It is the strict meritorious feature of the case that has caused the whole neighborhood around the city limits at 85th and Greenwood av. to respond so heartily to the call for aid.

Here is a chance to do a woman and eight children a real service. Remember:

"Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the last of these ye have done it unto me."

JOY RIDERS FLEE FROM HIGHWAYMEN

Daring Chauffeur Makes Time Down the Road When Told to Throw Up His Hands.

In an attempt to save himself and a woman passenger from a holdup, C. E. Burnham, a chauffeur, employed by the White Steamer company, turned on two bold highwaymen on Lake Washington boulevard Saturday night, and, amid a shower of bullets, made record time for the next few minutes in the direction of the fair grounds.

Burnham and his passengers, a man and a woman, had left the south gate of the exposition late in the evening and were driving toward the city when they came to a tree which had been felled across the driveway. The chauffeur got out of his machine and tried to clear the passageway but the tree was too large for him.

Another Victim Approaches.

About that time Burnham saw another benzine buggy approaching from the opposite direction. Alfred Larson, who lives on West Yesler and who was the male passenger in the halted car, got out and flagged the oncoming machine to prevent an accident. Burnham had found the attempt to clear the tree out of the road fruitless and he turned the car around. Just then the two thugs, masked in dark cloth, came out of the brush and presented arms. On the command to throw up his hands Burnham threw open the throttle, leaving Larson to his fate, took Larson's companion at breakneck speed over the road they had just come a few minutes before, while the desperadoes fired half a dozen shots after the machine.

Several of the bullets punctured the rear end of the car and one took a piece out of Burnham's headgear, satisfied with blazing away at the fleeing couple, the highwaymen turned on the other machine, lined up the occupants, together with Larson, who had been left out of the other car, and relieved them all of their cash.

He Became Excited.

Larson, who had $15 in a chamion skin purse, attempted to save it by slipping the pouch into his sock, but he pulled his purse out of his pocket upside down and when searched the thugs found the fifteen plunks in his hip pocket.

The names of the women in the machines are kept secret for reasons best known to the chauffeurs, who admit that they were all "joy riding" at the time of the holdup.

After taking what money they could find, paying no heed to watches and jewelry, the masked highwaymen passed directly in front of the auto lights and hid themselves into the brush whence they came. "We could easily have killed them both if we had been armed," said J. E. Merrill, of the Big Five Automobile Co., who was driving the car in which the victims were riding. "The robbers took about $50 from the man and woman in my car, although the man had more. They got $1.65 from me."

FALLS DEAD ON THE EVE OF TRIUMPH

George Bech's "Old Glorious Glory" Will Be Sung for First Time Today, But Composer Is Dead.

On the eve of his triumph, when his composition was to have been sung by a thousand children's voices in the Natural Theatre, as thousands looked on, George Bech, composer of "Old Glorious Glory," fell dead at his home, 1423 31st av.

Mr. Bech died suddenly Saturday afternoon, while preparing to go to the exposition grounds for the final rehearsal.

His composition will be sung by a chorus of 1000 children, with waving American flags, in the Natural Theatre today.

The composer had been talking of his great fortune in having his song sung for the first time on Seattle Day, before such a crowd as he knew would fill the Natural Theatre. He remarked to his wife that he was not feeling very well and believed that he would lie down for a few minutes before going to the grounds.

When he did not return, she went upstairs and found him dead. A physician pronounced it heart failure.

Mr. Bech was 66 years old. He was born in Denmark. A widow and one son, George Bech, Jr., of California, who is now on his way here, survive him.

The same chorus of children which will render "Old Glorious Glory" this afternoon, will sing it while his coffin is being lowered into the grave.

Rolly Woten forgot the tide was out yesterday afternoon and dived off a pier at Luna Park into two feet of water.

He struck his head on the bottom and was painfully hurt. He is at the Providence hospital suffering from a bruised head, a strained back and a raging headache.

Piano Sale Extraordinary We Had to Quit

But Delayed Cars Are Here Now and Selling Will Be Resumed at Eilers Commencing Tuesday Morning Promptly at 9 o'Clock.

Bring $5 or $6 and Get a Nice New Piano Now. Prices $138, $162, $146, etc. Never heretofore was it possible to secure so much genuine piano value for the money. Probably never again. Come first thing Tuesday morning.

This sale came to an abrupt stop Wednesday noon. The remaining two carloads in this sale were to arrive early in the week, but they met with unusual delay.

Within three days after the first announcement of the sale so many instruments were sold that we had to stop our advertising.

Since Wednesday noon we made no deliveries and simply sold these fine pianos by sample.

We are glad to announce that at last the two cars have arrived. The additional forty-two pianos are now on sale. The prices are $138, $162, $146. Pay $5 cash and $5 a month. There are eighteen $300 and $350 styles reduced, $127, $164 and $154. On these terms are $6 cash and $6 a month.

If you wish to pay cash, a premium of 4 per cent goes to any one wishing to pay in full within thirty days.

See these pianos, note the reductions; no such occasion for securing a piano so tremendously under price will be presented throughout the East.

We found two well-known piano manufacturers with a large stock of finished pianos. They were terribly anxious to realize. We secured these latest high-grade pianos at a most extraordinary reduction. We pass this advantage along to wideawake midsummer buyers.

Bear in mind, we guarantee every instrument as to quality, and also as to price. Your money back if at any time within six months you can buy the same grade of pianos elsewhere, East or West, at anywhere near such low price.

Should you later on want the best in the world, the Chickering or the Kimball, or that beautiful art piano, the Lester, or the Pianola Piano, we will any time within two years allow total price paid for these pianos in exchange toward the former.
