

WAPPY IS GRILLED BY CLUB

The Beacon Hill Improvement club last night demanded the suspension of Chief of Police Wappenstein and at the same time went on record as having implicit confidence in Councilman Eugene Way and Col. H. H. Thompson.

There was but one dissenting voice, that of Dr. Clarence A. Holmes, who contended that Mayor Gill and not Wappenstein was responsible for the wholesale violations of the law.

Ole Hanson contended that Wappenstein having taken an oath to enforce the law could not fall back on the responsibility of Mayor Gill. "I personally told Chief Wappenstein of the gambling that was being conducted in Seattle after I had visited about every gambling house in town," said Hanson. "Wappenstein admitted the truth of my statements and assured me that gambling didn't hurt the city, whereas I'd make a lot of enemies for myself if I didn't leave the matter alone."

Wappy is Responsible.

"It makes no difference whether the mayor or the chief of police was primarily responsible for the open gambling, Wappenstein did not enforce the law. Now that there is an investigation to be made, it is essential that Wappenstein be removed from a position where he can intimidate witnesses. We can have no investigation with Wappenstein chief of police."

Ole Hanson corroborated Col. Thompson's statement that Wappenstein offered to cut Thompson in on the gambling graft if Thompson would be good. After commending Thompson and Way, the resolutions read:

"That we have no faith in the word of any chief of police with such a record during the past year of protecting dives, allowing open and notorious gambling, or allowing badge houses to flaunt their red badge of white slavery in the faces of our citizens."

"That we demand of Mayor Hiram C. Gill that he shall forthwith suspend, during the present investigation, the chief of police in order that witnesses may testify freely without fear of the third degree and without being intimidated by Chief of Police Wappenstein."

"That if it is proved that Wappenstein has been unfaithful to his trust, that he has knowingly allowed crimes to be committed, that he has protected lawbreakers, and protected vice districts, that his suspension shall be made permanent."

"And that we demand of the prosecuting attorney of this county that he shall prosecute said C. W. Wappenstein in the courts of this state in case he shall be shown to be false to his oath as a peace officer."

LOS ANGELES HAS A POLICEMAN NOW.

MRS. ALICE WELLS, LOS ANGELES, Cal., Sept. 2.—Los Angeles has appointed a woman a police officer. She is Mrs. Alice Stebbins Wells.

Mrs. Wells is the only municipally paid police woman in the U. S., though there are women connected with the police departments of various cities in the capacity of matrons, nurses, etc.

The chief duties of the new policeman—or is it policewoman?—will be to inspect dance halls, penny arcades and moving picture shows and to see that the proprietors of these places run them in accordance with the laws governing them.

"Young people must be amused," said Mrs. Wells, "and it is highly important that the places of amusement which they frequent shall be moral. I have taken up this work as part of my wider work for humanity. Life is gradually going out from the home to the world, so women must extend their activities to the places where the young congregate."

"What special good do you expect to come from the addition of women to the police force of the city?"

"I expect to introduce into municipal affairs the woman's point of view, which, added to the man's, makes the perfect point of view. It was never intended that life should be run from the standpoint of only one-half of humanity. Men have done the best they could by themselves, but the best was only half as good as it would have been with the double point of view."

BANKERS RUSH WORK.

(By United Press.)
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 5.—Delegates to the American Bankers association met in two sections today and disposed of business with unusual celerity in order that part of the day might be devoted to pleasure trips to points of interest within motoring distance.

Odds and Ends From Everywhere

TODAY IN HISTORY.

Oct. 5, 1795, the star of Napoleon Bonaparte really began to illumine the pages of European history. He had recently come in from Corsica and Italy as a lieutenant in the army. Count de Barras, whom we left a few days ago commanding the French fleet at the siege of Yorktown, Va., had returned to France, started a revolution in France almost as lively as the American, and was commander-in-chief of military for the convention. He picked Napoleon to lead the actual mixup with some rioters who started one of the Parisian diversions that day. The way Bonaparte opened up cannon in the streets made street riots unpopular in Paris from that day to this, although they do have occasional disturbances of a milder sort.

There wasn't any race suicide in Seattle if Father and girls like he did yesterday. He brought 15 little boys and 10 little girls to Seattle houses.

The county treasurer had $700,000 more on hand on September 30 of this year than on the same day last year. He took in $350,000 more in September, 1910, than in the same month in 1909. The disbursements were $10,000 less.

J. M. Hannaford of St. Paul, second vice president of the Northern Pacific, arrived in Seattle yesterday, and expressed the belief that 2,000 cars of apples will be shipped east from North Yakima.

Twenty-two who had "popped the question" and received the answer "Yes" look their brides-to-be up to the resort houses yesterday. They were all furnished with marriage licenses.

Beverly.—President Taft has been unable to renew the lease on his summer cottage here, although he attempted to get the place for a term of years. The owner desires to remove the cottage and lay out a garden.

Three divorce complaints were filed with the county auditor yesterday.

Dawson Alaska.—Joseph H. Curry, a pioneer Alaskan, was accidentally asphyxiated by natural gas while operating a mine.

Washington.—A superintendent of construction is required for the federal penitentiary at McNelis island. An examination will be held in Seattle November 9.

Tacoma.—Freshets in the Green river have carried out a bridge placed by contractors who are building the city water station.

Three wives received decrees of divorce at the court house yesterday.

Tacoma.—Defective electric wiring caused the destruction by fire of the plant of the Bloom Printing company at Fern Hill. Loss, $5,000.

Tacoma.—Lachlan Macleay, a former Seattle man, has been elected president of the Young Men's Republican club.

Tacoma.—Curator W. H. Gilstrap of the Ferry museum has been elected a patron of the museum, the only living man to enjoy the honor.

Portland.—Sigmund Frank, one of the best known merchants in the city, is dead. He was 60 years old.

North Yakima.—More than 300 cars of apples grown in this section will be shipped as far East as New York this season, according to latest estimates.

Ten deaths were recorded in Seattle yesterday.

Portland.—J. Burke of Doe, Ore., and an unknown man are dead as a result of injuries sustained in a lodging house fire.

Olympia.—Mrs. Margaret B. Platt of Seattle has been elected president of the W. C. T. U. of Western Washington. The annual convention closed here yesterday.

SULU SULTAN SAILS AWAY

(By United Press.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5.—Kiram II, sultan of Sulu, sailed today on the transport Sherman for his native isle after many months spent touring the United States and incidentally disposing of a few thousand dollars' worth of pearls and other jewelry belonging to the Sulu crown.

CLUB ENDORSES CANAL PROJECT

The Commercial Club last night went on record as favoring the $1,750,000 bond issue for the Lake Washington canal and Duwamish river projects, which will be voted on Nov. 8. The resolution of endorsement carried by a large majority.

Advocates of the two projects have organized and established headquarters in the Central Bldg., with Frank Paul chairman and Miller Freeman, secretary. "The object of the organization," said Freeman today, "is to educate people up to the meaning of the two projects, and to stir up interest in the movement."

PRESS LORIMER PROBE

CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—Ignoring the plea that State Senator Broderick is about to be tried on a charge of bribery, the senatorial committee, investigating the election of William Lorimer to the United States senate, today ordered Broderick to appear and testify completely concerning his alleged connection with legislative bribery.

Broderick is under indictment at Springfield on a charge of having given $1,500 to State Senator Holtslaw for Holtslaw's vote for Lorimer.
