

What's Become of Tom Wilson, Princeton '79, Insurgent?

BY OLIVER P. NEWMAN
Author of "The Fortunes of the Sun" back in 1879—be patient. You'll find this story has a 1912 tail, and a lot of sub-stingers, scattered all through its 33 years.

Way back in 1879 the star debater of Princeton university was a young Virginian named Tom Wilson.

That was before the days of crack athletes and aristocratic clubs. It was when the popular idea of sport was to beat a rival translating Latin prose or down him in debate.

In 1879 the biggest noise in the way of honors was the Lynde prize for the best debater, and our rangy young Southerner was the undisputed whig debating choice for the Lynde that year. Furthermore, it was joyfully heralded by the whigs—and tearfully admitted by the Cliosophic club that he would be the man of anybody the Clios put up.

Tom Wilson for the possessed confidence and eloquence for debate versus Protection—

the hearts of the crowd with Tom Wilson; he refused to be elected; he was a boy who had a pretty good education.

Wilson's father and mother began life in Ohio, but were soon
sent into the South, where the minister held parsonages at Staunton, Va., Augusta, Ga., Columbia, S. C., and Wilmington, N. C. Tom Wilson was born at Staunton, Dec.
23, 1856. He received his early education from his father and in academies in Augusta and Columbia.

In 1872 Tom was ready for college, and his parents packed him to all. Unless, during his progress, it is subjected to a thorough, even a tediously prolonged, process of public sifting, to the free comment of friend and foe alike, to the ordeal and battle among those upon whom its fate depends, an act of open legislation may have its real intent and scope commuted by its friends and undiscovered by its enemies, and it may be as fatally mischievous as the darkest measure of an oligarchy or a despot.

This, mark you, 33 years ago, out of the mouth of a Princeton student but 23 years old. This was the sort of doctrine Tom Wilson was preaching—and living up to—when Vic Murdock was a babe in arms.

Wilson took his law course at the University of Virginia and afterward tried to practice law in Atlanta, but after a year gave it up—BECAUSE A MAN COULDN'T

OF THE LAW AND HOLD
INDEPENDENT, PROGRESSIVE IDEALS AT THE SAME TIME.

He became professor of history and political economy at Bryn Mawr in 1885; in 1888 he was called to the same chair at Wesleyan university, Middletown, Conn., and in 1890 he was made professor of jurisprudence and political economy at Princeton.

In 1902, when the presidency of the college became vacant, Wood-

Home Helps to Health and Beauty

GOOD SHAMPOO FOR WINTER.— Here is a simple way to shampoo during winter months and avoid catching cold: Dissolve a teaspoonful of glycerine in a cup of hot water and rub briskly as you pour a little at a time on the head. This creates a thick, white lather that thoroughly cleanses hair and scalp, and brings its invigorating action on the hair-sacs and delicate tissues. overcomes any possibility of catching cold. After the hair is rinsed it dries quickly and evenly. Continued using caustic promotes a healthy growth of long, brilliant, silky hair and keeps the scalp sweet and clean.
IF TOO FAT, TRY THIS.—Too much fat is burdensome and should be gotten rid of. This harmless reducer is inexpensive and positive in results: Dissolve 4 ounces paraffin in 1-2 pints hot water; when it cools, take a tablespoonful three times each day until desired weight is reached. The paraffin treatment is absolutely safe and acts rapidly without any unpleasant effects.
Taking paraffin does not leave the skin flabby or wrinkled.

THIS MAKES HAIR VANISH.— Hair or fuzz can be made to vanish quickly by applying a delatone paste. Mix enough powdered delatone with water to cover hairy surface; apply and after two or three minutes rub off, wash the skin, and the hairs will have vanished. No harmful results in dissolving the delatone, and while druggists charge a dollar for a one-ounce original package, it is worth every cent as it never fails.

LOTION & SOFT SATINY SKIN.—This skin lotion is easy to use and gives delicious results: Dissolve four ounces spermacin in one pint hot water, then add two teaspoonfuls glycerine. Apply to face neck and arms and rub lightly until dry. This lotion is invisible when on, does not rub off and protects the skin from the raw, biting winds of winter. Adv.
