The Burlesque Queen
BY BERTON BINGLEY
She started in life as a chorus dame,
With a regular Broadway show,
And she rose to a sporty sort of fame,
With the Johnnies on Lobster Row.
She married a sport and got a divorce
(That followed along as a matter of course),
And alimony was her resource,
For it gave her the coin to blow!
She took a whirl at the stage again,
But the pace that she went had told;
She couldn't get down to a "hundred ten,"
And her voice was cracked and old,
And she bowed to the will of fate
And joined burlesque, where they go by weight
(Two hundred pounds is her present weight
And getting fatter, I'm told).
So now she waddles in sky blue tights
Through a chaos of foolish scenes,
Even burlesque has few such sights,
Such heavyweight actresses.
Her face is puffy and rouged to pink,
Her eyes are swollen from tears and drink;
There's a moral in this tale, I think,
If you'll read between the lines.

Frank Williams, a negro laborer employed on Schwager & Nettleton's dock at the mill, 26th and Colorado, fell overboard last night and was drowned. The spot where he fell was dragged, but the body was not found.

BACK IN TOWN
"Was your love affair romantic?"
"Oh, very! I met Reginald at the seashore. We both pretended to be very rich."
"Yes, yes."
"And now it turns out that he collects the payments on your piano."—McCall's Magazine.

The box office at the Coliseum will be open from 10 o'clock Saturday morning until 10 p. m. of the same day, and again on Monday morning at 10 o'clock, for the exchange of tickets for the benefit entertainment of St. Teresa's convent.

A standpipe site for West Seattle has been purchased near West Othello st. The pipe will cost $50,000. One will probably be erected on Beacon hill this summer that will cost in the neighborhood of $150,000.

OUR PRECISE ARTIST
"Fighting over a woman."
Humboldt Steamship Co. has announced that its boats to Alaska will leave Seattle 10 a. m. after this instead of 9 p. m. This is done so that tourists may see the Sound's beautiful scenery.

"My World," a song the words of which were composed by Miss L. Sheridan of this city, was greeted with great applause last night when rendered in the Butler grill by Miss Helen Lowe. The music was composed by C. Johnson, who also composed "Iola" and "When I Dream of You."
Malone, N. Y.—Five Chinese disguised as negroes were caught by immigration officials, who say there is no telling how widely the ruse has been successfully worked.
WIS E LITTLE BROTHER
"Do you know, little boy, that your sister promised to marry me at the party last night?"
"Of course! That's what the party was for."—Answers, London.
Hammondsport, N. Y.—The son of Edwin Petri, of Cross Lake, was injured by a fall, and Dr. L. Alden crossed the lake in a hydroplane to attend him.
New York.—Mrs. James Frank Haxed took away her husband's clothes to keep him sober, and James ran a Marathon through Harlem streets in his birthday suit until he was captured.
New York.—A Staten Island man said bull frogs there croak only from 5 a. m. to midnight, thereby obeying the law that prohibits unseemly noises from midnight to 5 a. m.
The Jefferson, which came down from Skagway last night, reports sailing through volcanic ashes while in Alaskan waters.
Stanford alumni of the Sound held a reunion at the Stockade hotel last night.

PIANOS AND CHINA
Edith—in China there are only five pianos to every million inhabitants.
Arthur—Well, China has been civilized longer than we have.—Kansas City Star.

Lake Cushman will be visited, next Tuesday, by Mayor Cotterill, the board of public works and the city council, who will determine the possibility of the lake as a power site. Bonds for $500,000 were approved last March for this purpose.

David Starr Jordan, in an address before the Municipal league at the Ratskeller, said that money, not monster ships like the Dreadnought, was the backbone and strength of war. War, he said, was impossible without money. Dr. Jordan, who is president of Stanford university, gave the commencement address at the University of Washington.

Sixty Verein Arion members left Seattle this morning for Spokane and Eastern Washington, where they will sing, among others, Potlatch songs.

A Voice From the Audience
"The time will come," thundered the suffragette orator, "when women will get a man's wages!"
"Yes," sadly muttered a man on the rear seat; "next Saturday night!"—Answers, London.

POCKETS PUT IN HATS
LONDON, June 14.—Yet another ingenious novelty in feminine attire is announced. The immense size of the hats in vogue has suggested to some genius the idea of utilizing the space now wasted, and hats are being made with pockets.
"I have just made a pocket for a hat which I have sent to Monte Carlo," said a well-known West End modiste and milliner yesterday. "Hat pockets are useful when traveling to hide a jewel or coin."

Two passenger trains filled with land-seekers arrived in Seattle yesterday.

The derailment of the Milwaukee train, two miles north of North Bend, is being investigated by officials. The theory is that small boys turned the switch.

The Olga, a sixty-foot gasoline schooner, leaves on a three-year whaling cruise in the Arctic and Bering sea Saturday.

J. D. Ross, superintendent of the city lighting plant, leaves tonight for Boston, where he will attend the convention of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

The superior court yesterday appointed F. W. Goodhue an eminent domain commissioner.
Rome.—To carry out the wishes of the late Donna Martin, president of the Italian Woman's Suffrage association, the new suffrage club has started a free employment bureau for women.

New York.—Charles Carruth, jr., lawyer, is so tall that when he stood upright in a subway train, the first electric fan of the season cut his scalp.

RAISE APPLES WITHOUT CORES
GEORGETOWN, Del., June 14.—There will be no core to throw away after one has eaten an apple if Frank Rodgers, a fruit grower here, succeeds in experiments he has under way. He owns a tree that has produced now for two years seedless and coreless apples. The fruit is of the usual size, and very highly flavored. He is grafting some of the twigs into other trees in his orchard, and hopes in the course of a few years to make his fortune.

THEY NEED IT
Street committee of the council yesterday heard the arguments of East End Green Lake residents for the opening up of 10th ave. N. E. from E. 75th to E. 77th aves. They have been after that for three years, and the council members were told that some of the residents had to walk two miles to a car line because of lack of street improvements. J. D. Trenchholm, through whose property the street would be cut, objected on the ground that his damage would amount to $65,000.
