

WILSON SLEEPS DURING EXCITEMENT; TAFT SMILES

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 6.—That Rooseveltian strenuousness and peculiarities are taboo with the 25th president of the United States was made quite evident at the Woodrow Wilson bungalow early today.

While admirers of the president-elect were celebrating his success far into the morning, and while the members of his family, early astir, were fluttering about the house in undisguised ecstasy, the newly chosen chief executive was peacefully "pounding his ear," and even the wild ravings of 2,000 college students, which continued well on to noon, were not sufficient to break his slumbers. He was the last member of his family to appear for breakfast. While the joyous students were parading up and down Nassau st., shortly after midnight, and zigzagging through a chain of bonfires that illuminated the entire village, Wilson announced that he was going to bed, and proposed to sleep until noon. He had not yet received the telegrams of congratulation.

PLAYMATES ARE WED; FRIENDS FOR 57 YEARS

TOPEKA, Nov. 6.—An acquaintance of 57 years' standing culminated in the marriage today of Samuel C. Wyatt, 74 years old, and Mrs. Susan Pettijohn, 72 years old. The groom is a resident of Topeka. The bride came here from her home in Rooks county, Kansas, where, for the last seven years a widow, she has been living practically alone.

More than half a century ago, when 15 years old, Samuel Wyatt first became acquainted with the 13-year-old girl who today became his bride. The years have brought many changes. It wasn't long after they met that the man married, and lived with his wife 55 years. She died recently. Mrs. Pettijohn has been led to the altar twice before, both of her former husbands being dead.

"No, we were not sweethearts when we knew one another in Missouri," said the aged groom, smiling. "We were just friends, that's all."

Recently Mr. Wyatt grew lonely. His wife's death left a va-

canancy in his life and he found it hard to fill. Then he thought of the lonely widow, whom he had known so long, and wrote to her. She responded and the correspondence led to the ceremony, at which Probate Judge W. F. Schoch officiated.

"We were both lonesome," the groom explained, "and I need somebody to look after me."

KILLS HIS DOG, THEN HIMSELF

LACROSSE, Wis., Nov. 6.—Ernest Revels, a young farmer, killed his dog and himself today. The two had been inseparable, and when Revels tired of life he called his dog to him, fondled him tenderly and shot him through the body, after which he turned his shotgun upon himself. When friends of Revels, aroused by the shot, arrived, they found the dying dog licking the hand of his master, who survived him only a few minutes.

BUGS, TOO, ARE CONVICTED OF GIVING FEVER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Cockroaches and bedbugs are the latest insects to be branded as carriers of typhoid fever germs, according to Surgeon R. E. Riggs, U. S. N. Experiments on the cruiser Newark some time ago made Doctor Riggs suspicious of bugs in general, and of these two classes in particular. He tells of an outbreak of typhoid at a naval post on an isolated island where he was in charge of the water and food supply. Careful study was made to discover the cause for the spread of the disease and the cockroaches and bedbugs finally were convicted by Doctor Riggs as the distributors.

TURKS DEFEATED AMID SLAUGHTER

LONDON, Nov. 6.—That 25,000 men were killed and wounded on both sides in the latest two days' battle, ending in a Bulgarian defeat of the Turks between Seria and Chorlu, was reported here today. The victors were hastening to join the attack on the Tchatalja.

JOY RIDERS RUN DOWN BIG BEAR

EAU CLAIRE, Wis., Nov. 6.—The best bear story of the year was vouchered for here today by Ferdinand Gentl, James Earl, Gilbert Burton and George Holtz. They exhibit the body of a 394-pound bear and a battered motor car front as evidence. Closely followed by dogs, the bear, according to the hunters, crossed a roadway near Jim Falls directly in the path of the machine, going 30 miles an hour. There was a collision and the bear's neck was broken.

Residence Immaterial

BY BERTON BRALEY

"Love in a cottage" is pleasant enough, Love in a palace is joy. So long as the love is not merely a bluff And is free of all grinner alloy; "Love in a cottage" or love in a flat, Love with pebbles and swells, It isn't the place where you hang up your hat, But the fact of your LOVE that tells!

Love in a tenement, love in a hut, Love in a palace or cave, It isn't the kind of a figure you cut, And it isn't the money you save; Love that is real will surely endure Wherever, however it dwells; It isn't the fact that you're wealthy or poor, But the fact of your LOVE that tells!

U.S. SAILORS CHEW TRAMP STEAMER WEATHERS GALE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—For the next six weeks 125 enlisted men in the New York navy yard will be busy chewing 40 kinds of tobacco to decide which kind shall be bought for use in the navy. Bids were opened here recently from 15 dealers who wish to furnish 300,000 pounds, about a year's supply, for the American navy. Prices range from 32 to 42 cents for various grades.

The contract may not go to the lowest bidder. Chemical tests will be made and the men's decisions will be the ultimate choice. Without knowing what kind they are chewing, the men selected for the tests will be questioned from time to time by a board of officers as to how they like various samples.

LO, THIS INDIAN LIVED 120 YEARS

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich., Nov. 6.—Joe Mantou, an Indian, who was born on the banks of the Chicago river 120 years ago, died here last night. He came to Northern Michigan after the red man had been vanquished in his battle against the whites to gain the mastery of Illinois. For 15 years he had lived in a hut at Cedar, his only surviving son attending him. He belonged to the Pottawatome tribe. His memory was clear until recently and he could recall many details of early Indian wars in which he participated.

"NO BREAKFAST" CURE FOR MEN

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 6.—"All wives ought to refuse to give their husbands breakfast when they stay out too late at night," said Judge Monroe of the superior court in the course of making a ruling on file here today in the case of Mrs. Ethel Guy, 29 years, who prosecuted her husband, Rob Roy Guy, 31 years old, on a charge of failure to provide.

The couple became reconciled before their case was more than begun, and Judge Monroe allowed Mrs. Guy to withdraw the charge. Then he gave her some advice about the management of her husband, including the no-breakfast treatment.

BALLARD FOUNDER VIEWS HIS WORK

WENATCHEE, Nov. 6.—Charles H. Ballard, founder of most of the towns of north central Washington, is back paying a visit to the towns he put on the map. Ballard was one of the earliest of pioneers. He made a fortune in Okanogan real estate, but lost most of it in several townsites that didn't go. In most of the towns he acted as trustee for the government. His selling town lots at $1 each was considered as excessive, and much criticism was made of him. The panic that followed the reduction of the price of silver cleaned up the rest of his fortune, and he later became ill. He has since regained his health, and traveled all over the world as a mining engineer.

NOT PEACEFUL

SOPIA, Nov. 6.—Bulgaria has not given a single thought to the establishment of peace with Turkey, declared President Danoff, of the lower house of parliament, just back from an interview with Czar Ferdinand at the front.
