FRED BOALT went up to Judge Gordon's police court yesterday. He spent an hour there. On page 10, today he tells of the pathos and tragedy, with now and then a laugh, that one finds where men have sinned.

OUR own correspondent, Mary Boyle O'Reilly, is down in Mexico, finding out what the war's all about. Today, on page 8, she tells how Don Luis Terrazas is most to blame, for one. A merry little burglar, this Terrazas.

JUDGE TELLS STAR HE WILL JAIL SPEEDERS LEGISLATURE A RANK FRAUD ON PEOPLE

SERIOUS CHARGES AGAINST DOCTOR'S BRIDE OF SIX DAYS

The sensational litigation between Dr. Philip Rexford Waughop and his six-day bride, took a new turn late Thursday when affidavits by John B. Smith and T. W. Levy, asserting that the matrimonial contract was void, were filed in Judge Everett Smith's court. The divorce proceedings, were filed in Judge Everett Smith's court. The divorce proceedings, were filed in Judge Everett Smith's court. The divorce proceedings, were filed in Judge Everett Smith's court.

PRINCES VAINLY WOO THIS PRETTY AMERICAN; ONE, REFUSED, ENDS LIFE

MISS MARY L. DUKE. NEW YORK, March 14.—Miss Mary L. Duke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin N. Duke, is one of the wealthiest heiresses in the United States. Miss Duke was born in North Carolina, and is a niece of James B. Duke, the tobacco magnate. She is a petite and charming young brunette and is very democratic.

Dr. Friedmann's Answer to His Critics in His Own Handwriting

Ich bin auf dem Schlachtfelde und bin sicher dass ich unsere Sache siegen wird. Hier bleibe ich und kaempfe ich.

Dr. Friedrich Franz Friedmann, the Berlin tuberculosis expert, now in this country to demonstrate the value of what he claims is a cure for consumption, has been subjected to bitter criticism in New York. The medical profession of that city, it is charged by Friedmann's friends, have put many obstacles in his way, interfering with his plans to make a thorough public test of his serum.

"I AM ON THE FIELD OF BATTLE, AND I AM SURE THAT OUR CAUSE WILL WIN. HERE I STAY AND FIGHT!"

30 DAYS FOR MAD DRIVERS

The city council, according to the promises of a majority of the members will pass the Griffiths bill, providing a jail sentence for auto speeders.

Police Judge Gordon, in a statement to The Star today, said: "I will give every speeder brought before me and proven guilty of RECKLESS DRIVING, THE LIMIT OF THE LAW."

AND THE LIMIT OF THE LAW WILL BE THIRTY DAYS IN JAIL.

Under this line-up, how long will it be before the speed maniacs come to their senses?

About twenty minutes, is our guess. Thirty days in jail will put a stop to reckless auto speeding. It will save an average of twenty lives a year in Seattle, for that many deaths are caused each year by madmen at the wheel.

"I will do everything in my power to stop reckless driving," said Judge Gordon to The Star, "and the first case brought to me that shows recklessness, with a disregard for human life, I will make an example of—and the second and the third—until a top is put to it."

There are two classes of speeders," stated Judge Gordon this morning, "the one who is guilty of a technical violation, and the one who violates the spirit of the law. It is the latter class that I am after. A man is guilty of a violation of the speed ordinance if he gives his car or motorcycle at 21 miles an hour. In spirit he is not violating the ordinance. Toward this class I believe in the exercise of leniency. He is far less guilty than the man who drives at 5 or 10 miles an hour in the congested districts and remains within the law. The man with the disregard for life will fare hard in my court."

Progressives At Banquet

The progressive legislators will be guests at a banquet tonight given by the progressive party leaders at the Good Eats Cafeteria. Will H. Parry will act as toastmaster and speeches will be made by the progressive leaders in the legislature.

2 BABIES IN WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON, March 14.—For the first time in years childish prattle and laughter are heard in the White House, the baby daughter of Mrs. Perin Cothran, the president's niece, and the little daughter of Mrs. J. Wilson Howe, another niece of the president, having taken possession of the east terrace opening off the East Room.

The Cothran baby still is in the perambulator stage. She has already taken a strong liking for the great, glittering chandelier in the East Room, with its thousands of crystal pendants.

ENDS LONG SERVICE

PORTLAND, March 14.—Harvey Beekwith, general agent of the Wells, Fargo Co., has today sent in his resignation, after 34 years of service with the express company. He will probably engage in private business.

HE KEEPS SECRET FROM THE OFFICE.

Van Houten had been a father some time before we of The Star found it out. He's that kind of a reformer, philanthropist, or whatever you choose to call him. He nearly expired of embarrassment today when I interviewed him on the subject of fatherhood without matrimony.

Van used to be a street car conductor before he broke into the business end of the newspaper game. He is far from goody-goody, and his

ROTTEN SESSION COSTS TAXPAYERS TWENTY MILLIONS

(By Staff Correspondent.) OLYMPIA, March 14.—If all the 1,100 bills introduced in the Thirteenth legislature were dumped into a hopper, and a little girl, blind-folded, were to pick out 200 to become state laws, the net results could scarcely suffer by comparison with the record of the rotten, crooked, extravagant session which ended in a wild riot at 4:30 this morning.

And the state would be the gainer by about $100,000, the cost of the session.

For juggling of votes, jobbery, disreputable and brazen trades and tactics, the 1913 legislature will go down as the very worst in state history.

Smothered Good Measures. It passed out of existence without providing a presidential primary law, a blue sky law against stock swindlers, a farmers' law against Western avenue's "Big Six," a free employment bureau, the Oregon system of electing United States senators, legislative reapportionment, first aid features in the compensation act, non-partisan election law, home rule bill, initiative of constitutional amendments, recall of judges, mutual savings banks law, the code aimed against the fish trust, a real segregation of the boys and girls in training schools.

The fact that the minimum wage bill and the mother's pension law were passed is due only to the fact that "organization," of which Speaker Taylor is chief, missed a cog somewhere, and gave Rep. Thos. F. Murphree, progressive floor leader, the whip hand on the last night for considering new measures.

Likewise, Murphree's logged-off land bill, in which the whole state was interested, was not put through the senate till a few minutes before final adjournment.

Rushed Through During Last Hour. The character of this mock legislature was evidenced by the list of bills enacted into law in the last two days. Members paid little attention to what they were voting on. Clerks read listlessly at first, later they skipped everything except titles of bills. Members of both houses loafed in corridors, smoked in the cloak rooms, and gossiped, but they had their bell wethers and they voted accordingly. They passed a hundred bills, as many as during the previous 38 days, in the last two days. They passed them, mind you, they did not consider most of them.

UNIONS AND I. W. W. CLASH

Indications of a probable clash between organized labor and the I. W. W. occurred this morning, when C. W. Doyle, business agent of the Central Labor Council, met with the secretary of the local I. W. W. organization. Doyle demanded to know the attitude of the I. W. W. toward organized labor, and receiving no satisfactory answer, declared that no interference from the I. W. W. would be brooked by the Central Labor Council. The conference between Doyle and the I. W. W. secretary amounted to a "hands off" ultimatum by organized labor.

A meeting of the I. W. W.'s was held early in the afternoon and a committee will wait upon Mr. Doyle at the Labor Temple between 4 and 6 o'clock this afternoon. At the morning conference the I. W. W. secretary declared that he had no authority to represent his organization in negotiations with organized labor, and that the matter was at the disposition of the entire rank and file of the I. W. W.

SPORTSMAN PASSES

SAN FRANCISCO, March 14.—The funeral of Ira Pierce, 76, California pioneer and former owner of Lou Dillon, the celebrated racing mare, will be held here tomorrow.

Mr. Merchant, What Do You Pay For? Is It Results or Promises?

Of course, the statements of agents that their particular class of readers are just what you want, are interesting. And they will tell you two hundred reasons why. But, after all, have you cashed in on any of these promises? That's a feature of The Star. Advertisers in The Star get results. They get an absolute guarantee of a circulation of over 40,000 families each evening. And when they place their advertising in The Star they secure immediate results—sales to Star readers who saw their ad. They can take results to the bank, for they are results and not promises. Ask any Star advertiser what he thinks of The Star for results. That's the answer. Don't accept promises. Make the newspaper salesman show you his goods. Test his advertising first with a special sale. Then you can readily ascertain whether you are getting results.

KING SALMON RULES NATION FOR A DAY

You are, of course, eating salmon today. Naturally and you feel sorry for the benighted folks who must live so far away from the salmon water that today they must eat their salmon from tins. For this is Salmon day. As the headquarters of the salmon industry, Seattle is taking the lead in the celebration. This afternoon the Women's Federated clubs are entertaining at the Chamber of Commerce 2,000 guests, who are eating salmon 27 different ways.

WHISKY PIGEON TRAP O. K.

PORTLAND, March 14.—Distracted by pigeons roosting on the federal building, Janitor Blackwell fed them corn soaked in bootleggers' whisky. The pigeons that did not wobble their way into the building fell to the ground and were caught.

SALMON 57 WAYS

A new record was set today when the proprietors of the Epler Cafeteria offered to their patrons salmon served in 57 different styles, honor of Salmon day. "We have been figuring over this for two weeks," said Mr. Wilson, of Wilson and Carle, proprietors. "It was easy up to 35, but after that we had to begin pursuing cook books, and finally, we put out several brand new recipes of our own. We were determined not to be out done by Heinz."

65 DIE IN TORNADO IN THE SOUTH

NEW ORLEANS, March 14.—At least 55 persons were killed in the tornado which swept several districts of the South today, according to meagre reports this afternoon. Wires are down to most points, and it is believed this list will be increased when communication is restored. One report estimated the property damage at $10,000,000. Other reports say this figure is excessive and that the loss will not exceed $3,000,000.

100 Seattle Patients Get Turtle Serum

Dr. Albert Lessing, 212 Lumber Exchange building, spent the morning injecting in tubercular patients the Demourette turtle serum, which the discoverer, Dr. Martin Demourette, claims antedates the Friedmann cure.

Dr. Demourette has given Dr. Lessing enough of the serum to treat 2,000 patients. More serum will be made as soon as turtles, now on the way from Mexico, arrive in Seattle. No charge is made for treatment where patients are unable to pay.

"I want to find out," said Dr. Lessing, "if the 'cure' is absolutely all that Dr. Demourette claims it to be. If it is, the world needs it and has a right to it. I have been investigating the serum and its effects some months, and finally, with Dr. Demourette's permission, decided to make this public demonstration."

Fully 100 persons applied for treatment this morning, of whom about 30 received the serum into their blood.

For a Guess We Should Say He Tarried About Two Weeks John A. Murray, the Manchester clothier, rode his bicycle down to town one day last week. He tarried long enough to eat a dozen salmon and six raw turnips.—West Union, O., Defender.

VAN TAKES A BABY TO RAISE

By FRED L. BOALT. Frank C. Van Houten's a queer one. A phenologist would probably find that his daddy bump is abnormally developed. His paternal bump is easily stirred.

Van Houten, who is the manager of The Star want ad department, has been too busy since arriving at man's estate to go sweetheating much, and so it happens that he has never married. Although he is single and living at a boarding house, he is a natural-born father.

TRAINS CRASH IN BLIZZARD; 8 DIE

OMAHA, March 14.—Four persons were killed and eight injured when Union Pacific passenger train No. 12 plunged into the rear of train No. 4, at Cozad, Neb., at midnight, during the worst blizzard of the winter. A sleeper and one day coach were derailed. Rescuers are en route to the scene of the wreck, but few details of which have been received, as wires are crippled by the storm.

August Meyers and Mrs. August Meyers of Long Beach Cal., were among those killed in the wreck. News of four other deaths in a wreck with the blizzard as its cause arrived here today from Herndon, Neb. There two Union Pacific freight trains piled up in a rear-end collision and the engineer, brakeman and two stockmen are missing, and are believed to be dead.

Catch Father Stealing Girl

An attempt by William B. Robertson, a woolen salesman, to kidnap his 3-year-old daughter, June, in order to effect a reconciliation with his wife, from whom he has been separated a month, was frustrated after an exciting automobile chase Thursday night.

Mrs. Robertson lives with her mother, Mrs. James Riddon, at 4210 West College st., West Seattle, and it was from in front of the West Seattle home that Robertson picked the child up from her play and made his escape in an awaiting automobile. Mrs. Robertson notified the police.

Intercepted by Motorcycle Officer Foltrich while going 55 miles an hour, Robertson and the girl were taken to the police station. There Captain Stuart called up the wife, and she immediately came to headquarters. A reconciliation was not effected, and the wife took the baby with her. As she was taken away, the little daughter cried loudly for her papa. Robertson was detained until the mother had gone and was then released.

Mrs. Robertson had lived in Edmonds, Wash., until a month ago.

BIG ATTORNEY IS CANDIDATE

By United Press Leased Wire. NEW YORK, March 14.—Announcement that he will accept the nomination for mayor in opposition to the Tammany ticket is made today by District Attorney Chas. S. Whitman. Whitman is the man who smashed Lieut. Becker's gang of gunmen.

WILL TACKLE MT. M'KINLEY

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, March 14.—Archdeacon Hudson Stuck, Episcopal missionary to Alaska, is en route today from this city to McKinley river to establish a base, preparatory to his attempt to ascend the peak. Stuck plans to reach the summit May 1.

INSPECT THE BABY.

He made inquiries. The baby had never seen his father, who had died when the young man was "on the way." The mother already had a 3-year-old daughter to support. Van Houten inspected the baby. It was pretty red, but no fingers and toes were missing, and it didn't cry.

Van Houten checked to the baby, and it amiably replied in the language which all babies and natural-born fathers understand. "Mine!" said Van Houten, and canceled the ad. The good lady with whom Van

HER LOVER DEAD GIRL GOES HOME

The mysterious young woman who had lived with W. E. Bair, found dead in his bed Wednesday, for three weeks as his wife at the Berkshire hotel, appeared at the hotel Thursday night.

Informing of Bair's death, the girl was shocked. "How did he die?" she asked. "It is not known, but the coroner believes he committed suicide," she was informed.

Covering her face with her hands, the girl sank, white and shaking, into a chair. Later she expressed a determination to return to her parents.

The hotel clerk described the girl as being good looking, about 18 years old. He did not know her name.

An autopsy will be performed this morning to determine the cause of Bair's death. It is thought he took poison.
