FOR THE NEXT THREE MONTHS, MOTHER, YOUR BABY'S LIFE IS IN YOUR HANDS

Dr. Margaret Clark, National Expert, Tells How to Make "Better" Babies Live Through Summer
Weather That Kills Half Our Little Ones.

By Dr. Margaret V. Clark
What is going to become of this year's crop of babies?

Are we only going to raise 50 per cent of the crop, as we did last year, or are we going to pay as much scientific attention to them as we do to our crop of pigs or calves?
If our farmers or stock raisers should find that half of the pigs or calves that are born this year were dying there would be reason written on the subject and it is very probable that one of our multi-millionaires would endow a foundation to look into the matter, but no one worries over the little human life that is being snuffed out every minute.
Every mother should understand that for the next three months her baby's life is in her hands. Upon her it depends to a great extent whether it will be one of the 50 per cent to live or the 50 per cent to die.
The most important thing to consider during the summer is the baby's diet. If the mother is able to nurse her baby it should have no other food for the first six months of its life until after she weans it.
Statistics tell us that 15 bottle babies die in summer to one breast-fed baby and mothers should appreciate this fact when bottle feeding is contemplated.
You can dry up a mother's milk by putting a baby at the breast at long intervals perhaps just morning or night or only at night. Such habits will ruin the best wet nurse ever created.

You can check mother's milk by too constant feeding or by disturbing the mother's hours of sleep in any way.
You can put baby to the breast too often. Loading a half empty stomach with a fresh meal produces colic and diarrhoea more often than any other cause in a breast-fed baby.
You can spoil the best breast milk in the world by giving the mother too rich food, alcoholic tonics and checking the normal exercise.
A nursing mother should drink plenty of pure water and there is nothing better for a nursing mother than plenty of pure milk if it agrees with her.
Green vegetables are also good for the mother in most cases.
A nursing mother should never take opiates or drugs except under the advice of a physician.
Do not drink strong tea or coffee.
After the third day during the first month your baby should be nursed every two hours and a half, from the sixth week to the third month eight nursings two and one-half hours apart and one at night. From the third to the fifth month the baby should be nursed every three hours during the day.
Don't trust to "instinct and the loving mother heart." The scientific care of babies is no more instinctive with women than any other business: it must be learned and learned carefully if we would have better babies.

ONE OF DR. CLARK'S "BETTER BABIES"

Letters To Cynthia Grey

A YOUNG MAN'S PROBLEM.
Dear Miss Grey: I am a young man of 22 and badly in need of some advice. As I have no living relation, I come to you in hopes you will tell me what to do.
When I was 18 I committed a theft and was convicted, receiving a one-year sentence. Since then I have lived a straight life, and am now holding a position in which I could be dishonest if so inclined. But never shall I again, for I have learned a lesson.
I am engaged to a girl of 20, have given her a beautiful engagement ring, and we are to be married in June. Shall I tell her of my past? No one knows it, for I went under an assumed name and I am many, many miles from where it happened.
Hoping you will put an answer soon, and thanking you in advance,
I am,
IN EARNEST,
A.

When I first thought of leading such a life, my mother's words came back to me: "Keep away from bad company." If I could only explain how I felt, but mother wasn't near me; I didn't care; I was determined to go. Yes, bad as I felt, I was going to go astray.
I cried and prayed, wished death to myself; then I thought of Miss Grey and wrote to her about my troubles; but after I had mailed the letter I wished I had let that kind of a life be sorry I ever asked her to help me; but now I am glad I wrote, and again I wish to thank Miss Grey, "The Young Man," "A Friend," and the many others who wrote in my behalf and to say I will never go astray.
B. H.

It is impossible for me to say what his intentions are; meaning no offense to you, of course, I would be apt to know what a young man's intentions were whom I had gone with a year and allowed him to tell me he loved me many times.
It may be he is afraid you are not serious and wants to make sure of receiving a favorable reply, before proposing, or he may be only trifling. At any rate, he cannot expect you to propose, and the next time he tells you he loves you, make it a point to tell him you consider, under the circumstances, he has no right to talk in such a manner to you.
RUTH

"LIFE WITHOUT HIM WOULD BE SAD"
Dear Miss Grey: I have been going with a young man for nearly a year. When I first met him, I did not care much for him, but now I love him dearly. Life without his company would be sad for other girls' company, but if by chance any drop
Dear Miss Grey: I wrote a real nice letter to my husband's sister, who is unmarried, and let him read it. He criticised the following question severely, and said I was asking entirely too much viz: "How are you getting along in every respect?"
Will you kindly give me your opinion? Thanking you in advance, believe me, yours sincerely,
LONESOME WIFE.

MRS. VANDERBILT GIVES HER RECIPE FOR MARSHMALLOW
Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt makes a very delectable marshmallow paste which her children prefer to that purchased in the sweetmeat shops.
This is concocted in the chafing dish in the nursery. First a pound of pure, clear gum arabic is dissolved in a quart of water and strained. After adding a pound of refined sugar, it is placed over the lamp and stirred continually until the sugar is dissolved and the mixture becomes of the consistency of honey. Then to the mass are added gradually the whites of eight eggs, whipped to a stiff froth, the whole being stirred constantly until it becomes smooth and does not stick to the fingers when handled. The mixture then is poured into a pan or box which has been dusted with fine starch. When cool, it is cut into convenient cubes and dusted with powdered sugar and starch mixed.

WOMEN IN THE NEWS OF TODAY
ST. JOSEPH, Mo.—Although but 4 years old, Mary Whitten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Whitten of this city, saved herself from death here by lying flat on the railroad ties when she saw a freight train approaching. The engine and 12 cars passed over her, but she received only a slight scalp wound.
NEW YORK.—Julia Dean, an actress, says that she has obtained a decree of absolute divorce from Orme Caldara, who appears in a prominent part in "Within the Law," at the Eltinge theatre.
WASHINGTON.—Mrs. Woodrow Wilson went "slumming" late yesterday with a party of local social workers, and visited "Goat alley," "Snow court," "Ragland alley" and other squalid spots of the capital. Because of lack of ostentation, which attends all Mrs. Wilson's doings, it did not become known until today.
BAKER, OR.—L. S. Kelsey, a rancher of North Powder, was killed, and Miss Maude Slater, 15 years old, was fatally injured when Kelsey's automobile skidded from the roadway here.
BUD REESE is lying in a critical condition at his home, 811 24th av., as the result of a runaway Thursday. Reese is employed by the New Home Sewing Machine Co. At 18th av. and Madison st., the horse became frightened and ran away. The buggy was smashed, two machines badly damaged, and Reese was thrown to the pavement.

AS GOOD AS FISHER'S BLEND is the regular argument of all who strive to push the sale of flours made wholly of Western wheat.

As good as FISHER'S BLEND, they say, but COSTS LESS. And right there is where the force of the argument fails, for no amount of argument and salesmanship can produce a flour made wholly of Western wheat as good as FISHER'S BLEND.

The price of FISHER'S BLEND is a little more per sack than the price of other flours for the very plain and simple reason that FISHER'S BLEND isn't one of the other flours nor anything at all like them. If it was it would cost what other flours cost and you would get no more for your money.

The price of FISHER'S BLEND—a few cents more per sack than flours made wholly of Western wheat—is regulated by the cost of the superior and carefully chosen materials that go into its composition. In no other flour on the market is the scientific BLEND of EASTERN HARD WHEAT and WESTERN SOFT WHEAT to be found.

A DISPUTE
Dear Miss Grey: I wrote a real nice letter to my husband's sister, who is unmarried, and let him read it. He criticised the following question severely, and said I was asking entirely too much viz: "How are you getting along in every respect?"
Will you kindly give me your opinion? Thanking you in advance, believe me, yours sincerely,

MORTGAGE ON FURNITURE
Dear Miss Grey: As you seem to help everybody, I come to you, too. I would like to ask you this: Can you borrow money on your furniture when there is already a mortgage on said furniture, providing you pay the first mortgage back? Please answer soon as possible, as every moment counts.
IGNORANT ONE.
A.—Providing you get a paper from the auditor, stating the first mortgage is paid, thus releasing you, you may borrow on your furniture.
Or, if you wish to borrow money on the furniture before the mortgage is paid, you may do so, providing the second party knows the furniture is mortgaged and is willing to loan you the money under these circumstances.

BACHELOR GIRL BALLAD

To wed or not to wed, that is the question. Whether 'tis better, after all, to marry And be calmed and lulled by a husband, Or take up stenography, clerking, And slave, alas! for SOME ONE ELSE'S husband? To love—to wed—and by a wedding end The struggles and the thousand petty cares That "slaves" are heir to—'tis a rare vocation Devoutly to be wished for! To love—to wed—to wed—perchance DIVORCE! Aye, there's the rub! For in that dream of bliss what joys may come When we have cast aside our little jobs, Must make us wary. There's the sorry thought That makes so many spinsters hesitate: For who would bear the long, eternal grind, The employer's jokes, the chief clerk's contumely, The insolence of office boys, the smoke of last week's cigars clinging to the hair, When she herself might quickly and it all BY GETTING MARRIED? Who would not exchange A dingy office for a kitchenette— A keyboard for a cookstove or a cradle— But that the dream of something worse to come After the honeymoon—that life of CHANCE From whose dark bovine so many have returned By way of Reno—fills us with dismay, And makes us rather bear the jobs we have Than fly to evils that we know not of? Thus cowardice makes spinsters of—so many!
