7,000 FANS SEE GIANTS MAKE IT 6 OUT OF SEVEN

Seattle and Vancouver left for Vancouver Sunday night to renew hostilities in Beavertown today. The final game of this week's series will be played in Seattle.

In seasons prior to the present, a two weeks' series with the Beavers would have been regarded as a very unlucky state of affairs for the local squad. In bygone days it was considered horseshoe luck if we as much as broke even with the Canucks aggregation.

But this season there has been a revision in the dope. Sunday the Champions increased the number of victories over Vancouver to six out of seven, by winning, 7 to 6.

Manager Raymond sent Gipe in for the third time in a week against the Beavers, and the big Philadelphia didn't have a thing on the ball. This, coupled with erratic fielding, gave Vancouver every chance to win. But they couldn't overcome the jinx.

Four different times during the battle the score was tied. Even in the ninth, after the Champs had annexed a one-run lead in the previous frame, the Beavers took a brace and evened up things. It required an extra inning to settle things.

Had it not been for two misplays by the Champs, they would have won with ease. Manager Raymond gave the Beavers two runs in the fifth, when, after fielding Scharney's easy grounder, he let the ball slip from his hands as he was about to peg to first. This play filled the bases, and Konick, next up, smashed a scorching double to left, scoring two.

The biggest crowd of the season turned out. There were close to 7,000 present. In the seventh Killilly was hit by a pitched ball. Raymond sacrificed him to second from which he could have scored on a hit. But for reasons unknown, Killilly attempted to sneak to third and was pegged out. Gipe, next up, dropped one over the right-field fence.

Seattle again took the lead in the eighth, when Cadman got to first by swinging at a wild pitch on his third strike, made second on Hall's error and scored on Killilly's single. The Beavers tied in the ninth, when Hrinker delivered a single which scored Walsh. Jackson opened the ninth with a slashing two-base drive. Strait and Killilly grounded out. Tealey and Raymond won the game with a single.

BUD READY FOR JOE MANDOT GO

By United Press Local Wire. LOS ANGELES, May 19.—Brimsful of confidence, Bud Anderson, who meets Joe Mandot here tomorrow in a 20-round bout, knocked off his training today. Bud wound up his boxing in his quarters at Doyle's yesterday with 3,000 fans present. Mandot, at Venice, also concluded his training. He went 10 rapid rounds with his sparring mates, whom he handled in a workmanlike manner. He appeared to be in much better shape than on the occasion of his former appearances here. Anderson is a slight favorite in the betting, although the wagering is very light. He probably will be a 10-to-8 favorite at the ringside.

THEY'RE MAKING TROUBLE IN AMERICAN LEAGUE

With a team which has been described as "bunch of high school kids," Clarke Griffith is keeping the American League fans in a ferment, just as he made them stew last year when the Nationals started on their winning streak and finished the season on the heels of the champion Red Sox.

Speed on the bases, heady baseball, an ability to hit hard and timely, high class pitching and catching is the combination that is keeping the Nationals in front of the American League procession.

"The Athletics or Washington for the pennant," said critics when the season opened. Time was when to mention Washington for anything but basement honors would have evoked a laugh.

With Walter Johnson going as he is, supported by the veteran Tom Hughes and Bob Groom, Washington is fortified in the box; with Carl Cashion, Engle and a couple of others to work in as his judgment dictates, Griffith has a strong second string.

Behind the bat he has Eddie Almsmith, one of the greatest young catchers in the game; John Henry and Alva Williams.

Chick Gandil, now waiting for a broken toe to mend; Morgan the boy second baseman; George McBride, one of the few great shortstops, and Foster, complete an infield that has brains, speed and fielding ability, with the punch in the bat as well. Foster is at present sick, but his place is being ably filled by the veteran La Porte.

In the outfield Griffith has been working the great hitter and base runner, Clyde Milan, Moeller and Shanks. All three have been hitting the ball hard and consistently, and sitting on the bench Griffith has youngsters of high class, waiting for the chance to jump in and show that they are capable of filling the shoes of the regulars.

The Marathon was the second event won in the day by Zwick. Zwick also took first place in the ten-mile event, which preceded the longer grind. Fred Mercer won the first two five-mile events and Godfrey finished in first place in the ten-mile races.

GRANEY LANDS RITCHIE-RIVERS

After two conferences, Ben Selig is named as referee of the Smith-Willard fight here tomorrow night. Jim Buckley, Smith's manager, was opposed to Selig, but finally gave in.

Both Willard and Smith closed up their work yesterday and will take things easy until the going starts them on their 20-round bout. Smith is still the favorite in the betting, at 10 to 8.

BEN SELIG WILL REFEREE FIGHT

LOS ANGELES, May 19.—"Of course, I shall listen to what Eddie Graney has to say," was the declaration to-day of Joe Levy, manager of Joe Rivers, when told that Eddie Graney is expected here to bid for the Mexican's services as an opponent for Light-weight Champion Ritchie at San Francisco, July 4.

"We have a verbal agreement to fight for McCarty," July 4," said Levy, "but I'm sure if Graney's offer is satisfactory, McCarty won't stand in Joe's way for a chance at the title. I can't say what Joe will or will not do until I talk with Graney."

Before leaving Seattle for Vancouver Sunday night, Willie Ritchie, lightweight champion of the world, agreed to fight a 20-round bout with Mexican Joe Rivers, staged July 4, in San Francisco. Eddie Graney, the San Francisco promoter, landed the match. According to Billy Nolan, Ritchie's manager, the champion will receive the biggest guarantee ever offered a lightweight. "It was a case of Graney outbidding his San Francisco rival, Coffroth, and Tom McCarty, the Los Angeles matchmaker."

McCARTY TO MEET WINNER OF FIGHT

LOS ANGELES, May 19.—Bill Aldridge of Venice, four-round fight promoter, will leave tonight for San Francisco to talk with Jess Willard and Gunboat Smith regarding a match July 4, with Luther McCarty, at Venice. Aldridge claims to have sufficient backing to handle the mill, and believes that if he can get the consent of Willard and Smith, he will have little trouble in persuading McCarty to meet the winner of their match in San Francisco tomorrow.

Bothell, Wash., May 16, 1913. Sporting Editor: Your articles: "Felder Jones Suspends Umpire Who Should Have Medal" should be endorsed by every decent man and woman at that particular game I was at the game and in a position to judge intelligently of Brown's vulgarity and rowdianism.

Your article of censure and criticism is not strong enough. The umpire commanded the respect of every respectable person present. Hundreds present were lamenting the fact that Mr. Dugdale or some one in authority had not provided protection for the umpire from such things as Brown has proven himself to be.

You are giving us our money's worth in good baseball, Mr. Dugdale, and that is what we pay you for, not low-lived brutality and out-lavry. CHAS. V. BEARDSLEE.
