"CLOTHES AND JEWELS" NOT ALL, SAYS UNHAPPY WIFE OF MILLIONAIRE

MRS. JOHN N. DRUMMOND.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 19.—"Beautiful clothes and jewels do not make a happy married life if your husband is joy riding with other women." This Mrs. John N. Drummond, Jr., who is suing the son of the multi-millionaire tobacco magnate for a divorce on the grounds of desertion, cruelty and infidelity has discovered, and it took her five years to satisfy herself that she was right. She maintained that "I loved my husband," said Mrs. Drummond, "but I never knew where he was. Evenings he would go away and never say when he would return or where he was going. He led a high, fast life, leaving me alone with our little daughter for several days. The number of instances where the coming of a stepmother into the home has led young girls to leave good homes and drift into lives of shame is surprising," said Waugh. "We find that low wages are also a contributing cause."

BLAMES STEPMOTHERS FOR "WHITE SLAVERY"

WHEELING, W. Va., May 19.—The stepmother is, in many ways, the cause of young girls drifting into white slavery, according to District Attorney Roy Wang, who has been presenting white slavery evidence before the federal grand jury for several days. "The number of instances where the coming of a stepmother into the home has led young girls to leave good homes and drift into lives of shame is surprising," said Waugh. "We find that low wages are also a contributing cause."

FREE LUMBER DOESN'T WORRY WEYERHAEUSER

SPOKANE, May 19.—Lumbermen have no reason to fear the removal of tariff on lumber, according to Charles A. Weyerhaeuser, member of the world's greatest family of lumbermen, who is in the West inspecting the holdings of the Weyerhaeuser interests. "I can see no reason why the lumbermen of the United States cannot easily adjust themselves to the removal of tariff without any apparent effort," he said. "The tariff as it stands, is so low that the removal will not seriously affect the industry. We are not worrying."

KIDDISH SOLONS WORRY WISCONSIN'S SPEAKER

MADISON, Wis., May 19.—"Please, Mr. Speaker," said Assemblyman Willie Votrite, timidly raising his hand, "the gentleman from Blink has my pencil box." The speaker transfixed the offending member with a stony glare. "Give it back instantly," quoth he. "The gentleman from Blink will stay after the session and write on the blackboard four whole pages from the governor's last message." Sounds foolish, but "Speaker" Merlin Hull believes it may come to that unless his orders are obeyed. His latest edict positively forbade members indulging in the playful pastime of throwing spitballs during the session.

BEAUTIFUL MAXINE IN IRELAND WITH A REGULAR, DOLLED-UP, ROYAL LORD

Miss Maxine Elliott, noted American actress and the Earl of Drogheda, watching the big Irish steeplechase races at Punchestown, Ireland. The earl is rigged up "according to Hoyle," from white spats to silk topper.
