Packey McFarland, peerless boxer, is peeved and refuses to permit his neighbors and friends to see him box—not if they pay for the chance.

Packey wants to be a member of the Illinois legislature—a democratic member, as his name indicates—and to help make laws, although it peeves him when he is called upon to obey the laws which other legislators formulate.

He's a Clever Finisher.

Packey is a clever boy. He has climbed the pugilistic ladder to the pinnacle by the effective use of clever hands and feet, ably seconded by the most remarkable match-making in pugilism.

No one ever accused a McFarland of cowardice—and got away with it. Yet you may search the records and fail to discover where Packey, since he became famous, has fought an opponent over whom he did not have considerable advantage.

SAYS DUGDALE GOT RAW DEAL

That the Seattle club was given a raw deal in the drawing up of the Northwest league schedule for the 1914 season is the opinion of President F. C. Farr of Spokane.

"Seattle is the best drawing point on the circuit," said Farr, "and it certainly is tough to have that city down, instead of given more games. It was hardly necessary to slice the Seattle schedule to less than that which prevailed last season."

AFTER 2 MORE?

PORTLAND, Or., Dec. 27.—Reports are current that the Federal league is after Eugene Krupp and Irvie Higginbotham, two pitchers of the Portland Coast league team. Higginbotham practically admitted he would be drafted, but he would make the jump, adding, "But you can say this for me, I will go to the Federal league before I will go to the Northwestern."

Other Coast league players are said to have been approached by the new outlaw organization.

LITTLE BETTING

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 27.—Betting on the New Year's day bout between Gumbert Smith and Peckay was expected to open in earnest, following an exhibition tryout by Peckay at the Olympic club, scheduled for this afternoon. So far there has been practically no wagering, due to the lack of knowledge of Peckay's ability. Six rounds of boxing were scheduled—two each with Tommy Burns, Charlie Horn and Montana Dan Sullivan.

REVIVES TALK OF BIG COAST SERIES

Talk of a series between the pennant winner in the Northwestern and Pacific Coast leagues for the Coast championship has again been stirred up. This time there is a chance for definite action.

President Fielder Jones now has under consideration the advisability of urging a series for the Coast championship, to be played in 1915 during the Panama-Pacific exposition. The series, according to the plan, would be held in San Francisco.

The idea was given Jones in a communication received from a Tacoma sport writer.

It is said Jones looked very favorably upon the plan right off the jump, but wants a little time to go into details.

If it suits Jones, the matter probably will be presented to the Northwestern league magnates at the next confab, for their indorsement.

Complete Report of Market Today

Eggs, stored locally last April, are due for a setback on the market today as a result of the appearance of 300 cases of storage stock, the first shipment of this kind from the Orient. The new Oriental cons, peffors were laid three weeks ago, and will sell for the same figures as the local cold storage. Hereafter regular shipments of the stock from the Far East will be sent to the Seattle market.

Time was, and not so long ago, when the friends of the "idol of the stockyards" claimed the light-weight champions would not give McFarland a chance. The "chance" they asked was to let McFarland fight a legitimate light-weight and outweight him anywhere from five to ten pounds. Some "chance" that!

It is a fact that McFarland could not make the light-weight limit—or even weigh 135 pounds ringside—unless one of his legs was sawed off at the knee—and of what use is a one-legged boxer?

He's a Welterweight.

McFarland has been a welter-weight for years, but he has gone along making matches with real lightweights—usually second raters, with an occasional first-flight boxer thrown in for an exceptionally rich purse, and letting the boys in his own class severely alone.

McFarland could do this for two reasons; the first was that promoters were willing because he is so marvelous a boxer. In action he is a phantom, slipping in and out, boxing with the precision of a machine, and the fans are always willing to pay to see him work; the second reason is the willingness of most boxers to take a chance. He has grown rich at the game.

The latest appearance of Packey McFarland (and the last in Wisconsin) was with Jack Britton in Milwaukee.

Now the Wisconsin law stipulates that there shall not be a difference of 10 pounds between opponents.

When McFarland was asked to weigh in he refused. It looked as if the fight was off because of Packey's pique, but friends induced him to weigh in private for a member of the boxing commission who announced the weight "satisfactory."

Packey was slow and far from dazzling. As a result he was "pinned" and now he is just as mad as he can be and declares he will never fight near Chicago again.

He Journeys Over 15,000 Miles to Referee California's Annual Game

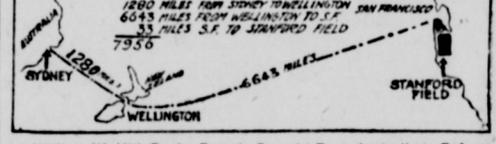

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 27.—In all probability William W. Hill, secretary of the Rugby union, of New South Wales, will referee next year's annual Rugby contest between the universities of Stanford and California. Hill, before returning to Australia after this season's big fracas, intimated he would accept the same terms for officiating which have been offered him covering the two seasons prior.

Hill yearly makes the longest trip (15,912 miles) ever taken by a football expert to referee one game. The student bodies of the two universities paid the expenses of both Hill and his wife on their long journey.

Called It Off

Mount Angel, Ore., college has canceled its scheduled basketball game with the Seattle Y. M. C. A. team, which was to have been played at the local gym tonight. Several of the players were unable to make the trip. The postponement gives the local Y. M. team a much needed rest and will put them in much better trim for the next game, Saturday, Jan. 3.

INSURE WALTER FOR GREAT SUM

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—Officials of the Washington American league club are conferring with insurance companies today in regard to taking out a $100,000 life insurance on Walter Johnson, their famous pitcher. When the policy is drawn up, Johnson will be the highest insured player in the annals of American baseball.

NO MORE WALKS

CHICAGO, Dec. 27.—It is going to be a difficult matter for the pitcher to intentionally walk a heavy hitter in a pinch, if the National Baseball league adopts an idea which will be proposed to them at their next meeting by Hank O'Day, umpire and member of the rules committee. O'Day's scheme is to narrow the catcher's box.

FITZ DENIED COMEBACK CHANCE

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Bob Fitzsimmons is too old for further ring service, in the opinion of all the members of the state boxing commission, which is on record with a veto of a proposed bout between the former world's heavyweight champion and one of the "white hopes."

Fitzsimmons is 51 years old. He has been out of the ring for exactly four years today, his last appearance resulting in a knock out at the hands of Bill Lang in 12 rounds at Sydney, N. S. W., Dec. 27, 1909.

When he learned of the decision, Fitzsimmons was indignant. He declared he could not only get into condition, but that the present crop of heavyweights would be easy for him.

RANDOM SHOTS

Charley Murphy might have been able to obtain Joe Tinker had he raised that $10,000 bonus offered by Ebbefts to a dozen fresh eggs.

President Tener avers he will talk for the National league. Perhaps, when he becomes better acquainted with the National league, he will change his mind.

When Garry Herrmann appointed Charlie Herron manager of the Reds, he should have put over the announcement until after the Christmas season, thus giving the new manager an opportunity to enjoy a merry Christmas.

The "Big Nine" refused to admit Notre Dame into the conference. Evidently some one has been studying the football scores since the season closed.

It is said the English will revise the tennis rules to such an extent that Maurice McLoughlin will be unable to win the next time he travels over the pond for battle. We recommend that Mac be required to use only his left hand, and that the strings be removed from his racket. When this is done, I am going to challenge him myself for a side bet of $100,000.

Getting right down to facts and figures, here's the reason the Fickers wouldn't think of selling or trading Ty Cobb: In 1912 the Fickers drew $128,000 on the road with the Georgia Peach playing regularly. In 1913 the road receipts dropped to $98,000, and the reason given for the decrease is because Cobb wasn't with the team during the entire season.

Jim Shaw, the colored Pittsburgh collegian, with the Washington team, is being touted as another Walter Johnson by Clark Griffith. "I don't think Shaw will ever be in Johnson's class, but he is the nearest approach to the big fellow that I ever saw," declares Clark.

Acosta, the Cuban outfielder, South Wales, will referee next year, in the opinion of the players that have toured the little island this fall. Acosta is a youngster on whom Griffith is trying Connie Mack's seasoning theory. He will be with the Nationals again next spring.
