Chiropractic a Cure for Biliousness

Biliousness is the common name for various troubles of the liver, when the bile is not being emptied into the bowels to do the work of assisting digestion. It may be caused by congested or enlarged liver, by catarrhal condition of the gall duct, or by the duct becoming enlarged or closed up by an accumulation of gallstones or small calculus deposits in the gall bladder. Any of these things result in what is known as biliousness. Intestinal indigestion, causing fermentation, formation of gases, and production of the heat. Eventually the poisonous parts of the blood become absorbed in the general system, causing yellow skin, headache, constipation and a general morbid condition of the whole system. There is no method of treatment practiced today that effects a cure in this condition like Chiropractic. I have demonstrated this in hundreds of cases in this state in the past ten years, by effecting a permanent cure. A person's health had failed to even give temporary relief. Call for free examination and diagnosis.

When the Stomach Goes Back to Work

Then is the Whole System Glad. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Will Quickly Put the Stomach in Shape.

When the stomach fails to do its work properly the whole machine of man is unstrung and wholly incapable of work. This condition obtains from the tiniest nerve to the big, strong, pumping heart. It is a wise law of nature that has made the stomach man's strongest organ, but when it stops work man ought to realize that it does so because it can continue no longer.

"Hoory! Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Are the Real Appetite Bringers"

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will certainly give the stomach the repair it needs and is always crying aloud for.

A tablet taken after each meal will in the course of several hours become a portion of the digestive fluids. It will build up these fluids. First in the stomach, then in the intestines.

The liver is the storehouse of the body. Here are assembled all the reserve fluids of the system and here the various ingredients of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets mingle with the fatty natural juices and strengthen them or if they are too strong then they will be reduced to their proper strength and proportion.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain a single ingredient, one grain of which is sufficient to digest 3,000 grains of food. Just think how gratefully such an element is received into a body that cannot digest at all without a new weakening of the already depleted juices.

Go to your druggist this very day and obtain a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, price, 50 cents. A week's trial will make you a new man and your stomach will go back to work.

Which Mother Gave Birth to This Baby Boy of Mystery?

KNUDSEN DENIES CHARGES MADE BY COMMITTEE

County Commissioner Krist Knudsen has issued a statement denying in detail the charges brought against him and Commissioner Hamilton by the investigating committee of the Commercial Club.

He states that he has never placed any of his relatives on the county pay roll. His only relative in King county are his wife and daughter, he says, and they are at the family home at Juanita.

The tax levy for 1913, he explains, is only one mill higher than the 1911 levy, and the lazy husband law, mothers' pension, White and Stock rivers improvement, and other matters are responsible for the increase.

Owing to the fact that he represents the country district, and travels a great deal over the county, his expenses are naturally a little higher than the others. But the accounts, he says, are always open to the public for inspection.

WHAT'LL HE DO WITH 300 LBS.?

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Feb. 20.—Tired of living alone, George Washington Jump, 900 East Miller st., has advertised for a wife. She must weigh 300 pounds, be six feet tall, good looking, refined and agreeable, and not over 60 years old. Jump is 45 and owns some property.

BRAND NEW ONE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—Pelagrag, unknown in the United States seven years ago, but now pronounced by the Public Health Service a greater menace than leprosy, which it closely resembles, has proven such a baffling problem to the service that Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo will probably ask the present congress to appropriate a sum to establish a hospital for the study of this new menace.

TAKES OVER SUBMARINE

BELLINGHAM, Feb. 20.—Capt. Charles Plaza of the Chilean navy is in the city to take charge of the trials of the submarine Iquique. The vessel was recently launched at Seattle.

4-YEAR GIRL ARRIVES BY PARCEL POST

LEWISTON, Ida., Feb. 20.—Following her arrival here by parcel post from Graingerville, Idaho, little 4-year-old May Pierstorff is enjoying a visit with her grandmother, Mrs. C. G. Vennigerholz, today. When her visit is over she will be returned to her parents in the same manner. The little girl weighs but 48½ pounds, rode in the mail car with 32 cents in parcel post stamps attached to her coat.

REFUSE MERGER

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—The congressional union for woman suffrage has refused the National American Woman Suffrage association's request for a merger.

HUNDREDS SEE SHOW BY GIRLS

An audience of several hundred attended an entertainment given by the Campfire Girls of the Seattle Recreation and Playground league at the Press Club theatre Thursday night. Playlets, a demonstration of the playfield work, and addresses were given.

SUES COMPANY

The conductor ducked. Bliff! And a rock thrown by an irate passenger, who had been ejected from the car, struck Mrs. Garda Mitchell. Mrs. Mitchell has asked the superior court to compel the Puget Sound Traction, Light & Power Co. to pay her $5,323.50.

DRINK HOT TEA FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Tee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teaspoonful at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grippe as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless. Advertisement.

RICH WOMAN AND POOR CLAIM HIM

Bobbie Dunbar before he disappeared. The boy found and whom two mothers claim.

By a Staff Correspondent. OPELOUSAS, La., Feb. 20.—Two mothers claim the same child! Each swears that the little boy in the case is hers, that she brought him into the world, nursed him, loved him, engraved his very image upon her heart!

But evidently one of the mothers is mistaken. They can't both be mothers of the same child. And a modern American judge has to decide the greatest case of the kind since wise old King Solomon faced the famous case of two mothers claiming the same child.

AS KING SOLOMON DECIDED SIMILAR CASE

Then said the king, The one saith, This is my son that liveth, and thy son is the dead; and the other saith, Nay; but thy son is dead, and my son is the living.

The king said, Bring me a sword. And they brought a sword before the king.

And the king said, Divide the living child in two, and give half to the one, and half to the other.

Then saith the woman, O, my lord, give her the living child, and in no wise slay it. But the other said, Let it be neither mine nor thine, but divide it.

Then the king answered and said, Give her the living child, and in no wise slay it; she is the mother thereof.

—I. Kings, III: 23-27.

*The real mother, who would rather that the other had her child than it should be killed.

"They shan't take him from me," cried Mrs. Dunbar, one mother. "I don't care if all the juries and courts in the world say he isn't mine. If a mother doesn't know her own child, then, please tell me, who does? I tell you he is mine, and I'll keep him."

And yet Julia Anderson, a typical "South Carolina" from the hills, has seen the child and declares the child is hers. Of that she is absolutely sure.

IT'S NOT GOING TO BE A LEGAL BATTLE, THIS DUNBAR CASE. INSTEAD, IT'S GOING TO BE A BATTLE OF MOTHERS FOR WHAT EACH BELIEVES IS HER OWN CHILD.

And the boy is too young to realize what this is all about.

Robert Dunbar and Bruce Anderson were born, four years ago, the same month; the former in Opelousas, the latter in a hut in South Carolina.

The Dunbar child had every advantage, toy and pleasure known; the illegitimate Anderson child had nothing except, perhaps, a stick for a toy.

The Anderson child was taken on a trip in a wagon through the farm lands of Louisiana and Mississippi by a man named Walters.

The mother says she sent the boy away because he was very lonely. The child was looked on with contempt by other children because of his birth.

One month later Robert Dunbar was playing on the banks of alligator-ridden Lake Swayze.

He failed to return in several hours and his mother and father began a hunt. His cap was found—the cap was all that was left of him. The hunt was called off. It was believed the child had been drowned and the alligators devoured his body.

A year after Bobbie disappeared, several women in Columbia, Miss., noticed an old cabin suddenly inhabited. They saw a boy playing in the yard.

"The Dunbar boy!" the women exclaimed. The next day the Dunbars got a letter urging them to come to Columbia and see the lad.

The father and mother hurry to Columbia and they arrive at midnight. In an auto they drive several miles to the hut. By the flickering glare of an oil light Mrs. Dunbar stoops over a dirty-faced, sleeping boy in a pile of straw.

"It's my boy—thank God!" she cries.

The boy failed to show any signs of recognition of his mother.

Walters, declaring vehemently that the child was not Robert Dunbar, but Bruce Anderson of South Carolina, was placed in jail.

Julia Anderson, the "other mother," was brought to Opelousas. The boy failed to recognize her also.

But she is positive that the boy is her child.

The supreme court of Mississippi decided Walters should be sent to Louisiana for trial.

And now the battle of mothers is ready! It promises to be the most wonderful trial ever known in America.

The Dunbars said that one of their main identifications is a scar on the child's left foot.

"The burn was covered by new, smooth skin," said Mrs. Dunbar. "See—this child's left foot has that same mark."

MAYBE THEY'RE ALL HAPPY NOW

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio, Feb. 20.—Drawing numbered slips of paper out of a box was the method used today to divide the $400,000 estate of the late Ross P. Mitchell, real estate owner, among his three daughters. The heirs could not agree on a division, so appraisers parceled off and numbered the property. Three slips of paper were then numbered to correspond and the drawing was made.

The House of Eilers

The Home of the World's Best Pianos and Player Pianos

We make the above assertion with full realization of the responsibility assumed. Nowhere else in Seattle will you find so many of the world's best makes in any one store. To be privileged to represent such pianos as Chickering, Kimball, Hazeltin, Sohmer, Haddorf, the famous Autopiano player piano and the popular Hungaroff player piano, is evidence of the confidence imposed in us by these, the foremost and most responsible builders of artistic pianos in America. Such pianos merit your confidence, too. The advantages Eilers Music House offers you are, first and always—the world's best pianos. Second—better quality at less money, made possible through co-operative buying for our many stores and quick turn-over. Third—positive assurance of absolute satisfaction, through our unconditional guarantee. Fourth—reasonable terms arranged to meet each individual's needs. Bear in mind when you go forth to purchase your piano that our every statement is trustworthy, that we have a good piano for every purse and purpose, and no transaction is considered closed that does not give absolute satisfaction to the customer. A comparison will convince you and an investigation will be for our mutual benefit.

EMPLOYERS MEET

At an enthusiastic meeting yesterday afternoon in the Lyon building, the Employers' association elected officers and discussed plans for the future. The idea, it was declared, is un-American, and unfair to the workman who does not want to join a union. The open shop principle was endorsed.

CITY NEWS

Burglars attempted to crack a safe in the office of Spokane Grain Co., 4915 Eighth av. S., Wednesday morning, but were scared away. J. E. Chiberg, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and James C. Marmaduke have returned to Seattle after a month's absence.

Alfonso Flores, the man who started the police a week ago by a weird story of an attack by hold-ups, is to be examined for his sanity.

The trial of Lieut. Robt. B. Parker by court martial ended Thursday, and the sealed verdict was forwarded to the department at Washington.

Frank McDermott, of the Bon Marche, has been notified of his election as a director of the National Retail Dry Goods association.

FACULTY GIVES LANDES O. K. FOR PLACE AS PREXY

The probability that Henry Landes, now acting president of the University of Washington, will be chosen the permanent head of the state school, is the cause of interesting discussion on the campus. At a meeting of the faculty yesterday, called by request of President O. A. Fechner of the board of regents, the work of Landes met the hearty endorsement of many faculty speakers. A committee of three was appointed to confer with the regents on the selection of a president.
