

FOR PHOTOPLAY FANS

"The Spider and Her Web," a two-part Universal drama, written by Lois Weber, is to appear in Seattle soon. The combined stars of the Rex and Nestor companies are used in this play. It is the old question, "Does the means ever justify the end?"

Madame Du Barr, enacted by Miss Weber, is the human spider, a woman beautiful, but heartless, the type of a woman who causes men to commit crimes. Her salon is frequented by writers, students, artists and scientists, always men of note. They come to her affairs for amusement, but before the evening is over one more fly is enmeshed in her web. The reformation of this woman is the point around which is centered all interest.

THE CONFESSIONS OF A WIFE

I HEAR DICK'S VOICE.

CHAPTER CX.
(Copyright, 1914, by the Newspaper Enterprise Association.)

When I got home from the theatre, where I had been with Dick's friend, Harry Symone, and his wife, I found that Dick had called me up on the long-distance telephone. The message made me just sick to think I had been away when I might have heard Dick's dear voice.

All at once I knew how lonely the character name of "Universal Ike" is making arrangements to purchase a bungalow in Hollywood, Cal., near the Pacific coast studios of the Universal. He says that at last he has found two important conditions of life which suit him—the weather of Southern California and his work with the Universal.

Carney's latest comedy, "Universal Ike Has One Foot in the Grave," is now showing at the Alhambra.

Cures Without Drugs

This Modern Method of Electric Treatment Is Curing Men and Women After Doctors and Drugs Fail.

Don't take another dose of drugs. You know how they must upset your stomach and cause bad digestion. You know the many disagreeable effects of drugs, yet you go on taking them for every little pain or disorder. Just because you were taught that nothing else would cure.

We have the natural way of curing disorders and chronic ailments—the way nature does it. We cure with electricity.

The reason drugs don't cure is because they do not help nature. Nature needs electricity, nourishment, something that builds up. Drugs contain no nourishment—no electricity—just poison, which tears down.

One way of curing is to restore electricity where it is needed, and pain and disorder disappear. That's because electricity gives strength, power to the body, enabling every organ to perform its work properly, and when every organ is in a strong, healthy condition, there can be no pain or ailment.

Wear Electra-Vita while you sleep. It sends a constant stream of electricity to your nerves, and they carry it to every organ and tissue of your body, restoring health and vim.

Saturate your nerves with a glowing current from Electra-Vita for a few hours each night while you sleep. The ailing organs will respond to its influence in the same way that an electric motor starts whirling as soon as the power is turned on.

Electra-Vita is a self-charged body battery, which generates a steady, unbroken stream of galvanic electricity and infuses it into the nerves in just the right volume. It builds vitality and strength, and cures ailments resulting from a debilitated state of the nerves and vital organs.

Every person who has used Electra-Vita recommends it because it is an honest remedy and does great work. We are ready to prove to you that our appliance will cure you. Ask about it today.
