THINK OF ALL THE BREWERY JOBS! THINK OF DRUNKARDS! SOME "WET OR DRY" LETTERS

The keen interest manifested by Star readers in the great prohibition question, soon to be submitted to popular vote, indicates the November election will be marked by the most memorable campaign in the annals of this great state.

The Star has received thousands of letters in this discussion. Contests are held weekly, the prize awards being made every Saturday afternoon. A prize of $10 is given each week, $5 for the best "dry" letter and $5 for the best "wet."

A few of the best letters received this week follow: Lose Self-Government Editor The Star: What right have the people of Eastern Washington to determine the attitude of Seattle on the liquor question? If they have the right to vote the saloon out of Seattle, then we have lost every vestige of self-government. If Seattle should vote "wet" by an overwhelming majority, and the state as a whole vote "dry" by a small majority, this city would lose the revenue, taxes and pay roll and we would still have the liquor traffic. I am a firm believer in local self-government, and for this reason oppose the farce of so-called prohibition. WM. RHINE, 725 E. Pine.

Thousands Jobless Editor The Star: Don't let us ruin business in this state by voting dry. Give this question enough thought so that you can vote on it thoroughly acquainted with both sides of the issue. If the state goes dry, what becomes of those who are carrying a living ceiling and making liquor? Men produce the grain, men make it, men make the bottles and men fill them; men load the bottles, and, lastly, men sell it. Thousands would be left jobless. HENRY BRIDGEMAN, Pilehuck, Wash.

Defends Personal Liberty Editor The Star: Has not a man or woman who is an absolute teetotaler the right to say to me that I shall not drink because they don't? It is a known fact that liquor does not abuse the person who abuses it, but rather that some persons abuse the liquor. Are we to abolish the legal sale of liquor and endorse the illegal sale of it? When a state or city goes dry, "the blind pigs" then do the business. The sale of alcohol, cocaine, morphine, hop, etc., increases. I believe the sale of liquor should be regulated and the sale of drugs restricted. We should doubt the Wants Price Cheapened Editor The Star: In regard to the next election decide on getting the law and Kansas last August, and found more drunks in small towns than I can find in Seattle. I believe there is only one way to remove the liquor question, and that is to remove all saloons and allow every grocery store to handle it, so as to cheapen the price and assure the sale of the genuine goods only. A FAMILY MAN. M. V. B.

Only by Education Editor The Star: If the people at the next election decide on getting the prohibition, it will stop the wheels of industry to the value of more than $1,000,000; it will put out of employment about 65,000 men, upon whom grandmothers, grandfathers, wives and little children depend for the substance of life. Besides this, it will affect all other industries, and their employees, to just the extent that their supplies were needed in the manufacture, distribution and sale of liquors. This prohibition movement is championed by a few well-meaning people who hope to do by law what can only be done by education. DR. S. SHERMAN SILVUS.

THE CONFESSIONS OF A WIFE

CHAPTER XLVIII (Copyright, 1914, by the Newspaper Enterprise Association) "Is it possible that mother allowed Mollie to come to this place with those strange people?" asked Dick. We were sitting in the restaurant with his friend Jim after the play and Dick had just explained Mollie's story in one corner of the room dining with a very conspicuous man and woman. "Who is Mollie?" asked Jim. "My little sister," answered Dick. "The kiddie I used to buy dolls for?" "The very same," confirmed Dick. "There she is over there in the corner." Jim craned his head so that he could see her and exclaimed: "You don't mean that girl who used to be there in the long-legged, pigtailed Mollie Waverly? I'm going right over to get her—she don't train in the crowd she is with."

A COLD MAY BECOME SERIOUS

Lack of Attention May Develop Complications. There seems to be a widespread feeling that a "common cold" is more or less of a joke. Everybody is expected to have a "cold" at some time during the year. Some people try to defeat a cold by "forgetting" it. Others have heard the old saying, "Starve a fever and stuff a cold," so they eat very good food of burrowing the system and opening the way for infection. This is a very bad plan with overworked digestive organs. In fact, the complications arising from a cold, such as pneumonia, catarrh, consumption, etc., could easily be avoided by proper advice and remedy.

PHOTO PLAYS DREAMS THAT NEVER COME TRUE —HOPES THAT ARE VAIN ONLY END IN PAIN

The dream unrealized, alas, is like a faded rose with its petals strewn in withered fragments on the ground. Every dream not fortified by action can only end in a vain regret of what might have been.

There are countless numbers of young people today who have dreamed of owning a fine piano or player piano—their very souls are longing for some expression in music, but they have deferred action—they keep on putting it off month after month, and what was pleasing and inspiring in the dream gradually turns to the ashes of discontent; life shadows within them and the longing soul droops and shrivels for the want of expression of its own inherent harmony.

Nothing will contribute more to the development of a serene and happy disposition than good music. Even a rudimentary knowledge of music and its application in the home will prove a strong factor in the making of a successful life to every member of the family. A dependable player piano such as the Thomas Orchestral Player Piano is worth its weight in gold to any family when you stop to consider its vast contribution to your larger and deeper life from the viewpoint of health and happiness. National Piano Manufacturers, 823 Third Avenue, near Marion Street, one block below Madison Street, where the big sensational cut price piano and player piano sale is now in full blast.—Adv.

At the Pleasant Hour Until Friday "The Disaster in Shaft 19," three-reel feature, and a one-reel comedy. Comedy—Mexican War The Universal will release a two-reel comedy satire on the Mexican war of the present time. It is called "The Adventures of Limburger and Schweitzer," and the leads are played by Raymond and Caverly, the German comedians. The incidents in the story are said to alternate from the hair-raising to the ridiculous. "Neptune's Daughter," the Annette Kellerman feature, in which the water nymph is starred, is making a big hit in the New Globe theatre, in New York. Leah Baird is also in the production. Katherine Lee, a wonderful child actress, plays the part of Neptune's little daughter.

Some Dope on Bunny John Bunny, the Vitagraph comedian, was born in New York city, in September, 1863. John is the first in nine generations of his family not a deep-water sailor, and the second in nine generations not of the royal navy. He was the ninth in his family. A high school education is the best he can boast. He made his first appearance on the stage when he was 20 years old, and has been on it ever since. He entered the pictures at Christmas, 1910, at $40 a week, and now draws down a mere $1,000 a week, and has refused $1,500 weekly for a vaudeville engagement. He is married and has two sons.

"The Scar," at the Dream today, is a drama in which the memory of "the other woman" is the center of the plot. A Vitagraph Feature "A Million Bid," a five-part Vitagraph drama, starts at the Alhambra today. The scenario is written by "Geo. Cameron," which is another name for Sidney Drew, the Vitagraph comedy writer. The story deals with the selfish mother who wants her daughter to marry money, and finally forces her into one. Circumstances reunite the girl and her real lover, now a noted doctor, after a trip at sea, where the young wife learns from her husband and believes him lost. She marries again, but the husband turns up again, with his memory gone. Fate straightens out the tangle, and "they live happily ever afterwards."

Faversham in Pictures May 9 William Faversham closes his present theatrical engagement in St. Louis, and three days later he will report to the Playgoers' Yonkers studio, to start work on "A Social Highwayman," which is Faversham's initial bow to the motion picture public. Faversham played in Seattle this season in "Julius Caesar," as Marc Antony.

Henry Bramer Greatly Aided by Akzo on Trip to Wellville Portland Man Says California Mineral Relieved His Rheumatism and Stomach Trouble. After suffering for 15 years with acute stomach trouble and rheumatism, Henry Bramer, a brick and mortar worker, residing at 232 Front street, Portland, has found relief by taking Akzo, the new California medicinal mineral. Not only has he had relief from his distressing ailments, but he has felt the exceptional relief of Akzo and now rests and eats well and has banished that tired feeling. "I was troubled with a bad stomach and rheumatism for about 15 years," said Mr. Bramer. "In that time I spent a great deal of money on remedies and doctors, but without much benefit until I tried Akzo. I am now getting about very satisfactorily after taking Akzo six weeks. I feel better, I don't have that tired feeling, I eat and sleep well and I take more interest in things generally. I intend to keep on taking Akzo for a time yet, as I believe it will be only a short time now until I am entirely as good as ever."

Akoz is a harmless mineral that is proving very effective in the treatment of rheumatism, stomach, kidney, liver, liver troubles, diabetes, Bright's disease, eczema, catarrh, piles, ulcers and other ailments. It is a natural mineral, and is succeeding in numberless cases where physicians and other remedies have failed. Akoz is sold at The Owl and all other leading druggists, where further information may be had regarding this advertisement.

WHAT THE PRESS AGENT SAYS Jane Dorsey, who plays the title role in "The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary" at the Seattle theatre this week, is the marvel of the remainder of the Avenue Players. She committed to memory 78 pages of last week and Monday evening had committed to memory 78 pages of "sides" of manuscript. The feat is remarkable in that it is more than twice as much as the average part stock performers are required to memorize in a full week's work.
