

NOW WOULDN'T IT GET YOUR ANGORA TOO? WELL, MAYBE LEE IS "HEP" NOW

Bill Sweeney deserves honorable mention in the Height of Nerve league. He knocked out Lee Magee, then shook hands and explained to Lee that if he had had accident insurance he would have been paid $100. Furthermore, instead of slapping on a fine, President Tater should have given both players a choice between $50 fine and 60 per cent of the gate receipts.

SPORTS

More speed on the bases. That's what every wise league manager now appears to be striving for. It's what John McGraw, New York Giants' leader, and Branch Rickey, boss of the rejuvenated Browns, are seeking. McGraw has in his line-up four regular infielders and three outfielders who can be counted upon to steal 35 bases apiece this season. About 10 base swipes per man each season is the slow record of the Cleveland Naps.

FEAR MIXUP ON LAKE MAY AFFECT GAME

That the mixup Friday afternoon which very nearly resulted disastrously for the University of Washington regular crew will put a crimp in intercollegiate rowing in Seattle for some time to come is the opinion of those in close touch with the situation. It is quite certain that California won't come to Seattle next year on account of the exposition. That they will ever come up here again is doubtful.

ALBANY PAINLESS DENTISTRY Cheap Dental Work Expensive

There is a vast difference between getting cheap dental work and getting the best dental work cheap. We do not compete with cheap dentists, nor do we recognize dental graders who claim to put in teeth without plates or bridge-work and then sell you cheap junk for bridge-work under another name.

CHAMPION BILL RITCHIE IS A RAVING, FRANTIC "GOLF BUG"; HE FORSAKES GYM FOR GREENSWARD

By Hugh S. Fullerton

Willie Ritchie, champion lightweight, has become a raving, frantic "bug." About the first inquiry he made after he landed in Chicago to prepare for his battle with Charlie White was where he could play golf, and when several invitations were extended to him to play over courses around Chicago he promptly accepted them all.

Scores 86 in First Round Ritchie carries enough clubs to beat all the golf champions, and, as might be expected, he plays a very fair game for a comparatively new golfer. He has the theory of golf, he has read the authorities, and he has received lessons from several carking good professors. He shot an 86 for his first round near Chicago, and offered to wager that he could better it on the next round on account of greater familiarity with the holes.

Shoots With Accuracy His wooden club work is rather strong, but erratic as yet. He uses the iron to good effect and putts steadily and with considerable accuracy, showing healthy nerves and a keen eye. Indeed, I find that baseball players, fighters, football men and others who have engaged in other lines of athletics putt much better at their start at golf than do ordinary men.

There is the confidence and nerve steadiness that helps them; but their trained eyes, accustomed to judging pace and distance, are the best assets in golf.

He Plays All the Time "This is the game," remarked Ritchie enthusiastically. "I honestly think it is the best game of all for all sorts of persons. I used to make fun of it, but that was before I played at all."

NEW YORK, May 25.—Now that a Gunboat Smith-Georges Carpenter match is an assured fact, the Gunner now being on the high seas en route to London, Jess Willard and his manager, Tom Jones, are the two most disappointed men in the country. Willard charges that Smith deliberately passed up a promised match with him in San Francisco July 4 to take on easier game.

HE HAS FRAPPED TOOTSIES?

Smith got a questionable decision over me in San Francisco when I was a novice at the game. Now that I have acquired experience and have been bowling over my opponents right and left, the Gunner gets a fine case of frapped feet, and hits the big drink for London and Georges Carpenter," said Willard.

estly think it is the best game of all for all sorts of persons. I used to make fun of it, but that was before I played at all.

"I suppose some of the old-time battlers would have dropped dead to see a boxer out with a bag of clubs. I have played the game at times for several years, but never got to be a real 'bug' until last fall. Now I want to play all the time."

It Quits the Nerves "When a fellow is in danger of training a little too fine he is apt to get nervous and irritable. When I feel that way I like to get out and play golf. It rests me, quiets my nerves down, and does me a lot of good. After playing 18 holes and walking two or three miles I can come back and do twice the training work without feeling tired."

RANDOM SHOTS

Now that they have had a real row on the field, jumped a bum ump and protested a game, the Feds have a right to claim to be a major league.

Henry Borles, the university tennis player, says he expects to win the Seattle Athletic club tourney. And there is a fellow over at the Brown & Hulens who expects some unknown rich uncle to die and leave him a million.

RALPH FRARY TURNS UP IN CHILLY CLIME

Ralph Frary, the arbitrator who scurried away to regions unknown without the usual formalities, such as notifying his boss, has turned up in Juneau, Alaska.

Inquisitive natives learned from Ralph that he still intends to flop to the Federal band. He hasn't explained why President Gilmore of the Reb circuit doesn't know anything about his intentions.

You can't dope baseball, especially as it is played in the Northwest league. The Vancouver Beavers walloped the tar out of Bug's babies for the first four days up in Vancouver, and everybody threw up their hands in disgust.

Two hall players were killed and three more seriously hurt Saturday afternoon, when a Santa Fe passenger train struck an automobile near Cheras, Colo., bearing members of the Ordway baseball club.

Bill James pulled the Boston Braves through to victory in a game against the Chicago Cubs at Chicago Sunday afternoon. Willie got along famously until the ninth. He got all mused up in that frame, however, and Tyler was summoned to render first aid.

Two weeks ago Berry opposed the Washington Park nine and let them down without a run or hit. Last Sunday he worked against the Nippons, a strong Japanese team. The little brown men didn't get a run or hit, either.

Berry pitches for the Dickie Manufacturing Co. team, one of the strong aggregations entered in the Section 1 Star league championship. He is trying for the Stacy Shown bid, offered to the pitcher who makes the best record for the season.

Two no-run, no-hit games in three weeks! Pretty good way to start out the season, eh? Two weeks ago Berry opposed the Washington Park nine and let them down without a run or hit.

FIGHT FANS WILL WELCOME RETURN OF TEN-ROUND GAME

Seattle boxing fans are happy to day in anticipation of the ten-round bout to be fought in Ajax hall, 8th and Greenwood, next Friday night, between the two local crack-fights—Billy Williams and Chet Neff.

The local fans have put up with the four-round game for years, and the short route has proved very unsatisfactory in determining the superiority of the topnotchers about the Northwest. Ten rounds puts this city on a par with New York city, and, in fact, gives us an edge on the metropolis in the respect that decisions will be rendered here.

There is comparatively less danger to the participants in a ten-round game than in a four-round affair. The purse in the short-rounders has to be small, and for this reason the boxers spend very little of their time getting into shape for battle.

In order to go ten rounds, a man must be in good condition, and has to train accordingly.

The ten-round game also means that a lot of the country's best fighters will be attracted to this city.
