

JOSH WISE SAYS:

"The Beelysport Symphony orchestra may have ter disband. It can't find a place ter rehearse, but what Soy Bean butts in with his accordion."

The Seattle Star

The Only Paper in Seattle That Dares to Print the News

VOLUME 16. NO. 163.

SEATTLE, WASH., THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 3, 1914.

ONE CENT NEWS STANDS, 6c ON TRAINS AND

LAST EDITION

WEATHER FORECAST — Nothing but fair weather tonight and Friday; light southwest winds.

GERMANS CLOSE IN ON PARIS

Girl Shoots Man; Jumps to Death!

'WOULDN'T MARRY ME' SHE SAYS

There are two things to which The Star wishes to call attention today. One is the noonday meeting to be held Friday by Ole Hanson, candidate for United States senator, at the Grand opera house; the other is the complete advisory ballot for next Tuesday's primaries, to be published in The Star tomorrow. If you never have heard Ole Hanson talk, go tomorrow and listen to him. You'll vote for him if you do.

GIRL AND DENTIST WHO FIGURED IN BIG DOWNTOWN LOVE TRAGEDY

Miss Clara La Lone, in a rowboat on Lake Washington. This picture, with the one below, was taken on a recent outing enjoyed by Miss La Lone and Dr. Fleehart.

Miss La Lone and Dr. Fleehart sitting together in the boat.

Still refusing to discuss the tragedy, Dr. Frank L. Fleehart, 34, dentist, lies seriously wounded in the right lung at the city hospital today. His recovery is uncertain.

At the city morgue is the lifeless body of Miss Clara La Lone, 1108 Market st., Ballard, who shot Dr. Fleehart, then, swallowing mercury bichloride, jumped out of a sixth story window of the Holland hotel, Fourth av. and Jefferson st., shortly after 9 o'clock last night. She was instantly killed.

The couple, according to letters left by the girl and statements by her family, had been engaged for nearly three years.

In a letter to her sister, Miss Marie La Lone, the girl wrote: "He has had plenty of time to marry me—two and a half years. * * * If any one knew what that man made me do, they would simply hang him without trial."

The couple registered at the hotel early in the evening as "F. Lanore and wife, Arlington."

Dr. Fleehart left the hotel, returning shortly before 9 o'clock. Miss La Lone in the meantime sent for some hotel stationery and wrote the letter to her sister. Another letter, written on Savoy hotel stationery, is addressed to Mrs. Robert L. Anthony, Seattle.

Girl Shouts After Him
It was only a few moments after Fleehart returned to the hotel that he was seen walking down the stairs. He was wearing a pale, and breathing hard. He told the clerk, H. M. Leighton, that he had been shot. The two started for the city (Continued on Page 4.)

LEAPS OFF BOAT

The police are dragging the bay off Luna park today in an effort to recover the body of an unknown man who leaped from the Sound steamer Daring, en route from Tacoma to Seattle, at 10 o'clock this morning.

CARDINAL D. CHIESA NEW POPE

ROME, Sept. 3.—Cardinal Della Chiesa was elected pope today on the ninth ballot.

He chose the name of Benedictus XV.

The date for his coronation, it is stated, will be set later.

Della Chiesa was assistant to Cardinal Merry Del Val, who was the late Pope Pius' secretary of state.

He is archbishop of Bologna and was created a cardinal in May.

His selection indicates a continuation of the policies of the late pope and of his secretary of state. Della Chiesa is also on good terms with the Italian government, and through him Pius X.'s dream of a reconciliation between the Vatican and the Quirinal might be realized.

Seven foreign cardinals failed to arrive in Rome in time to take part in the conclave.

Fifty-seven participated. Benedictus XV. will forward the late pope's policy of healing the breach between the Vatican and the Italian government, a quarrel dating from the time of the loss of the pope's temporal power.

Cardinal Della Chiesa, elected pope in Rome today, was born in Pedil, Italy, in 1854.

Ordained in 1878
He was ordained a priest in 1878 and went to Madrid as secretary of the nunciature in 1883, remaining there until 1877.

When he returned to Rome, Della Chiesa acted as a minor official in the papal secretary of state's office until 1901, when Cardinal Rampoldi, the late Pope Leo's secretary of state, promoted him to the first assistant secretaryship of state.

In 1907, Della Chiesa was made archbishop of Bologna, where he remained until he was made a cardinal at the last conclave.

He's Anti-Modernist
The new pope, like his predecessor, belongs to the anti-modernist school of churchmen, and is said, also like Pius, to be concerned more with the internal affairs of the church than with world politics.

As soon as a scrutiny of the ballots showed the selection of Cardinal Della Chiesa as head of the church, the cardinal deacon, accompanied by the heads of other orders of cardinals, presented himself before Della Chiesa to demand if he accepted the election. His reply was affirmative.

Cardinals Kiss Foot
Immediately the canopies over the chairs of all the other members of the sacred college were dropped to the floor, the newly chosen pope's alone remaining.

The latter then announced the choice of his name.

The pope took his seat on his temporary throne, received the first adoration from the members of the sacred college and gave his first benediction, the cardinals kneeling.

Then followed the kissing by each cardinal of the new pontiff's foot and hand, after which each in turn was embraced by him.

SNAKE WAKENS SLEEPING GIRL

BERWICK, Pa., Sept. 3.—A four-foot blacksnake crawling over her face, awakened from slumber Miss Violet Ryan. She was visiting friends in their mountain home. Her shrieks summoned aid and the snake was killed.

Political Dishonesty!

EX-STATE SENATOR PAULHAMUS, speaking as Congressman J. A. Falconer's representative at Tacoma Tuesday night, advised progressives to vote for Falconer for first choice and for A. V. Fawcett for second choice for United States senator.

THIS ADVICE IS DISHONEST. A real progressive would not counsel such action. Only the mind of a crafty politician would advise voters to give a second choice vote to Fawcett or Louis Kreger, who are not bona fide candidates.

The whole state recognizes only two real candidates for the senatorship on the progressive ticket. They are Ole Hanson and Falconer. These are the men who should receive both first and second choice votes. The Star believes Hanson stands head and shoulders above Falconer from every standpoint.

Nevertheless, The Star advises progressives to vote for Falconer second choice. Falconer supporters who are honest in their progressive claims can do their party no worthier service than to urge Falconer's friends to vote for Hanson second choice.

Any other action is political scoundgery. Any other action is downright dishonesty. Down deep in its heart, The Star believes Ole Hanson is the only progressive who can sweep this state in victory and defeat Standpatter Wesler LORIMER Jones. For Hanson does not falter and hesitate on questions involving principle, as some candidates have done.

No one can doubt Hanson is a real progressive. No one can question that he is a fighter. No one can doubt his ability, his courage, his sterling honesty, in private as well as in public life.

The Star hopes he is nominated for the good of the people and for the good of the state. The Star urges progressives to vote for Hanson first choice and for Falconer second choice.

ACT ON THE SQUARE, PROGRESSIVES. PAULHAMUS' ADVICE IS DISHONEST. AND IF FALCONER SANCTIONS PAULHAMUS' ADVICE, IT IS ONLY FURTHER EVIDENCE OF HOW MUCH BIGGER A MAN HANSON IS THAN FALCONER.

Spend Five Minutes Here Every Day and You'll Know All About the European War

By Fred L. Boalt
THE KAISER HAS MADE A herculean effort in France. Has it failed? He had to crush the allies quickly and utterly or split his armies in half to check the southward rush of the Slavs. London is optimistic today, and with some reason. Petrograd advises state positively that the Austrian 14th army corps was included in the army defeated in Galicia by the Russians. Here is proof that the kaiser is already splitting his armies. For beyond question, the Austrian 14th corps was one of those sent south against the French and British. London believes that there are no Austrian troops left in France.

THE MOVING OF THE FRENCH capital from Paris to Bordeaux has no military significance. Nor will it affect the strategy of either side. Paris remains the objective point of the Germans. Their line, at the point nearest Paris, touches Pierrefonds, the estate of "Porthos," that portly warrior member of Dumas' immortal quartet. Pierrefonds is half way between Compiègne and Lemberg, on the eastern fringe of the forest of Compiègne, and 40 miles northeast of Paris. The German left has failed to press back the allies' right. This may be because the kaiser has withdrawn troops from that end of the battle line to add to the striking power of his right wing.

FROM BOTH LONDON AND Paris comes word that the Germans are exhausted, and that they do not now charge with the vigor they formerly displayed. Has the kaiser asked too much of his soldiers? Certainly he has not hesitated to sacrifice them. The German right alone is advancing now, and that slowly, and to keep in touch with the main field force, the lines of communication to the west must either become dangerously weak or there must be an abandonment of the German offensive in the eastern area of France.

ONE DANGER OF FURTHER complicating the situation is removed. Sweden, declining definitely to join with Germany in the hope of winning Finland back from Russia, declares her neutrality.

THE AUSTRIANS HAVE RE-treated behind Lemberg, and St. Petersburg claims that five Austrian army corps have been annihilated.

Everett fishermen want Everett made purse seiners' port, with free landings during fishing months and free moorings in winter.

AVIATORS IN BATTLE OVER CITY

PARIS, Sept. 3.—It is admitted by French military authorities today that the Germans will reach northern outer fortifications of Paris. They insist, however, it will be impossible for them to isolate the city. The Germans are only 40 miles away today, and are bringing up heavy siege guns, mounted on auto trucks.

The seat of the government has been moved to Bordeaux. United States Ambassador Herrick was the only foreign diplomat to remain in Paris. He considered it his duty, he said, to stay and look after American refugees.

"The invaders' center," announced Gen. Gallieni, the military governor, "has thrown its entire weight against our lines without being able to make the slightest impression. Their right has pressed our left back, but slowly and in complete order. We have inflicted enormous damage on them and every attempt they have made to break through from the north has been blocked."

"The German right is engaged in a most hazardous undertaking. For every mile it progresses its lines are correspondingly extended, and with our center holding, it may be that we will yet surprise the enemy."

It is believed today's battle is a decisive engagement. Deny Cruelty to Wounded
A denial was issued in answer to reports that the Germans are ill-treating the French and British wounded. Instead, it is stated, they have cared attentively for them.

Today's fighting, it is announced, is general, but the fury of the German attack is abating. The government has given Gen. Gallieni, military governor of Paris, supreme authority over the city's entire defenses, subject to the interference of neither Gen. Joffre nor of the general staff.

One of the three German aeroplanes which attacked Paris Wednesday night was brought down later by a French shot near Compiègne, and two officers in the machine were killed by their fall. It is officially announced today. When the German aeroplanes made their appearance opposite Paris prior to the casualty at Compiègne machine guns and riflesmen opened on them from the tops of many buildings and two French airmen ascended to give them battle at short range.

Exchange Shots in Air
The fire from the roof tops, having separated one of the Germans from his two companions, the French air craft swooped toward him fiercely.

The German fired at them repeatedly, the Frenchmen answering promptly, and for several minutes the battle in the air raged.

The German, finally evidently considering himself beaten in the two-to-one battle, ascended to a higher level and, with the two machines which accompanied him, circled about a few times and disappeared to the northeastward.

FRENCH FLEET BATTERS TOWN

PARIS, Sept. 3.—The Austrian port of Cattaro was bombarded by the French Adriatic fleet Wednesday, according to dispatches received today. It is said immense damage was done, and that the forts were battered completely to pieces.

What I think about it

BEING JUST ONE MAN'S OPINION
By The Spectator

Now they tell me that fall styles for women will have some resemblance to military uniforms. But I doubt if the women stand for it. Women are naturally opposed to war, although for some reason or other they seem to think well of warriors. But when war has got through with its wholesale murder, women have to pay the big price. Now they have a chance to quit being style-slaves, issue a new declaration of independence, and notify the manufacturers of women's garments that they won't buy and won't wear anything that looks like war.