HIS NECK SAFE; HE MURDERS

PORTLAND, Nov. 20.—Confessing to City Detective Frank Snow while being brought from Kalama, Wash., near where he had been arrested yesterday, to Portland, that he had premeditated the murder since July, but had delayed its commission until he learned that capital punishment in Oregon had probably been abandoned. Fred Tronson, who shot and killed Miss Emma Ulrich, a stenographer, here Monday night, is held in jail today under close guard to frustrate any possible attempts at self-destruction.

Tronson declared his motive for killing Miss Ulrich was her refusal to marry him.

Tronson was arrested while walking along a country road in Clatsop county, Wash., penniless, and almost exhausted from hunger. He was on his way to Tacoma, he said.

At Kalama a crowd of angry men, threatening lynching, had gathered, but were persuaded to desist from administering summary justice.

Had he failed to kill Miss Ulrich in the first attempt, Tronson said, he intended to return to Portland and complete the work.

Another determination, he said, had been to escape apprehension, was to kill himself on the very spot where he had killed the girl.

MONTANA SENATOR TO BE AT BANQUET

IT WASN'T LUCK THAT LANDED PRETTY MINNA ON STAGE—JU ST GOOD, HARD WORK

Minna Gombel

Take it from the high-powered romance weaver who does the press agent gag for "A Pair of Sixes," which will be the attraction at the Moore theatre next week, the fellow who let loose of the quip about mere man proposing and girl disposing knew whereof he was discoursing.

To begin with, the press agent breezed into the office with all the plans and specifications of a real yarn. He had skeletonized it thuswise:

"Pretty girl, Minna Gombel. 'A Pair of Sixes' poker game. 'Luck, an element in poker. 'Luck, an element which brought Minna in 'A Pair of Sixes.'"

The P. A. then elucidated and we gathered that if we interviewed Minna we would get a tale built upon the romance of chance which led her to the stage as a member of "A Pair of Sixes" company.

It was to be a tale how Minna never dreamed of going on the stage, but how she came across the path of an enterprising theatrical manager who never did anything thereafter except stay upon her trail until she finally capitulated and agreed to become an actress.

The busy P. A. then left us, but evidently the wires got crossed, or Minna went out shopping when the P. A. needed her, or something. But at any rate, the beautiful story was given the grand K. O. by beautiful Minna almost in the first round.

Which speaks volumes for Minna's regard for truth rather than fiction.

It appears that Minna didn't get on the stage by mere chance at all. The daughter of a prominent Baltimore physician, she mixed in social work to a greater or less extent and frequently took part in amateur theatricals and attained a good deal of prominence on her own account.

So when she finally decided to make a career of her own, did she follow in the footsteps of Dad? "Excuse Me."

Off she went to New York, some three years ago, and camped in town until she got herself placed. And she got herself placed well, too, for after a few weeks she obtained the leading feminine role in "Excuse Me."

Last year, she was the leading lady in "Madam President," the starring vehicle of Miss Fannie Ward, and this year she plays Florence Cole in "A Pair of Sixes."

PAIN GONE! RUB SORE, RHEUMATIC ACHING JOINTS

Stop "dosing" Rheumatism. It's pain only; not one case in five requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacob's Oil" right on the "tender spot," and by the time you say Jack Robinson—out comes the rheumatic pain and distress. "St. Jacob's Oil" is a harmless rheumatism liniment which never disappoints and doesn't burn the skin. It takes pain, soreness and stiffness from aching joints, muscles and bones; stops sciatica, lumbago, backache and neuralgia.

Amber up! Get a small trial bottle of old-time, honest "St. Jacob's Oil" from any drug store, and in a moment, you'll be free from pains, aches and stiffness. Don't suffer! Rub rheumatism away.

LADIES ATTENTION!

Reason for catering to the ladies. It is customary for the ladies to economize small earnings at the present time, so we chose the ladies because ladies will always listen, and pay more attention as to where to find bargains.

ZEALOTS PASS SNAKES FROM HAND TO HAND

CLEVELAND, Tenn., Nov. 20.—Venomous snakes are playing a sensational part in the church ritual of the "Holy Rollers" of this vicinity. The true believers, attending the "church of God," in South Cleveland, are passing rattlers and copperheads about from hand to hand, amid fervid, tempestuous praying, and though many are bitten, none suffers death or pain. So they assert, at least.

"Why do you use snakes in meeting?" a reporter asked Tom McLain, one of the founders of the church. McLain quoted Mark xvi:18: "And these signs shall follow them that believe: In My name shall they cast out devils; they shall speak with new tongues; and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them; they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover."

Atlas of the War in Europe

The Seattle Star has on hand a shipment of war atlases specially prepared for this publication. This Atlas is made up of twenty pages of beautiful maps, each 12x15 inches in size, showing all the countries of Europe in detail. One page is devoted to a map of the world, showing the possessions of each nation. Two pages show the map of Europe, two pages show Russia in detail. Two pages are devoted to Austria-Hungary, two pages to France and two pages to Germany. One page is devoted to Italy and smaller maps show all the other countries on large maps.

Two pages are devoted to giving facts and figures on the peace and war strength of the various nations of Europe. The front page shows the pictures of most of the crowned heads of Europe. This wonderful atlas has just come off the press and is right up to date. All the changes in boundaries caused by the Balkan war are shown. One of these maps will be given with each six months' subscription for The Seattle Star by mail, at the regular price of $1.50. Old and new subscribers may both take advantage of this offer. If your subscription is now paid in advance, we will extend it six months from the time it expires upon receipt of order from you. This offer is to subscribers receiving their papers by mail only. Address all orders to The Seattle Star, Circulation Department, Seattle, Wash.

CANARY WINS ITS BOUT WITH MOUSE

HASTINGS, N. J., Nov. 20.—At the home of Samuel Pos here a canary bird whipped a mouse in a fair fight. The mouse, evidently suffering from hunger, entered the cage of the canary when it stood on a table. It began to eat up the seeds put in the cage for the canary. The bird became enraged, and attacked the mouse. It took only a few seconds for the bird to blind the mouse with its bill.

BATTLE WITH TOOLS

PARIS, Nov. 20.—Some of the hostile trenches about Roye are only 15 yards apart, and a company of French sappers stumbled into a ditch where German sappers were working. A battle ensued with picks and shovels and continued until rifles began to crack, when the French escaped.

TRUP OF FIGS FOR CROSS, SICK FEVERISH CHILD

Children can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, and they become tightly packed, liver gets sluggish and stomach disordered.

When cross, feverish, restless, see if tongue is coated, then give this delicious "fruit laxative." Children love it, and it can not cause injury. No difference what all your little one—if full of cold, or a sore throat, diarrhoea, stomach-ache, bad breath, remember, a gentle "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a recent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." We make no smaller size. Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.
