HERE'S WHAT TO DO WHEN YOU'RE TIRED

PARIS, Feb. 12.—Dr. L. Jaquet has discovered a method of curing fatigue which is being widely used in the trenches.

The exhausted soldier takes off his boots, lies down flat, puts his head on his sack, sticks his legs straight up in the air, supporting them against a tree, the side of the trench or against the back of a comrade and then wiggles his toes as violently as he can. It gives instant relief.

Mallory Hats

SPRING STYLES

Now being shown in our Fourth Ave. windows. All colors are entered, with blue a slight favorite.

Mallory Hats have been made through four generations—since 1823. They stand up under all weather and don't lose the appearance of a high character hat.

Years of "knowing how" are joined to selected material and skilled American workmanship, making it the greatest of all hats at $3.00.

This is Mallory week and you are cordially invited.

What the Women Are Going to Wear This Spring!

Fashion Expert Looks Over All New Ladies' Wear and Describes Changes for Readers of The Star.

STYLES for spring! What will women wear in 1915? The array is imposing and interesting. Most of the styles created in America have been adopted by women of wealth. The reduced number of models filtering through from Paris are swamped in the cabinets filled with American creations, now being shown in the big New York and Chicago shops.

SHOES New showings in women's footwear plainly indicate a military trend. Brass buttons and in some cases braid are profusely used. Low shoes are of the colonial type and have short tongues. Cloth will be used on the low shoes and colors will be popular.

PARASOLS Bright colors and brilliant designs will be in order. Cordings are in evidence.

SKIRTS The fuller skirt has fairly swooped into popularity. In nearly all the high class models the skirt is exceedingly full and wide. While the waistline is raised considerably, it is normal in many cases.

COLORINGS Colors will vary considerably, though the duller shades predominate, especially for street wear. White and black are popular, and these shades are often combined with striking results.

HATS The small hat has won all honors so far. Smart saliors, toques and tricorne shapes are seen everywhere. Floral trimmings are popular and much braid is being used. Feather effects are quite popular.

PETTICOATS Petticoats are seen with full or circular flounces, chiffon taffets, ruffles and pleatings used for trimmings. Colors follow the outer apparel.

DRESSES, SUITS In suits and dresses, the skirts have box and side pleated effects and are leaning to the circular forms. The style period for these garments is 1835.

WAISTS Semi-tailored styles are the last word in separate waists, and, as a rule, the normal waistline is seen. The high waistline, however, is permissible in dress waists. Many waists are of the semi-fitted order.

SLEEVES Sleeves are full length and fit closely. Dancing frocks and evening dresses are sleeveless, though the former usually have sleeve caps.

MATERIALS Sport coats apparently will have a popular season, most of these being of fancy design in woolsens. Poplins, gabardines, coverts, worsteds, etc., are most popular.

COATS Belts predominate in the suits for spring, either placed at or above the waistline. Flare effects are common.

CHILDREN The new coats are high-waisted and show a tendency to follow the styles for elders. The 1820-30 period influence is evident.

RIBBONS Both in millinery, on dresses and trimming ribbons will be popular. The stripes and the check seem to form the bulk of the most popular designs.

VEILS To be worn; draped and fancy styles with borders apparently lead.

GLOVES Embroidery effects top off the latest novelties in gloves. Soft colors and half-tones are common.

SCATTER TACKS ALONG ROUTE OF JITNEY BUSES

There may be an arrest before nightfall in connection with the tack scattering Thursday night, which resulted in the puncturing of many automobile tires, it was stated by the police today.

The detective department is conducting a careful investigation designed to apprehend the guilty parties.

Privately owned cars and jitney buses suffered alike. The total loss will run into hundreds of dollars. Tacks were sown with special care along the Eastlake Jitney route, causing distress to numerous drivers. Many drivers continued on to their destination, ruining their rims as well as the flat tires.

Earl McFale of the College hotel got punctures in all four wheels. F. Hill, 604 Columbia st., reports taking nearly a box of tacks from his four wheels.

The police believe practical jokers are responsible.

NICE THING, THIS WAR
PARIS, Feb. 12.—M. Antoine, former director of the Odéon theatre, in a lecture, said of Gerhard Hauptmann, many of whose plays he has produced: "At my home in Brittany my son and Hauptmann's son have discussed literature and art. Both are at the front. I told my son, 'If you meet Hauptmann's son kill him without pity.'"

No. 2—Reproduced from a Primet design—an afternoon suit in white gabardine, embroidered in white; reproduced by Marshall Field & Co.
No. 4—Tailored street dress model; has plain, white satin vest; model originated by Marshall Field & Co.
No. 5—New model in serge street dress, with applique embroidery and showing the new flare skirt; model originated by Marshall Field & Co.

MURDERER OF 8 SAYS GIRL MADE HIM A SLAYER

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—Frederick Mors, who has confessed to the murder of eight inmates of the Old Fellows' home in Yonkers, N. Y., hinted to officers that a woman changed him from a medical student, with a normal brain, to a cunning fiend who plotted wholesale murders.

Interviewed today in his cell, Mors reiterated his declaration that he killed eight inmates of the home. An interpreter, who conversed with Mors in German, said: "It seems that Mors left his home in Austria because a girl in Vienna wrecked his hopes. He changed his name from Menerelk to Mors, which means death, and developed an abnormal interest in poisons."

CHARGE BAKERS' BOOST IN PRICE IS UNNECESSARY

Men prominently identified with the flour milling industry, today charged that the action of Seattle master bakers in advancing the prices of bread and reducing the size of loaves was unjustified.

They base this view on information that most of the big bakers purchased a year's supply of flour early in the season when the price was lowest. The rise in price, consequently, they declare, has not affected the cost to the bakers.

James F. Branigan, who is at once a baker and a grocer, admits it probably is true that many of the bakers are in this position. "I am sorry to say that I am not," he added, "but in justice to those who did buy stocks of flour when the price was low, it should be understood that they did so on a speculation. They probably feel, consequently, that they are entitled to a

CASINO LOSES TRADE 'T'WILL COST TWO BITS NOW TO SEE MARY PICKFORD

PARIS, Feb. 12.—Although the Casino is running at Monte Carlo, its receipts for last year fell off 50 per cent.

GERMANS HONOR BOY

ANTWERP, Feb. 12.—Seeing he was a mere boy, Germans who found the body of Corporal Chasignol, aged 17, honored him by wrapping a tattered French flag about him under his overcoat.

'T'WILL COST TWO BITS NOW TO SEE MARY PICKFORD

The Famous Players Co. announce that hereafter film-plays starring Mary Pickford will be shown first at city theatres which will charge a minimum of 25 cents and from that price up to 50 cents.

Previously the Pickford films have been issued first in the Paramount service shown first here at the Liberty. They will continue to be shown in this service, but not until after they have been shown at the higher prices.

The company explains that the higher price is made necessary by the large salary now paid Miss Pickford. This salary is reported to be $150,000.

However, the higher price service is to include other pretentious film-plays also.

For some weeks now there has been a growing tendency toward higher prices for films important enough to justify it.

Some New York theatres have been showing the ordinary run of high-grade film-play at prices ranging as high as $1.

At the Alaska for the remainder of the week, Mary Pickford appears in "Hearts Adrift," an unusual and pretty play.

A bright, breezy bill is offered at the Colonial this week, a number of short dramas and a Charles Chaplin humdrum comedy.

The Liberty still has "The Rose of the Rancho," full of exciting incidents and pretty Spanish maidens.

The Class A has a well-balanced bill, with a couple of good dramas and Charlie Chaplin in "The New Janitor."

"The Threads of Destiny," with Evelyn Nesbit Thaw in the title role, is on the remainder of the week at the Mission. It is a strong drama, woven around the secret service police of Russia.

Annette Kellerman is diving and swimming for the benefit of Clemmer patrons in "Neptune's Daughter." She stays until Sunday.

At the Colonial until Saturday Night "Silence," two-part drama, featuring Wmfred Greenwood; "Sergeant Jim's Horse," drama; "Evans Lucky Day," comedy; "His Prehistoric Past," Keystone comedy featuring Charlie Chaplin; "Yellowstone National Park," scenic

At the Mission until Saturday Night "The Threads of Destiny," featuring Evelyn Nesbit Thaw.

At the Class A until Saturday Night "The Craven," two-act drama; "The Broken Lullaby," drama; "The New Janitor," Keystone comedy, featuring Charlie Chaplin; "A Bird's a Bird," Keystone comedy; "Patio Scenic."

At the Alameda All Week "Neptune's Daughter," drama, featuring Annette Kellerman.

At the Liberty until Saturday Night "The Rose of the Rancho," featuring Bessie Barriscale; "Wanted—A Nurse," comedy.

HAVE YOU EVER HEARD COMMENTS ABOUT THE HIGH COST OF DYING? TO THE PEOPLE OF SEATTLE:

You have often heard comments on the high cost of living, but how about the high cost of dying? People are paying exorbitant funeral bills and for what? Because when sorrow comes to you, you are imposed upon by unscrupulous undertakers. When bereavement comes it warps good judgment—that's when the scheming trust-undertaker gets you to accept his enormous prices. That's why we advertise. We warn you against these methods. We publish the truth and offer publicly the same service, materials, etc., they use at less than one-half the price they ask.

This is the Casket We Furnish With Our $75 Funeral

Which of These Propositions Do You Prefer?
