TITUS WILL TRY BAKED POTATO FOR MAL DE MER

Experiments for a new cure for seasickness will be made when the steamship Northern Pacific of the Great Northern Pacific Steamship company makes its maiden voyage from Philadelphia to San Francisco through the Panama canal. The boat will leave the Quaker City Thursday.

Hazen J. Titus, superintendent of the dining car service of the Northern Pacific, is the author of the new idea, and his panacea for seasickness is—spuds. "I am firmly convinced that the man who eats potatoes will be immune from seasickness, and for this reason we are arranging to have Northern Pacific great big baked potatoes served at all times during the 17-day trip," said Titus, just before leaving Seattle to act as master of ceremonies during the cruise.

GILL HAS DAM IDEA

That the leaky area must be planned before the Cedar river dam can be used is the opinion of Mayor Gill, after a visit to the dam Saturday.

The leak cannot be stopped by washing silt into the bed of the dam, he says. The mayor's opinions, however, are held in reservation until Engineer Dimock makes his report.

Confessions of a Wife

I AM GOING TO A PARTY (Copyright, 1915, by the Newspaper Enterprise Association.)

It was after 12 when Dick came home. "I hope you did not go over to Mother Waverly's for Aunt Mary and me," I said. "I felt that I should not keep Aunt Mary up after 11."

"I really forgot, dear, that I had promised to come for you until I reached home. I was glad I found you here. Mr. Selwin went home about 9 o'clock, and I dropped in at the club and played cards a while with Jim Edie."

"My cheeks burned as I thought of what I had said to Jim in the afternoon about wanting to spend the evening with Dick. What must Jim have thought? Like most women, I am better able to bear neglect if I know that no one knows I am neglected. It's my pride that is hurt."

"I do wish Dick would stay at home more. He is only with me about one night in three nowadays and then he is so tired that he can do nothing but go to bed right after dinner to recuperate."

"I am feeling so well now that I am going to invite some people in and also arrange to go out with him—at least I am going to make him declare himself on the question of being with me or some other else."

"I am going to invite Elene, Harry, Mr. Hatton and some others over tonight. As this thought came to me I went to the phone and called up Dick."

"The home early tonight, dear," I said, "for I'm going to have Elene and Harry and some others over for the evening."

"There was a moment's silence and then Dick said—'Awfully sorry, Margie, but I have an engagement for this evening.'"

"Isn't it one you can break, Dick? You know I'll not be able to invite people to the house after a little."

"I'm afraid I can't, dear." "Is it so very important?" "I think it is important," was his cold rejoinder. "I can't break it and I do wish, Margie, you would not make arrangements for me without consulting me first."

"That is just what I am doing, Dick. I haven't invited any one yet, but I hate to stay alone so much of the time. I think I'll go over to Mrs. Tenney's, if you are going out. She asked me to come tonight."

S. E. CO.'S RATES ARE REDUCED TO MEET CITY CUT

Municipal ownership has again made good. A few weeks ago the city council ordered a reduction of rates in residence and commercial lighting.

Now comes the Seattle Electric Co. and announces the same rates as the city light plant offers. The rates are to go into effect April 1, when the city rates also become operative. Both plants will furnish residence lighting at 5 1/2 cents a kilowatt hour, and at 2 cents for amounts in excess of 45 hours a month. The maximum commercial rate will be 4 1/2 cents.

This is the third time since 1911 that rate reductions have been made. In every case the city light plant was the first to cut the rate. In every case the Seattle Electric Co. had to follow suit.

GIVE UP FRANCHISE

The city council was requested Monday by the Puget Sound Traction, Light & Power Co. to accept the surrender of franchises on Stewart st., from Sixth to Eighth aves., on Eighth, from Stewart to Lenora sts., and on Seventh ave., from Olive to Stewart sts.

DENTAL and OPTICAL PRICES CUT

WOULD DISMISS SUIT
Dismissal of the condemnation proceedings by the city to acquire an 80-foot strip in Rainier valley, including the alleged private right-of-way of the Seattle, Renton & Southern, is recommended by the corporation counsel's office.

INSIDE TIPS

By FREDDIE FILM

CLEMMER
"Alias Jimmy Valentine" and "Mooner," a locally produced comedy, were two attractions which drew a bumper patronage Sunday at the Clemmer theatre. Both pictures are to be shown until Thursday.

Jimmy Valentine is an adept safe opener who plots this trade until Detective Doyle broke up Valentine's gang; landing Valentine and an accomplice behind the bars of Sing Sing.

After Jimmy gets out he is turned straight, in which he is helped by the lieutenant governor who gives Jimmy a job in his bank. Naturally Jimmy falls in love with Rosa Fay, the governor's daughter.

The story is wound up when the governor's youngest daughter is accidentally locked up in the new vault. In proving his ability to open the safe by his sense of touch, Jimmy furnished a waiting detective with evidence against himself and he is danger of arrest. But love beats the law, and Jimmy goes free.

The local picture was produced by the Olympus Film company. The different parts of town in which scenes were taken kept the audience guessing.

COLONIAL
"The Lure," playing a three days' return engagement at the Colonial opened yesterday to good business. It is a white slave picture, telling the story of perils that beset a pretty little department store girl, the sole support of her mother, and how her detective lover, on a search for a rich girl who has been kidnapped, arrives just in time to effect the rescue of the rich girl and his sweet heart, who had fallen into the hands of the same crooks.

LIBERTY
Husband and wife take the leading roles in "Sunshine Molly," the five-part Bosworth romance which opened Sunday at the Liberty. Lois Weber, Sunshine Molly, is the wife of Phillips Stryker, who smashes the part of Bull, a young man desperately in love with Molly.

A sensational oil fire is one of the unusual scenes presented in this production.

"Sunshine Molly" is a story of the California oil fields. The entire picture was taken in one of the greatest oil centers in the world.

MISSION
The latest adventures of Charley Chaplin are in a park. Charley has a rattling good time, during which he misappropriates wienies from a hot dog vender, a lady's pocket-book, and woos and all but wins a chic nursemaid.

Charley's cane proves a mighty effective weapon in a dozen or so ridiculous situations.

The Mission theatre has this picture. It bears the title, "In the Park."

ALHAMBRA
"The Spoilers," the great Rex Beach novel, is the headline picture this week at the Alhambra. Heretofore the film has been presented only at the larger houses, where it commanded high prices. There are nine parts.

CLASS A
Seattle has a native son in the picture production, "A Day That Was Dead," at the Class A theatre this week. Clary was ushered into the world in Seattle and also took a whirl at the Seattle schools before leaving for Hollywood to be a movie actor. Clary's work and the picture itself received an abundance of favorable comment from the large audiences attending the opening, Sunday.

ALASKA
"Mrs. Black Is Back," with jolly plump May Irwin in the title role started her second screen appearance at the Alaska.

COL. HEEZA LIAR
Mr. Bray, the originator of "Col Heeza Liar," of Animated cartoon fame, says that it takes between 4,000 and 5,000 pictures to produce 1,000 feet of film, one reel.

In addition to the colossal toll of the art work it takes a week to photograph the drawings, one at a time. Mr. Bray works so fast that he is able to keep four trained artists "inking in" the outline drawings which he makes.

The necessity for accuracy is evident when it is learned that the drawings are magnified on the screen at least 25 times.

Colonial Until Tuesday Night
"The Lure," five-part feature.

Clemmer Until Wednesday Night
"Alias Jimmy Valentine," drama.

Alaska Until Tuesday Night
"Mrs. Black Is Back," comedy drama.

Liberty Until Tuesday Night
